The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary states: "It is fully realized that this man had a number of misconducts prior to 1933. Since that time he has had a satisfactory readjustment and made a constructive contribution to himself and to the institution. The father of this boy is a very high type man and if the boy is released he will act as his sponsor and employer. If eligible for parole would probably receive favorable consideration because of the above facts and because it is his first arrest and conviction."

The Supervisor of Paroles believes the applicant has been sufficiently punished. We agree and do not believe the applicant to be a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1948. Employment has been assured.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Stewart S. Stirk—No. 2430
September Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Stewart S. Stirk, convicted of attempt to commit rape, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Chester County on September 18, 1934, be commuted from two years to one year, five months, expiring on October 26, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of attempt to commit rape in 1934. He was sentenced to serve a term of from two to four years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

After a careful examination of the records there is considerable doubt in our minds as to the applicant's guilt. No assault was committed and it appears that the applicant merely solicited the prosecutrix. The trial District Attorney and trial judge have no objections to the exercise of clemency.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary states: "Since this man has a satisfactory institutional record and no previous criminal record he would undoubtedly receive favorable consideration if eligible for parole."

The applicant has no criminal record, although he was arrested on several occasions for fighting. The applicant will have served by the time he can be released approximately three-quarters of his minimum sentence. He will be on parole until 1938.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

In re Application of John Linn—No. 2446
September Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant when only nineteen years of age plead guilty to arson. He was sentenced to serve a term of from five to ten years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. The trial District Attorney states: "In reply to your letter of July 24, 1935, please be advised that I have consulted with his Honor, Judge Charles C. Evans, President Judge of our Courts, and neither the Court nor myself have any objection to the application being granted. Another young man, Brooking, who was with this young man at the time of the crime, has been paroled and I believe that like treatment should be given to Linn, viz., that he should be paroled at the present time."

The Supervisor of Paroles recommends clemency.

The applicant has served over two and one-half years of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and we are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1943.

Respectfully submitted,

In re Application of William John Ritter—No. 2455
September Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of William John Ritter, convicted of involuntary manslaughter, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of York County on July 30, 1934, be commuted from two years to one year, three months, expiring on October 30, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1934, the applicant was convicted of involuntary manslaughter. He was sentenced to serve a term of from two to four years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The trial District Attorney states: "I believe that the overt act on the part of the applicant which caused his subsequent conviction and imprisonment was due purely to overzealousness on his part in carrying out the duties assigned him, and that the death of the deceased was in no way malicious or negligent, but was accidental. Mr. Ritter is a victim of circumstances not wholly of his own creation. In view, therefore, of his present record, the circumstances of this case and his already protracted punishment, I wish to again urge favorable consideration of this application."

The trial judge tells us that he believes it would be well to grant clemency in this case. The Warden of the York County Prison, to which the applicant has been transferred, approves the granting of clemency. The present District Attorney of the county is not opposed to the granting of clemency. The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary says that he would undoubtedly receive favorable consideration.

The applicant was never involved in any other trouble and enjoyed an excellent reputation.

Many responsible citizens of the community in which the applicant resided urge the granting of clemency.

The applicant will be on parole until 1938. Employment has been assured and arrangements have been made for a satisfactory home.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

In re Application of William Shaffer—No. 2458
September Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of William Shaffer, convicted of robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Westmoreland County on September 8, 1932, be commuted from five years to three years, three months, expiring on December 8, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1932, the applicant plead guilty to robbery. He was sentenced to from five to twenty years in the Western State Penitentiary.

The trial judge states: "So far as I am able to remember, since this case was heard before me, I believe they are correct. I have been advised that Dave Lewis, the ringleader in the hold-up, for which they were sentenced, has had his sentence reduced by the Governor and has been pardoned. If that is correct, then I do not see any reason why William Shaffer should not be accorded the same treatment."

The District Attorney is not opposed to clemency.

The applicant was never involved in any other serious trouble.

The sentence of one accomplice was commuted this year. A like recommendation is being made for the other accomplice.

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary states: "If this inmate were eligible for parole, we probably would recommend him for parole because of his good prison record and the fact that it is his first imprisonment for a serious offense * * *."

We recommend a commutation of sentence, effective December 8th, contingent upon the applicant's removal to and remaining in Ohio. We believe by that time the applicant will have been sufficiently punished. We are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1952.

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

In re Application of William Joseph Tunilla—No. 2462

September Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of William Joseph Tunilla, convicted of breaking and entering, robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Columbia County on December 22, 1930, be commuted from ten years to five years, expiring on December 22, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant and several others plead guilty to several charges of robbery and breaking and entering. The applicant was sentenced to serve a term of from ten to twenty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. The trial District Attorney and the trial judges have no objections to the granting of clemency. The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary states: "This man has a satisfactory institutional and employment record. If he was being considered for parole, would undoubtedly receive favorable consideration because he has no previous criminal record."

We believe the applicant will have been sufficiently punished if he serves five years of his minimum sentence and we recommend that the minimum sentence be commuted to five years. We are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal. The sentence of Julius Rasmus, an accomplice, was commuted this year and we are recommending a commutation of sentence for two other accomplices, Ralph Orzechowski, Joseph Bubrowski, this month.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Tony Corsi, convicted of breaking and entering, larceny in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Erie County on September 24, 1934, be commuted from two and one-half years to one year, one month, expiring on October 24, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of several counts of breaking and entering and larceny. He was sentenced to serve a term of from two and one-half to five years in the Western State Penitentiary. The trial judge states: "I recommend a commutation of sentence but only to release this man to immigration authorities for deportation. If he is not to be deported he should serve his sentence."

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary states: "If this inmate were eligible for parole, we probably would only recommend him for parole for deportation, this because of his criminal record."

A detainer has been filed at the Western State Penitentiary for the deportation of the applicant immediately upon his release and our recommendation is subject to and contingent upon his removal to and remaining in his native country, Italy.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1932, the applicant plead guilty to arson, conspiracy to commit arson, and burning chattels with intent to defraud insurers. He was sentenced to serve a term of from four to eight years in the Western State Penitentiary.

We believe he has been sufficiently punished. Our reasons are as follows: (1) The applicant was never involved in any other crime. (2) His conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent. (3) By the time he can be released he will have served almost four-fifths of his minimum sentence. Judge Rhoads stated that the applicant should not be punished more severely than the persons who hired the incendiaries. The District Attorney is not opposed to clemency. The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary states that it would recommend the applicant for parole. The Supervisor of paroles also recommends clemency.

Sanders, convicted of involuntary manslaughter, unlawful disposal of a corpse, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Mercer County, on August 31, 1934, be commuted from two years to one year, three months, expiring on November 30, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to involuntary manslaughter and the unlawful disposal of a corpse. He was sentenced to serve a term of from two to four years in the Western State Penitentiary.

The trial judge states: "Mr. Sanders bore a splendid reputation. A graduate of Bucknell College, he had previously taught in a high school and was always interested in things which were good. I felt at the time he was sentenced that there was no intent on his part to commit crime and he was being punished at the time to a greater extent than any imprisonment which I could give him. However, for the best interests of society I felt I should do that which was done. At this time I would not only be agreeable to his pardon, if your board should see fit to pardon him, but I would recommend that it be done."

The trial District Attorney has no objection to the granting of clemency.

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary states: "If this inmate were eligible for parole, we probably would recommend him for parole as his sentence constitutes his first conviction and he has an excellent prison record. * * *"

In re Application of Joseph Regan—No. 2508

September Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Joseph Regan, convicted of sodomy, assault and battery with intent to ravish, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on November 30, 1934, be commuted from three years to eleven months, expiring on October 30, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, when only seventeen years of age, was convicted of sodomy and assault and battery with intent to ravish. He was sentenced to serve a term of from three to six years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

Briefly the facts of the case are as follows:

The prosecutrix, a mentally defective girl, stated that she met three men in Hunting Park, Philadelphia, around 7:30 or 8:00 o'clock in the evening of July 2, 1934. She stated that she was taken to a bench in the park and raped by the accomplice and his two companions. She further testified that after the rape had been commit she went to a taproom with these men where they dr beer. Later they returned to the park where she raped again and the crime of sodomy was committe

A report from the Neuro-Psychiatric Division, Cou of Philadelphia, stated that the girl said that on the ni of the alleged crime that five men had intercourse w her that evening, but on the following day she de this story.

The prosecutrix is, at the present time, awaiting mission to a State Institution for feeble-minded.

There is some doubt in our minds about the applica guilt. He had never been involved in any other trou and enjoyed an excellent reputation.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are follows:

The applicant and several others plead guilty to se eral charges of robbery and breaking and entering. T applicant was sentenced to serve a term of from ten twenty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. The tr District Attorney and the trial judge have no objections the granting of clemency. Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of voluntary manslaughter in 1934. He was sentenced to serve a term of from three to six years in the Western State Penitentiary. One of the arresting officers told the parole agent who investigated the case that the crime was an accident which was the result of a drunken brawl, and that he considered the applicant the victim of circumstances and should never have been convicted. It appears that the person killed was a bully, and when the applicant sought to protect himself, he hit the victim with his fist, causing the victim to fall against the curb and which fall resulted in his death.

The District Attorney's representative appeared before us in open hearing and recommended a commutation of sentence.

The applicant was never convicted of any other crime and enjoys a good reputation. We believe that he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant was convicted of murder of the second degree in 1928. He was sentenced to serve a term of from ten to twenty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. The applicant was never involved in any other trouble. His conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent. He has served over six years of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1948. Employment has been assured and satisfactory arrangements have been made for a home.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of James Priest—No. 35
September Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that James Priest, convicted of murder in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on April 28, 1921, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of murder in the first degree in 1921 and was sentenced to death. The sentence was commuted to life imprisonment in 1922. In 1932, the Governor, upon recommendation of the Board of Pardons, commuted the life sentence to a minimum term of eleven years. The Board of Pardons at that time stated that the recommendation for commutation was made with leave to apply for a pardon in two years. The Board also expressed the opinion that there was considerable doubt that the crime of which the applicant was convicted was murder of the first degree. After a careful examination of the records we are in accord with the former Board's opinion.

The applicant has been on parole for over three years. He has conducted himself in an exemplary manner. He was never involved in any other trouble and his record during his incarceration was excellent.

The family of the woman for whose death the applicant was convicted of murder of the first degree employed counsel to obtain a commutation of the sentence for the applicant and also to present an application for pardon.

A pardon will, in part, remove the stigma of the crime from the applicant and will be of assistance to his advancement.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

THOMAS A. LOGUE,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GEORGE H. EARLE,
Governor.

In re Application of Charles Decker—No. 929
September Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Charles Decker, convicted of breaking and entering, larceny, receiving stolen goods, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions, Philadelphia County on July 20, 1928, be commuted from fifteen years to seven years, four months, expiring on November 20, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of breaking and entering, larceny and receiving stolen goods. He was sentenced to serve a term of from fifteen to thirty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The applicant was never involved in any other trouble. His institutional record has been satisfactory. He has served over seven years of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1958. Employment has been assured and satisfactory arrangements have been made for a home.

In re Application of Howard Elk—No. 1115
October Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Howard Elk, convicted of assault with intent to rob, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Blair County on January 13, 1930, be commuted from seven years to five years, ten months, expiring on November 13, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to assault with intent to rob in 1930. He was sentenced to serve a term of from seven to fourteen years. The sentence of an accomplice, John Curran, was commuted in December of 1934.

The Board of Pardons, in recommending the commutation for Curran, stated: "(1) The applicant was never involved in any other trouble. (2) His conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent. (3) He will have served over five years of his sentence before he can be released."

The trial District Attorney appeared before us at the open session and recommended a commutation of sentence. "The applicant will be on parole until 1944. Employment has been assured."

The applicant has served almost one year more than he accomplice. He was never involved in any other rouble and his conduct and employment records during is incarceration were excellent.

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary states: "If this inmate were eligible for parole, we probably would recommend him for parole because (1) o previous record; (2) excellent institutional record; 3) job; (4) $500 cash."

We believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished nd are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1944. Employment nd a satisfactory home have been assured.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of John Lagonegro—No. 2193
October Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of John Lagonegro, convicted of robbery, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions, of Luzerne County, on October 10, 1932, be commuted from five years to three years, one month, expiring on November 10, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of robbery in 1932. One accomplice was never sentenced to a term of imprisonment, a second accomplice received approximately six months in the county jail and a third accomplice received the same sentence as the applicant, i. e., five to ten years, but was released on parole after a commutation of sentence this year. The applicant has served over three of the five-year minimum sentence.

The District Attorney has no objections to the granting of clemency. The Supervisor of Paroles feels that the applicant is worthy of commutation of sentence as does the Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary.

We believe the application has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal. He was never involved in any other trouble.

The applicant will be on parole until 1942. An excellent home and employment will be given the applicant upon his release.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

In re Application of Ralph Zolfo—No. 2232
October Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Ralph Zolfo, convicted of burglary, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions, Lackawanna County on October 15, 1932, be commuted from four years to three years, one month, expiring on November 15, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1932 the applicant, when only eighteen years of age, participated in the burglarizing of several American and Pacific Stores in Scranton. He plead guilty and was sentenced to serve a term of from four to eight years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The trial District Attorney, Honorable John J. Owens, recommends clemency and the present district attorney is accord with this recommendation. The Supervisor of Paroles also recommends clemency.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary states: "This man has a satisfactory record at Graterford and Rockview. If eligible for parole would probably be given favorable consideration."

We believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal. He has served over three-fourths of his minimum sentence. His conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent.

The applicant will be on parole until 1940. Employment has been assured.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Carl Edward Rabenstein—No. 2522
October Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Carl Edward Rabenstein, convicted of statutory rape, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Huntingdon County on April 11, 1931, be commuted from seven years to four years, seven months, expiring on November 11, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to statutory rape in 1931. He was sentenced to serve from seven to fourteen years in the Western State Penitentiary. The report of the Board of Trustees of that institution states: "* * * It is generally conceded also that the girl has a bad reputation and accommodated all comers. The arrest of the three boys was due to an unexpected turn of events rather than to any outrage perpetrated upon the girl. If this inmate were eligible for parole, we probably would recommend him for parole because of good previous record and because of his excellent work and conduct record in prison."

The trial judge states: "After thorough consideration of this case I am satisfied that this young man has been sufficiently punished, and that executive clemency should be extended to him."

The trial District Attorney states: "* * * we believe the youth of the applicant should plead for favorable consideration from your Board, so that he might have another chance in life. * * *"

The Supervisor of Paroles states that he believes that the applicant has been sufficiently punished.

We believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The sentence of an accomplice was commuted approximately a year ago and since his release on parole he has conducted himself in an exemplary manner. Another accomplice was sentenced to the Pennsylvania Industrial School and was released on parole after serving approximately thirteen months.

The applicant will be on parole until 1945.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,

In re Application of George Tome—No. 2534

October Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of George Tome, convicted of receiving stolen goods, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County, on September 27, 1933, be commuted from ten years to two years, two months, expiring on November 27, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to receiving stolen goods in 1933. He was sentenced to serve a term of from ten to twenty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. He has been imprisoned for over two years. He is over seventy-one years of age.

The trial judge states: "In view of this man's age, and the fact that he had no previous record, I have no objection to a pardon if the Board sees fit to grant one. He was running a school for thieves by advancing money to a lot of young boys in advance of their thefts, but I think he is living in the shadow of his life with little time remaining."

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary states: "Ths man has a satisfactory institutional and employment record. If eligible for parole would probably receive favorable consideration. This is his first arrest and conviction."

We believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1953. Arrangements have been made for a satisfactory home.

In re Application of Leroy Stumpf—No. 2539

October Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Leroy Stumpf, convicted of breaking and entering, larceny, receiving stolen goods, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Bucks County, on January 26, 1932, be commuted from five years to three years, ten months, expiring on November 26, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1932 the applicant plead guilty to breaking and entering, larceny and receiving stolen goods. He was sentenced to serve a term of from five to ten years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

We believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal. He was never involved in any other trouble. His conduct during his incarceration was excellent. He has served almost four-fifths of his minimum sentence.

The District Attorney has no objection to the granting of clemency. The Supervisor of Paroles and the Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary recommend favorable consideration. Three of the accomplices were never confined and one accomplice received a sentence of from three to six years and has been released on parole.

The applicant will be on parole until 1942.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to arson in 1933 and was sentenced to serve a term of from five to ten years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. Two accomplices received like sentences. The sentence of the accomplices have been commuted.

The trial district attorney states that he recommends clemency and that the trial judge has no objecion to the granting of clemency. The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary states, "This man has a satisfactory institutional and employment record. If eligible for parole would probably receive favorable consideration. First arrest and conviction."

The applicant was never involved in any other trouble. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to robbery in 1933. He was sentenced to serve a term of from five to ten years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

An accomplice who received the same sentence received a commutation of sentence this year and was released on parole. We believe the applicant is entitled to the same consideration as he was never convicted of any other crime.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary states: "This man has a satisfactory institutional record at Graterford and if eligible for parole would probably receive favorable consideration."

The applicant will be on parole until 1943. Employment and a satisfactory home have been assured.

In re Application of Carl Zukowski—No. 2558
October Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Carl Zukowski, convicted of robbery, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Northampton County on October 5, 1931, to begin September 29, 1931, be commuted from seven years to four years, two months, expiring on November 29, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to robbery in 1931. He was only nineteen years of age. He was sentenced to serve a term of from seven to fourteen years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

An accomplice was released on parole after a commutation of sentence in June of this year.

The applicant was never involved in any other trouble. He has served over four years of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary states: "This man has a satisfactory institutional record at Graterford and if eligible for parole would probably receive favorable consideration. First arrest and conviction."

In re Application of Walter Joyce—No. 2574
October Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Walter Joyce, convicted of rape and larceny, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Lackawanna County, on October 15, 1932, be commuted from nine years to three years, one month, expiring on November 15, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of rape and larceny in 1932. He was sentenced to serve a term of from nine to eighteen years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The Honorable John J. Owens, trial District Attorney, stated in a letter of October 16, 1935, "* * * I without any hesitancy declare that this is a case worthy of your consideration for commutation." An assistant District Attorney who tried the case agrees with Mr. Owens. The present District Attorney states, "After our investigation I sincerely tell the Board that there is a real doubt in my mind as of the guilt of the defendant, and I sincerely request the Board to give his application serious consideration."

After a careful investigation of this case, there is considerable doubt in our minds as to the applicant's guilt, and, under these circumstances, we believe he has been sufficiently punished. We are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1950. Employment has been assured.

In re Application of Lewis Phipps—No. 2583

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, when barely sixteen years of age, plead non vol contendere to robbery, larceny of an automobile and carrying concealed deadly weapons. He was sentenced to serve a term of from eight to twenty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The District Attorney stated in a letter to us: "* * * it is my opinion that the applicant is meritorious * * *," and his representative appeared before us at an open session and stated that because of the applicant's youth and his excellent record, a commutation was recommended.

The applicant was never involved in any other serious trouble. We believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1953. Employment and an excellent home have been assured.

In re Application of Curtis S. Thomas—No. 2648
October Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was adjudged guilty of felonious entry in 1934. He was sentenced to serve a term of from one and one-half to three years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The report of the physicians of the penitentiary shows that the applicant is seriously ill with tuberculosis and that he is losing ground rapidly.

We recommend a pardon because he has only a short time to live and to permit him to die at home.

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

In re Application of Charles Fallon—No. 289

November Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the maximum sentence of Charles Fallon, convicted of receiving stolen goods; entering a building, larceny, in the court of Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County on September 15, 1926; February 13, 1930, be commuted from fifteen years to eight years, ten months, expiring on December 13, 1935, and a maximum of fifteen years.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

On January 15, 1926, the applicant was sentenced to serve from three to fifteen years in the Western State Penitentiary. He was released on parole January 15, 1929.

On February 13, 1930, he was sentenced to serve a term of from two to four years in the Western State Penitentiary for receiving stolen goods. This sentence was to run concurrently with the unexpired portion of the original sentence. The maximum sentence expires February 13, 1942.

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary state: "If this inmate were eligible for parole, we probably would recommend him for parole, because he has been imprisoned for nine years, he is an excellent workman, has had no reprimand for four years, and has a job to go to in the event of his release."

The Supervisor of Paroles states that applicant has been sufficiently punished and the trial judge states, "If his (the applicant's) record is good I should think it would be proper enough to release him. * * *"

We believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished. He will be on parole until 1942.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,

In re Application of William F. Miller—No. 347

November Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In September, 1903, the applicant was sentenced to serve a term of twenty years in the Western State Penitentiary for statutory rape and assault and battery with intent to commit rape. In February, 1914, he was released on parole. In May, 1915, he was sentenced to serve a term of from fifteen to twenty years in the Western State Penitentiary for sodomy and buggery. This sentence, however, was reduced by the Superior Court in 1934 to a term of from seven and one-half to ten years. His sentence expires on January 11, 1944. He has been confined over thirty-one years. His institutional record has been excellent.

The Parole Board of the Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary feels because this man must ultimately be released that it might be well to release him at this time because the social adjustments would be harder for him to make because of increased age and longer imprisonment if he served the entire sentence.

Because of the long term of imprisonment served by the applicant, we are in accord with the view of the penitentiary officials. The applicant will be on parole until 1944.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

In re Application of Peter Karpoff—No. 399

November Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Peter Karpoff, convicted of burglary, aggravated assault and battery, breaking and entering, larceny, receiving stolen goods, malicious mischief, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Northumberland and Allegheny Counties, on August 30, 1920 and April 14, 1930, be commuted from twenty-eight years, to twelve years, eight months, expiring on December 14, 1935, and maximum of twenty-eight years, expiring on April 14, 1951.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1920, the applicant was sentenced to the Eastern State Penitentiary for from seven to twenty-eight years for aggravated assault and battery and attempt to kill, burglary, breaking and entering, and larceny. At the expiration of the minimum sentence he was released on parole.

In 1929, he was sentenced to from one to two years in the Allegheny County Workhouse for malicious mischief. After the completion of the minimum term of this sentence he was returned to the penitentiary for the parole violation. He has now served approximately six years for that violation.

We believe he has been sufficiently punished. He has an excellent institutional record. The Supervisor of Paroles recommends clemency, as does the Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary.

The applicant will be on parole until 1951.

In re Application of Alfred L. Chenoweth—No. 512
November Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Alfred L. Chenoweth, convicted of murder, second degree, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County, on September 28, 1927, be commuted from ten years to eight years, two months, expiring on November 28, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of murder of the second degree in 1927. He was sentenced to serve a term of ten to twenty years in the Western State Penitentiary. We believe he has been sufficiently punished. Our reasons are as follows: (1) The applicant was never involved in any other trouble. (2) He has served over eight years of his minimum sentence. (3) His conduct and employment record during his incarceration have been excellent. (4) We are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary states: "If this inmate were eligible for parole, we probably would recommend him for parole because he has been in prison for eight years, he has no previous conviction, he has been cooperaitve and he has an excellent work and conduct record."

The applicant will be on parole until 1947. He intends trying to get into one of the United States Veteran's Hospitals in order that some plastic surgery may be done on his face and to correct a defective lower jaw bone.

November Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Leo John Fee, convicted of robbery, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and general jail delivery of Philadelphia County, on January 16, 1924, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

On January 16, 1924 the applicant was sentenced to serve a term of ten years to twenty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. On April 20, 1932, his minimum sentence was commuted to eight years three months, expiring on April 16, 1932. He was paroled on April 23, 1932.

Since that time, the applicant has conducted himself in an exemplary manner and the firm in whose employ the applicant has been since March, 1934 states that, "We have always found him courteous, industrious and devoted to our interests. We pray that you grant him the pardon he seeks which we feel he surely deserves."

We believe the applicant has fully demonstrated during the past three and one-half years that he will be a peaceful and law-abiding citizen. On December 27th of this year he will be thirty-two years of age. He intends to be married and desires to have a pardon in order that all rights of citizenship may be restored to him and to take away the stigma of the crime. The applicant presented his own application and we were impressed by his clean-cut, neat and manly appearance.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

THOMAS A. LOGUE,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GEORGE H. EARLE,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of John Picolo—No 1300
November Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of John Picolo, convicted of breaking and entering, larceny, receiving stolen goods, in the Court of Quarter Sessions and Oyer and Terminer of Cambria County on December 16, 1920, be commuted from eight years to six years, expiring on December 16, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of robbery and receiving stolen goods in 1929. He was sentenced to serve a term from eight to eighteen years in the Western State Penintentiary.

The Trial Judge states: "Investigation and information received since the trial has convinced me that young Picolo was not a leader in crime; but rather that he was led into it. I believe that he has suffered enough. He is yet a young man, and I think he should be given a chance to redeem himself while there is yet time. I understand that arrangements have been made to place him in favorable surroundings if you let him out."

The applicant's prison record is good. He has served about six years of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished.

The applicant will be on parole until 1945.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

THOMAS A. LOGUE,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Michael Webb—No. 1341
November Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Michael Webb, convicted of entering with intent to steal, larceny, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on July 20, 1928, be commuted from fifteen years to seven years, five months, expiring on December 20, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of several charges of entering with intent to steal and larceny, in 1928. He was sentenced to serve a term of from fifteen to thirty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. He was never convicted of any other crime. The sentence of an accomplice, Charles Decker, was commuted on November 20th, of this year.

Judge McDevitt writes in a letter dated December 2nd, "* * * I don't think he (the applicant) deserves any longer sentence than Decker served."

The applicant was only sixteen years of age at the time of his conviction. He has served almost seven and one-half years of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished.

The applicant will be on parole until 1958. He has sufficient funds to maintain himself for some time and he intends to return to the home of his parents in Detroit, Michigan. Our recommendation is contingent upon his removal to and remaining in Michigan.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

THOMAS A. LOGUE,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

In re Application of Leslie Snyder—No. 1348
November Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Leslie Snyder, convicted of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on January 14, 1930, be commuted from ten years to five years, eleven months, expiring on December 14, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to robbery in 1930. He was sentenced to serve from ten to twenty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The crime was committed on December 24, and applicant alleges that his wife was in the hospital, that he was out of employment, his two children without support, food, or clothing, and that his mother was destitute.

This was the applicant's first sentence for a crime of violence. He has served almost six years of his minimum sentence. For five years previous to his arrest for his present sentence he had not been involved in any trouble. We believe he has been sufficiently punished.

The applicant will be on parole until 1950. An excellent home has been provided and employment assured.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

In re Application of Julius Howanski—No. 1408
November Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Julius Howanski, convicted of robbery, breaking and entering, attempt to break and escape penitentiary, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Washington County, and the Court of Quarter Sessions of Centre County on August 16, 1920. and December 14, 1926, be commuted from twenty-five and one-half to fifteen years, four months, expiring on December 16, 1935, and a maximum of thirty-one years, expiring on August 16, 1951.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1920, the applicant was sentenced to serve a term of from ten to twenty years for robbery and breaking and entering.

In 1926 he received an additional sentence of from five and one-half to eleven years for attempt to break and escape prison and for carrying concealed deadly weapons.

He has served over fifteen years in the penitentiary.

With the exception of the attempt to escape, his institutional record has been excellent. Judge Fleming recommends clemency. The Supervisor of Paroles feels that the applicant has been sufficiently punished.

The applicant was never involved in any other trouble. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1951.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

In re Application of Robert L. Henderson—No. 1608
November Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Robert L. Henderson, convicted of arson, burning chattels to defraud insurance company, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Dauphin County on January 22, 1932, be commuted from five years to three years, eleven months, expiring on December 22, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of arson and burning chattels to defraud insurance company in 1932. He was sentenced to serve a term of from five to ten years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. The assistant trial District Attorney states that he knows of no reason why clemency should not be granted.

The applicant has served almost four-fifths of his minimum sentence. The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary states: "This man has a satisfactory institutional record at Graterford and Rockview. If eligible for parole would undoubtedly receive favorable consideration because of no previous criminal record."

We believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1942. Employment has been assured.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant when only twenty years of age, plead guilty to robbery. He was sentenced to serve a term of from ten to twenty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. He has served five years of his minimum sentence. The sentences of two accomplices have been commuted on our recommendation within the past few months.

The applicant was never convicted of any other crime and has a satisfactory institutional record. We believe he has been sufficiently punished, and are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal.

November Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Anthony Randazzo, convicted of rape, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on December 21, 1931, to begin December 12, 1935, be commuted from six to four years, expiring on December 12, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1931 the applicant plead guilty to rape. He was sentenced to serve a term of from six to fifteen years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. We believe he has been sufficiently punished. Our reasons are as follows: 1. The applicant was never involved in any other trouble and we are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal. 2. His conduct and employment records during incarceration have been excellent. 3. By the time he can be released he will have served two-thirds of his minimum sentence.

The District Attorney's representative stated to us at the open hearing that he was not opposed to the granting of clemency.

The applicant will be on parole until 1946. Employ-

In re Application of Samuel Frenchmore—No. 1839
November Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Samuel Frenchmore, convicted of robbery, being armed, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, of Erie County on September 24, 1928, be commuted from ten years to seven years, three months, expiring on December 24, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of robbery in 1928. He was sentenced to serve a term of from ten to twenty years in the Western State Penitentiary. An accomplice equally guilty received a sentence from seven to fifteen years.

The trial District Attorney appeared before us at the open session and said that he had no objections to the granting of clemency. The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary states: "If this inmate were eligible for parole, we would probably recommend him for parole because (a) no previous record, (b) fair institutional record—not serious enough to hold, (c) has assurance of employment."

The applicant was never convicted of any other crime. We believe he has been sufficiently punished, and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal. He has served over seven years of his minimum sentence.

Applicant will be on parole until 1948. Employment has been assured in the State of New York, and our recommendation is contingent upon his removal to and remaining in that state.

In re Application of Liberetto Rulli—No. 2037
November Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Liberetto Rulli, convicted of murder, second degree, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Westmoreland County on March 25, 1931, be commuted from seven years to four years, eight months expiring on November 25, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of murder in the second degree in 1931. He was sentenced to serve a term of from seven to fourteen years in the Western State Penitentiary.

The assistant trial District Attorney states: "After very serious consideration, I have decided to urge the Board of Pardons to grant this applicant a rehearing and to extend clemency to him. I feel that he has been sufficiently punished for the crime which he committed. This is the only case prosecuted by me during my four years in the District Attorney's office in which I have made a recommendation either for or against the extension of clemency. And I am particularly anxious for the Board of Pardons to understand that no one on behalf of the applicant has solicited me to do so. As indicated above, I make this recommendation because I feel that the applicant has been sufficiently punished. My reasons for urging clemency are as follows: 1. The applicant has a large number of dependents. 2. The applicant bore an especially good reputation in the community in which he lived. 3. The crime was committed in a heat of passion without any previous thought. The applicant had a deadly weapon in his possession because he was starting out on a hunting trip. 4. The wounds inflicted on the victim are not always fatal wounds and I believe the victim would have survived had he not suffered gas gangrene poison. 5. The applicant had a very good defense. He was convicted because of two factors, both of which were very damaging to him. In the first place, he fled immediately after the shooting and was not apprehended for two or three weeks. In fact, he was not apprehended at all but surrendered himself to the officers of the law after hiding out for that period of time. The other circumstance which hurt the applicant's defense at the hands of the jury was his contention that he shot his victim in the arm to prevent the victim shooting him. This contention weakened his defense for the reason that there was no proof that the victim had a gun in his possession nor was any gun found at the scene of the crime. Eliminating these two flaws in the applicant's defense, I am of the opinion that the jury might have reached a verdict of 'not guilty.' "

The trial judge states, "This defendant probably has been sufficiently punished and it is not at all likely that he will get in any more trouble. It is true he has a very large family and that they are in dire distress and need his support."

The applicant has been imprisoned four and one-half years. He was never before involved in any crime. He has an excellent institutional record.

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary states that it would recommend the applicant for parole.

We believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished and we are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal. He will be on parole until 1945.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

In re Application of Peter Mott—No. 2046

November Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Peter Mott, convicted of breaking and entering, robbery, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Beaver County on February 24, 1934, be commuted from five years to one year, nine months, expiring on November 24, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to breaking and entering, and robbery in 1934. He was sentenced to serve a term of from five years to ten years in the Western State Penitentiary.

The trial District Attorney states: "* * * The other men involved in this attempted robbery have been released * * * will leave the matter entirely to the wisdom of your Honorable Board."

The trial judge states: "We think if anything is done in his behalf it should be in the nature of the granting of a parole so that he would still be under the supervision of the authorities. We have no objection to such action being taken." The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary states: "If this inmate were eligible for parole, we probably would recommend him for parole because (1) first conviction, (2) excellent institutional record."

The applicant was never convicted of any other crime and we are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1944. Employment has been assured.

In re Application of Cyril A. Quinn—No. 2130

November Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Cyril A. Quinn, convicted of rape, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Luzerne County on June 10, 1933, be commuted from five years to two years, six months, expiring on December 10, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of rape in 1933. He was sentenced to serve a term of from five to ten years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. The sentences of three accomplices were commuted on our recommendation this year.

He has a satisfactory institutional record and he is now confined in the Luzerne County Prison. His health, according to the report of our parole officer, is not very good and he has been losing weight for the past three months. There is a history of tuberculosis in the applicant's family. We believe because of his physical condition and because he has served about two and one-half years of his minimum sentence, he has been sufficiently punished.

He was never involved in any other trouble and we are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1945. Excellent provisions have been made for a home and employment has been assured.

In re Application of Daniel Sparano—No. 2577
November Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of statutory rape in 1934. He was sentenced to serve a term of five to ten years in the Western State Penitentiary. The prosecutrix contended that she had been attacked in December of 1933 by the applicant and as a result of the alleged attack contracted a venereal disease. The applicant was arrested in February and placed in the Allegheny County Jail. According to the authorities of the jail, the applicant was placed in the bake shop. Dr. Ellis, jail physician, states, "All prisoners in the Allegheny County Prison who become food handlers (workers in the jail kitchen or the jail bakery) are examined as to venereal disease. Negative findings are, of course, required before they begin work." Dr. Ellis, in a letter of November 18th, addressed to the applicant's representative, stated, "If Daniel Sparano had no evidences of gonorrhoea during February, 1934, it is reasonable he had no gonorrhoeal infection five weeks previously." Dr. Priestes, resident physician of the Western State Penitentiary stated that upon the applicant's admission to the penitentiary he was found to be free from any disease, and that it is reasonable to infer that the applicant should have had some evidence of infection at the time of his admission to the County Jail if he were responsible for the prosecutrix's having the disease.

The penitentiary reports indicate that the prosecutrix was sexually promiscuous. After careful consideration of all the facts in the case there is considerable doubt in our minds as to the applicant's guilt. The applicant was never convicted of any other crime, and we are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1944. Employment has been assured.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of murder in the second degree in 1930. He was sentenced to serve from ten to twenty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The District Attorney's representative stated to us at the open hearing that the applicant should not have been convicted. The trial judge in a telegram dated November 19th, stated, "Have authorized District Attorney to say I have no objection in Daniel Williams matter."

After a careful consideration of all the facts of the case, we believe the applicant should not have been convicted. The applicant has a satisfactory institutional record.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to two charges of robbery in 1931. He was sentenced to serve a term of from twelve and one-half to sixty years in the Western State Penitentiary. He has served over four and one-half years of his minimum sentence. He was never involved in any other serious trouble. His conduct and employment records during his incarceration were excellent. In re Application of Joseph Rogers—No. 2598
November Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Joseph Rogers, convicted of (1) breaking and entering; larceny; (2) larceny of automobile; (3) breaking and entering railroad cars, of Wayne, Philadelphia, Lackawanna Counties, on July 11, 1927, June 28, 1928, Sept. 26, 1930, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1927, the applicant was convicted of breaking and entering and larceny. He was sentenced to serve a term of one and one-half to three years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. He served seventy days of this sentence and the Superior Court reversed the judgment and granted a new trial. He entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution and make a restitution of fourteen hundred and fifty dollars ($1450), and to pay a fine of $100.

In June of 1928, he received a sentence of one year in the Philadelphia County Prison for the larceny of an automobile. He served ten months of this sentence.

On September 26, 1930, he was sentenced to the Eastern State Penitentiary for a term of from two to four years for breaking and entering railroad cars. He was released on parole in 1932.

The applicant is a native of Syria, and because of the convictions will be deported unless a pardon is granted.

The applicant has no relatives in his native country. His mother and wife, who is an expectant mother, and two children live in this State.

We believe deportation would be a cruel and unnecessarily hard punishment. The District Attorney of Wayne County states that the applicant is worthy. The Supervisor of Paroles also recommends a pardon.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of James Grace—No. 2614
November Session, 1935

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned me

bers of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of James Grace, convicted of breaking and entering, robbery, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Beaver County on February 24, 1934, be commuted from three years to one year, nine months, expiring on November 24, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, an accomplice of Peter Mott, whom we have recommended for clemency, was sentenced to serve a term of from three to ten years on February 24, 1934, for breaking and entering and robbery.

He was never involved in any other trouble. His institutional record is excellent. The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary states: "If this inmate were eligible for parole, we probably would recommend him for parole because of his excellent work and conduct record—he has a job and a sponsor in the event of his release."

The applicant will be on parole until 1944.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

THOMAS A. LOGUE,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GEORGE H. EARLE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Christian C. Krauss—No. 2622
November Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Christian C. Krauss, convicted of involuntary manslaughter, failure to render assistance, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on Feb. 31, 1931, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1930, the applicant, a police officer in Philadelphia, was charged with having caused the death of one Bernard Matz by hitting him with a bandit car which he was driving, and with failure to render assistance to an injured person. He pleaded guilty to both charges and was sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution and placed on probation for two years. As a result he was discharged from the police force in 1931.

The applicant served in the U. S. Navy from 1907 to 1911. He joined the police force in Philadelphia in July, 1912. As a member of the Naval Reserve he was called for active service April 12, 1917 and remained in the service until December, 1918, when he returned to active duty in the police department.

He reenlisted in the Naval Reserve in 1920 and remained in that service continuously from that time until November 18, 1932, when he was refused permission to reenlist because of the criminal record from which he now seeks a pardon.

He was cited for bravery in the performance of his duties as police officer in 1913, in 1922 and 1923, and on October 19, 1923, he received a certificate for meritorious service.

The applicant has filed an affidavit with the Board in which he promises to pay the sum of $20.00 per month until the sum of $500, is paid, to the parents of the person killed, if he is reinstated to the Philadelphia Police Force. The applicant cannot apply for reinstatement to the police force unless a pardon is granted.

The applicant has conducted himself in an exemplary manner. We do not believe him to be a habitual criminal. A pardon will in part remove the stigma of the crime from the applicant and his family, will permit him to apply for reinstatement to the police force, and will be of material assistance to his advancement.

Many letters are on file certifying to the applicant's good reputation.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

THOMAS A. LOGUE,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The sentence of an accomplice was commuted on our recommendation in June of this year.

The applicant was never involved in any other trouble. His conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent. He has served almost four years of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to robbery, and receiving stolen goods, in 1932. He was sentenced to serve a term of from five to ten years in the Western State Penitentiary. The assistant trial District Attorney states: "I therefore respectfully submit to this Honorable Board my approval of such commuation * * *."

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of arson in 1934. He was sentenced to serve a term from two to ten years in the Western State Penitentiary. The trial judge states: "* * * as I have already stated I am of the opinion that his service of the large portion of his minimum sentence will be as effective for his reformation as any further confinement, and furthermore I am convinced that his family needs his assistance."

The applicant has served five-sixths of his minimum sentence and his institutional record has been excellent. We believe he has been sufficiently punished.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to robbery in 1929. He was sentenced to serve a term of from nine to eighteen years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. He had never been involved in any other trouble and probably would not have been in this trouble if he had not become associated with the two accomplices who had criminal records.

In re Application of William T. Ramsey—No. 2141
December Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of William T. Ramsey, convicted of fraud, malfeasance, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Delaware County, on September 30, 1932, be commuted from five years to three years, two months, expiring on November 30, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to embezzlement in 1932 and was sentenced to serve a term of from five to ten years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

He was the Tax Collector for the City of Chester and the moneys embezzled were taken over a period of approximately eight years. The bonding companies made restitution.

A cancer has developed on his forehead and Dr. J. Gershon-Cohen, possibly the most eminent cancer specialist in the City of Philadelphia, states: "This is to certify that Mr. William T. Ramsey has an advanced epidermoid carcinoma involving the scalp tissues over the right forehead in the neighborhood of the hairline. The cancerous growth is quite extensive and extends laterally more or less circularly with a diameter of about three cm. and extends deep and involves the superficial bony layers of the skull. This lesson has been extensively treated by electrothermic coagulation and radium application but the treatment has been incomplete so that the present lesion has been regarded as a recurrence. The patient was removed to the Skin and Cancer Hospital about six weeks ago where I did a very wide and deep resection of the growth, using the electrical radio knife and this has been followed up by superficial X-ray treatment, the only kind of treatment available at the institution where the patient is confined. The ideal and really proper treatment for this cancerous growth would be a thorough application of radium which, of course, is not available to us at this time. Needless to say, the process is serious and resolves itself into a matter of life and death for this patient at this particular time."

Bishop Francis M. Taitt, Rabbi Herman E. Eisenberg, and other prominent citizens have recommended clemency.

The trial District Attorney states: "* * * it is my opinion that the facts as set forth in the application are correct and such application of the defendant has merit."

An assistant of the District Attorney's Office appeared before us at our open session and stated that the District Attorney's Office was entirely favorable to the granting of clemency.

In view of Dr. J. Gershon-Cohen's letter that this case resolves itself into a matter of life and death, clemency should be granted to this applicant at this time.

The applicant was never involved in any other trouble and we are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal. He is sixty-three years old.

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Vincent Zeogle, convicted of robbery, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on February 16, 1928, be commuted from twenty years to seven years, ten months, expiring on December 16, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1928, the applicant was convicted of two charges of robbery. He was sentenced to serve a term of from twenty to forty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. He has served almost eight years of his minimum sentence.

The trial judge states: "If Zeole's record has been good in the penitentiary to such an extent as to indicate that he has lost his anti-social attitude, I think the severity of the sentence might be modified."

The applicant's institutional record has been very good.

The trial District Attorney's representative, who appeared before us in open session, stated he agreed with the trial judge that the sentence was excessive. We also feel that the sentence imposed was too severe and that the applicant has been sufficiently punished.

November Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Arthur J. Wheaton, convicted of forgery, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Susquehanna County, on October 30, 1933, be commuted from fifteen years to two years, one month, expiring on November 30, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was Secretary of the School Board in Montrose, Pennsylvania, and over a period of years he embezzled, by forging orders, approximately $19,000.00. The money was used for the education of his children and for the support and care of his family. He plead guilty to a number of charges of forgery and was sentenced to serve a term of from fifteen to thirty years in the Western State Penitentiary. He surrendered his life insurance policies and he and his wife turned over ther home and other property in an effort to make restitution.

We have on file a certificate from the President of the Montrose Borough School District, attested to by the Secretary, stating that the school district has received from the applicant $6,243.84, the amount of the surcharge in the auditor's report for the school year 1932-1933, and also the sum of $1,338.77, the amount of surcharge in the auditor's report for the school year 1933-1934.

The applicant was never involved in any other trouble. His institutional record has been satisfactory.

Neither the trial District Attorney nor trial judge opposed the granting of clemency. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal. He will be on parole until 1963.

In re Application of Andrew Stecco—No. 2277

November Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Andrew Stecco, convicted of abusing a woman child, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Lackawanna County, on October 3, 1934, be commuted from three years to one year, two months, expiring on December 3, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of abusing a woman child in 1934. He was sentenced to serve a term of from three to six years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The sentence of his accomplice was commuted on our recommendation a few months ago. Our recommendation at that time was based on information received since the conviction of the applicant and his accomplice.

It appears that the prosecutrix was a woman of bad repute, of unchaste character and low morals. The trial District Attorney states, "* * * The subsequent events would indicate to my mind that the contention of the defense at the trial that the girl was so bad morally that the defendants were guilty of nothing but simple fornication was correct, and I am inclined to suggest to the Honorable Board of Pardons that the application in this case be given serious consideration." The trial judge states that the statements made by the applicant are correct.

Many prominent citizens of the community in which the applicant has resided have recommended clemency.

We believe that the applicant and his accomplice should never have been convicted. The applicant was never arrested for any other crime, his institutional record has been good, and we are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1940. Employment has been assured.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

The above recommendation is approved:

In re Application of Louis Iovino—No. 2351

November Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Louis Iovino, convicted of burglary, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County, on March 23, 1933, be commuted from five years to two years, nine months, expiring on December 23, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to burglary in 1933. He was sentenced to serve a term of from five to ten years in the Western State Penitentiary.

The Board of Trustees of Western State Penitentiary states: "If this inmate were eligible for parole, we probably would recommend him for parole—one previous conviction. If clemency is to be shown we feel this should be the time—has developed into an excellent stenographer—excellent work and conduct record. * * *"

Applicant has served over two and one-half years of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished.

The applicant will be on parole until 1943.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

THOMAS A. LOGUE,

In re Application of Philip Finkelstein—No. 2355

November Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Philip Finkelstein, convicted of robbery, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County, on May 29, 1931, be commuted from ten years to four years, six months, expiring on November 29, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of robbery in 1931. He was sentenced to serve a term of from ten to twenty years in the Western State Penitentiary. We believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished. Our reasons are as follows: 1. The applicant was never convicted of any other crime. 2. He has an excellent institutional record. 3. He has served over four and one-half years of his minimum sentence and we are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary states, "If this inmate were eligible for parole, we probably would recommend him for parole: (1) first conviction; (2) excellent institutional record."

The District Attorney's representative who appeared before us at the open session stated he was not opposed to the granting of clemency.

The applicant will be on parole until 1951.

An excellent home has been provided.

In re Application of Harry James Logan No. 2388
December Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, when only nineteen years of age, plead guilty to a number of charges of robbery. He was sentenced to serve a term of from fourteen to thirty-four years in the Western State Penitentiary.

The District Attorney's representative, who appeared before us at the open session, said that he had no objection to the granting of clemency.

The applicant was never involved in any other trouble and has an excellent institutional record. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal.

He has served over five and one-half years of his minimum sentence.

The applicant will be on parole until 1964. Employment has been assured.

In re Application of Thomas Hall—No. 2468
December Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Thomas Hall, convicted of larceny, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Blair County, on March 30, 1931, be commuted from seven years to four years, eight months, expiring on November 30, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to seven charges of larceny in 1931. He was only eighteen years of age, and had never been involved in any serious trouble. He was sentenced to serve a term of from seven to fourteen years in the Western State Penitentiary.

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary states: "We would recommend him (the applicant) for parole because of his youth, his excellent prison record, the fact that he has a job and a sponsor and because he has served four and one-half years of his minimum sentence."

We believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished, and are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal. The applicant will be on parole until 1945. Employment has been assured and arrangements have been made for a satisfactory home.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Joshua Smedley—No. 2509
December Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Joshua Smedley, convicted of election fraud, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on March 16, 1934, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead nolo contendere to unlawfully receiving votes at an election. He was adjudged guilty and on March 16, 193[illegible], a fine of $100 and costs was imposed.

The facts of the case are as follows: The applicant was serving as Judge of Elections in the 17th Division of the 23rd Ward in Philadelphia. A number of persons presented themselves and demanded to vote. Their vote was challenged, but the applicant permitted them to vote. The challenge was based on the fact that the persons desiring to vote had moved from their respective districts but had not removed all their property. The persons desiring to vote did not attempt to vote in any other district. In our opinion, violations of the election laws of this type are common. We do not believe that the applicant attempted or believed that he was doing anything unlawful. He was never involved in any other trouble, and enjoys an excellent reputation in the community in which he resides.

By reason of the conviction the applicant has been disfranchised. He also cannot secure work in governmental service. A pardon will remove the stigma of the conviction from the applicant and his family, will permit him to vote, and will be of material assistance to his securing employment.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Attorney General.

THOMAS A. LOGUE,

In re Application of Frederick Steiner—No. 2545
December Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Frederick Steiner, convicted of receiving stolen goods, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on September 30, 1929, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to receiving stolen goods in 1929. He was sentenced to serve a term of one year in the Philadelphia County Prison. Because of the conviction and sentence, the applicant will be deported unless a pardon is granted.

The applicant's wife and son are citizens of the United States. The applicant has no friends nor relatives in his native country. We believe that deportation would be a cruel and unnecessarily harsh punishment.

The applicant was never convicted of any other crime, and we do not believe him to be of the habitual criminal class.

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Luigi Quaranta—No. 2593
December Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the life sentence of Luigi Quaranta, convicted of murder, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County, on July 11, 1928, be commuted from life imprisonment to seven years, five months and a maximum of twenty years, expiring on December 11, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of murder of the first degree in 1927. A new trial was granted, but he was again convicted of first degree murder and punishment was fixed at life imprisonment.

Charles F. Kelley, District Attorney of the County of Philadelphia, who prosecuted the case, stated that he feels the quality of the testimony given at the time of the trial was of such a character as to leave him in a very uncertain frame of mind with respect to the propriety of the conviction and recommended the granting of clemency.

William Deni, convicted of murder of the first degree and sentenced to death this year, was interviewed at the Philadelphia County Prison by the Honorable Charles J. Margiotti, Attorney General, and during the course of the interview Deni stated that the applicant "was doing a bum rap," and that he was absolutely not guilty of the killing for which he was convicted.

After carefully considering all the facts in the case, there is considerable doubt in our minds of the applicant's guilt. He has served approximately seven years and five months in the penitentiary.

We recommend that a commutation of sentence be granted from life imprisonment to a minimum term of seven years and five months and a maximum term of twenty years, so that the applicant will be on parole for a period of approximately twelve years and seven months.

Employment has been assured and satisfactory arrangements have been made for a home.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

THOMAS A. LOGUE,

Our reasons for making the recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of robbery, receiving stolen goods, and larceny. In 1928 he was sentenced to serve a term of from ten to twenty years in the Western State Penitentiary. We believe he has been sufficiently punished. Our reasons are as follows: 1. The applicant was never involved in any other crime. 2. He has an excellent institutional record. 3. He has served over seven and one-half years of his minimum sentence. 4. We are satisfied that he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1948.

In re Application of Fred Parsons—No. 2704
December Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Fred Parsons, convicted of burglary, entering, larceny, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County, on December 6, 1933, be commuted from three years to two years, expiring on December 6, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant pleaded nolo contendere to burglary and entering with intent to steal in 1933. He was sentenced to serve a term of from three to nine years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The trial District Attorney's representative, who appeared before us at the open session, stated that he was entirely willing to leave the matter of clemency in the hands of the Board.

The applicant's wife appeared before us and stated that she and her three-year-old daughter were in urgent need of her husband's support.

Employment has been assured. The applicant will be on parole until 1942.

In re Application of Andrew H. Longbine—No. 2708
December Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Andrew H. Longbine, convicted of rape, statutory rape, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Union County, on May 15, 1935, be commuted from six years to two years, seven months, expiring on December 15, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to rape and statutory rape in 1933. He was sentenced to serve a term of from six to twelve years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The trial attorney states: "* * * I believe and am of the opinion that a commutation of sentence should be granted in the application of the above applicant."

The trial judge states: "* * * I am inclined to feel that Mr. Longbine should not be required to serve the entire term imposed * * *."

The applicant was never involved in any other trouble. His institutional record has been excellent.

Judge D. H. Fursley, of Laurelton, appeared before us and recommended clemency and stated that he would not only employ the applicant but would supervise his conduct.

We believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1945.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of robbery in 1933. He was sentenced to serve a term of from five to ten years in the Western State Penitentiary. He has never been convicted of any other crime, his conduct and employment record during his incarceration have been satisfactory.

The Jewish Big Brotherhood is interested in the applicant and the Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary states: "If this inmate were eligible for parole we would probably conditionally recommend parole under supervision of Jewish Big Brotherhood * * *."

We are in accord with the recommendation of the Board of Trustees. The applicant will be on parole until 1943.

In re Application of Wm. Nash Davis—No. 2712
December Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Wm. Nash Davis, convicted of voluntary manslaughter, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County, on December 8, 1931, be commuted from five years to four years, expiring on December 8, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to voluntary manslaughter in 1931. He was sentenced to serve a term of five to ten years in the Western State Penitentiary. He has served four-fifths of his minimum sentence. He has an excellent institutional record. He has never been involved in any other serious trouble. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The trial District Attorney's representative who appeared before us at the open session stated he had no objections to the granting of clemency.

Applicant will be on parole until 1941. Employment has been assured.

In re Application of John Joseph Salvo—No. 2723
December Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of John Joseph Salvo, convicted of arson, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Luzerne County, on February 23, 1935, be commuted from three years to ten months, expiring on December 23, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was tried on three separate occasions for arson. On the first two trials the jury could not agree and on the third trial the jury stayed out fifty-four hours before finding him guilty and then recommended mercy. He was sentenced to serve a term of from three to seven years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. He was never involved in any other serious trouble.

After careful consideration of all the facts there is serious doubt in our minds as to the applicant's guilt. He has a satisfactory institutional record.

The applicant will be on parole until 1942 and employment has been assured. He has a wife and three children who are in urgent need of his support.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of highway robbery, burglary, and larceny in 1928. He was sentenced to serve a term of from nine and one-half to nineteen years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. He has served over seven years of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished.

In re Application of Charles C. Lawrence—No. 2730
December Session, 1935.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Charles C. Lawrence, convicted of murder, second degree, in the Courts of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Adams County, on April 28, 1928, be commuted form ten years to seven years, seven months, expiring on November 28, 1935.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of murder in the second degree in 1928. He was sentenced to serve a term of from ten to twenty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. The killing occurred during a drunken brawl.

The trial District Attorney states: "From my knowledge of the circumstances surrounding the happening of this homicide, I would recommend clemency to the applicant at this time for I have always felt that if he had been convicted of voluntary manslaughter, it would probably have been a more proper verdict than murder in the second degree".

The applicant is sixty-three years of age. He has never been involved in any other trouble. He has been incarcerated for over seven and one-half years of his minimum sentence.

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary states: "This man has an exceptional institution and employment record. At the present time he is employed in a position of trust at the store house * * *."

We believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1948.

Our recommendation is contigent upon the applicant being paroled into the custody of Mr. James Barnitz, of New Oxford, Pennsylvania. The trial District Attorney states that Mr. Barnitz is an entirely capable, sober and honest individual.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

In re Application of James Halpin—No. 2741
December Session, 1935.

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that James Halpin, convicted of operating automobile while intoxicated in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on March 11, 1932, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, in 1932, plead nolo contendere to operating an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. He was adjudged guilty. Sentence was suspended and he was placed on probation for one year and ordered to pay the costs of prosecution.

The applicant was never involved in any other trouble. He enjoys an excellent reputation in the community where he resides.

The trial judge states: "I would concur in favorable action by your Board." The trial District Attorney's representative, who appeared before us in open session, stated that the District Attorney was not opposed to the granting of a pardon.

At the present time the applicant is unemployed and desires to take a civil service examination. Unless a pardon is granted he cannot take the examination. A pardon would in part remove the stigma of the crime from the applicant and his family and will be of material assistance to the obtaining of employment.

In re Application of Felix Joseph Henry—No. 571
January Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Felix Joseph Henry, convicted of assault and battery, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on May 1, 1930, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1929, the applicant was a police officer in the City of Philadelphia. His sister-in-law, a minor was reported to have disappeared. Through some source it was learned that she had been seen in the company of a Phillipino. The applicant learned the address of the Phillipino and waited outside the house. The Phillipino and the sister-in-law returned after some time and the applicant placed the Phillipino under arrest. The Phillipino resisted and the applicant struck him. Later the applicant was arrested and charged with assault and battery. He was convicted and placed on probation for one year.

The applicant was never involved in any other trouble and while we do not condone the offense of which he was convicted, we believe that there was provocation.

The applicant enjoys an excellent reputation and lives in a modest but clean and respectable home with his mother. A pardon will enable him to apply for a reinstatement as a patrolman and also will, in part, remove the stigma of the crime and be of material assistance to his advancement.

In re Application of Lupe Escobar—No. 1717
January Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Lupe Escobar, convicted of statutory rape, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County, on June 23, 1931, be commuted from seven and one-half years, to four years, eight months, expiring on February 23, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant and three others were convicted of statutory rape. The applicant received a sentence of seven and one-half to fifteen years in the Western State Penitentiary. One accomplice received a sentence of two and one-half to five years. The second accomplice received a sentence of seven and one-half to fifteen years which sentence was commuted to three years, seven months, and he was released on parole on February 18, 1935. The third accomplice received a sentence of two and one-half to five years.

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary states, "If this inmate were eligible for parole we would probably recommend him", and in its detailed report states, "This case is a case of rape only in the technical sense".

The testimony of the doctors who examined the girl after the commission of the alleged offense was to the effect that the prosecutrix was not chaste.

Nothing in the record indicates that the applicant was the ring leader. The minimum sentence of all of the accomplices have expired.

The applicant has served over four and one-half years of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished.

The District Attorney's representative who appeared before us at the open session said that he had no objection to granting clemency. The trial judge said, "It may be worth-while to give him (the applicant) an opportunity to show that he deserves consideration and that he will make good in the future."

Applicant will be on parole until 1946. A home and employment have been assured him in Texas, and our recommendation is contingent upon his removing to, and remaining in, that State.

In re Application of Charles A. Heckman—No. 2176

January Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In March, 1935, we recommended a commutation of sentence for the applicant and on this recommendation was commuted to one year, expiring April 18, 1935, and he was released on parole on April 20, 1935. The reasons given by us at that time for making our recommendations were as follows: "In 1933, the applicant was convicted of fraudulent conversion and rehypothecation of securities. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $500.00, and costs of prosecution and imprisonment in the Lehigh County Prison for one year and six months. The facts of the case are as follows: The prosecutor had pledged bonds as collateral security for a note with the Allentown Trust Company, of which the applicant was president. The note contained no authorization for rehypothecation without consent. The applicant repledged the bonds with the Pennsylvania Company to secure loans of the Allentown Trust Company. The bonds were repledged without any reference to the prosecutor's note. Later a renewal note for the indebtedness was executed by the prosecutor, the renewal note containing an authorization to rehypothecate the securities pledged as collateral. The prosecutor lost nothing through the rehypothecation. It appears to us that the repledging was done solely through an inadvertence and lack of knowledge of the particular acts governing the rehypothecation of securities and was entirely without any criminal intent or benefit to the applicant."

Since that time the applicant has conducted himself in an exemplary manner. We have again a great many letters from responsible persons urging the granting of a pardon.

A pardon will, in part, remove the stigma of the crime from the applicant and his family. It will be of assistance to him in obtaining a position of trust and responsibility in keeping with his ability, training, and education, and will be of material benefit to his advancement in the field of activity for which he is qualified.

Respectively submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Anthony Rinaldi—No. 2278

January Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Anthony Rinaldi, convicted of abusing a woman child, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Lackawanna County, on October 3, 1934, be commuted from three years to one year, four months, expiring on February 3, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant and three others were convicted of abusing a woman child. Three of them, including applicant, were sentenced to serve terms of from three to six years in the Eastern State Penitentiary, and one was sentenced to the Pennsylvania Industrial School.

From information received since the conviction it is obvious that the prosecutrix was so bad morally that the applicant and his accomplices should not have been convicted. The sentences of the two accomplices who were sentenced to the Penitentiary were commuted and they were released on parole. The applicant is entitled to the same consideration. He was never involved in any other trouble.

The present District Attorney of Lackawanna County recommended serious consideration of the case.

Applicant will be on parole until 1940. Employment has been assured.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

THOMAS A. LOGUE,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Joseph E. Heath, Jr.—No. 2373
January Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Joseph E. Heath, Jr., convicted of larceny, fraudulent conversion, embezzlement by employe of corporation, making false entries in book of account, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on June 11, 1930, be commuted from ten years to five years, nine months, expiring on March 11, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to larceny, embezzlement by employe, making false entries in book of account, and fraudulent conversion, in 1930. He was sentenced to serve from ten to twenty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary, but this sentence was reconsidered, and on July 2nd, he was resentenced to the Philadelphia County Prison at Holmesburg for the same length of time. He was never involved in any other trouble, and his institutional record is excellent. He has served approximately five and three-fourths years of his sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant bore an excellent reputation prior to his sentence, and his family are the finest type of people.

Employment has been assured, and an excellent home has been provided.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

In re Application of Richard P. Donnelly—No. 2744
January Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Richard P. Donnelly, convicted of unlawful sale of intoxicating liquor, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on March 20, 1929, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1929, the applicant plead guilty to the unlawful sale of intoxicating liquor. He was placed on probation for one year, and ordered to pay the costs of prosecution. He was never involved in any other trouble and enjoys an excellent reputation in the community in which he resides.

At the present time he is employed as a motorman by the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company.

The District Attorney's representative who appeared before us, in open session, said that he was not opposed to the granting of a pardon. The parole agent who investigated the case stated that the applicant intends to file an application with the Civil Service Board of the Philadelphia Police Department for a position as patrolman. A pardon will, in part, remove the stigma of crime attached to applicant and his family and will be of material assistance to his advancement.

In re Application of Orlando Lewis Piorenza—No. 2746
January Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Orlando Lewis Piorenza, convicted of larceny, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Columbia County, on July 2, 1935, be commuted from one and one-half years to eight months, expiring on March 2, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to larceny in 1936. He was sentenced to serve a term of from one and one-half to three years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. He was never involved in any other serious trouble. The person from whom the goods, valued at about $25.00, were stolen was a former employer, and is willing to reemploy the applicant.

Applicant's reputation is good and, when able, supported his parents and younger brother

Applicant will be on parole until 1938. Employment has been assured.

In re Application of Theodore Linkewicz—No. 2748
January Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Theodore Linkewicz, convicted of possession and explosion of dynamite, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Luzerne County, on April 9, 1935, be commuted from five years to one year, expiring on April 9, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant and several others were convicted of the possession and explosion of dynamite. Sentences of from five to ten years and fines of $500.00 were imposed. The crimes were committed during the heat of a recent and bitter mine strike, which involved the anthracite miners of Pennsylvania and the United Mine Workers of America. There was no serious damage, and no persons were injured. The trouble between the two unions has been settled, and there is little or no danger of a recurrence of the same type of trouble.

The trial judge states, "* * * I feel, however, that each of the applicants should be required to serve a period of at least one year in the penitentiary before being released on parole." We are in accord with the trial judge's opinion.

The applicant has an excellent institutional record, and we are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1945. Employment and a home have been assured.

In re Application of Charles F. E. Fahey—No. 2758
January Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Charles F. E. Fahey, convicted of embracery, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County, on March 23, 1934, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of embracery in 1934. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $500.00, costs of prosecution, and to undergo imprisonment in the Allegheny County jail for one year.

An appeal to the Superior Court was refused July 13, 1934. Applicant was released on parole on December 9, 1935, after having served over six months, and the costs were placed on the county and the fine remitted.

The trial judge states, "I believe he (the applicant) is a well-meaning man and that he committed this offense in a moment of weakness, feeling under obligation for the public position which he held. At the time of the trial I was of the impression that he was taking responsibility for the acts of someone else, but he has stoutly maintained that no one else was concerned in the crime and I believe he is entitled to credit for having done it all himself. My judgment is that he is thoroughly repentant and that there is no probability of future wrong doing on his part."

The warden of the Allegheny County Prison states that he believes the applicant is worthy of consideration.

The trial District Attorney's representative who appeared before us at the open session stated that he was not opposed to the granting of a pardon.

The applicant was never involved in any other trouble. He enjoys an excellent reputation in the community in which he lives. A number of responsible citizens have written to us urging us to recommend a pardon.

A pardon will, in part, remove the stigma of crime from the applicant and his family and will be of material assistance to his advancement.

In re Application of Willets P. Bates—No. 2763
January Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

5, 1933, be commuted from five years to two years, nine months, expiring on February 5, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1933, the applicant was adjudged guilty of assault and battery to commit sodomy, and assault and battery to ravish. He was sentenced to serve a term of from five to ten years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The prosecutrix told an unbelievable story about the events leading up to the alleged attack. The District Attorney's representative who appeared before us at the open session admitted her story was illogical. After careful examination of the facts in the case there is considerable doubt in our minds as to the applicant's guilt. His record in the penitentiary has been excellent.

The trial judge states, "If you think there is merit in his (the applicant's) application, I will have no objection to his commutation."

Applicant has served almost three years of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished.

Applicant will be on parole until 1943. Employment has been assured.

In re Application of Tony Guiliano—No. 2773
January Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Tony Guiliano, convicted of robbery, receiving stolen goods, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County, on June 10, 1931, be commuted from fifteen years to four years, eight months, expiring on February 10, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1931, the applicant was convicted on several charges of robbery. He was sentenced to serve a term of from fifteen to thirty years in the Western State Penitentiary.

At the time of the commission of the crimes the applicant was only seventeen years of age. He was never involved in any other trouble. His institutional record is excellent. He has served almost five years of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished. The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary states, "If this inmate were eligible for parole, we probably would recommend him for parole: (1) first conviction. (2) excellent institutional record."

Warden Ashe of the Western State Penitentiary states: "He (the applicant) has been industrious and cooperative and has never been reported for any infraction of discipline. He is an experienced barber and if released, should be able to earn an honest livelihood." The District Attorney's representative who appeared before us at the open session was not opposed to the granting of clemency.

Applicant will be on parole until 1961. Arrangements for employment and a home have been made in New York, and our recommendation is contingent upon his returning to and remaining in that State.

In re Application of Nartz Bobbin—No. 2781
January Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Nartz Bobbin, convicted of breaking and entering, larceny, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Columbia County, on March 12, 1935, be commuted from one and one-half years to one year, expiring on March 12, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

Applicant plead guilty to breaking and entering in 1935. He was sentenced to serve a term of from one and one-half years to three years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

Applicant was never involved in any other trouble. The trial judge states that the applicant is entitled to consideration. The trial District Attorney has no objection to the granting of clemency. All the goods stolen were returned.

The former superintendent of the Pennsylvania Industrial School states: "This young man's record shows no previous arrests. He was transferred to this institution from the Eastern State Penitentiary on April 30, 1935, on the merits of his good behavior. He was assigned to the kitchen and later transferred to the sign shop and has made good progress with his work. He has made a very satisfactory adjustment during his entire time in this institution and I feel is entitled to consideration for clemency."

We believe the applicant will be sufficiently punished if he serves one year.

The applicant will be on parole until 1938. Satisfactory arrangements have been made for a home and employment has been assured. He has a wife and one child who are in urgent need of his support.

In re Application of George F. Heinecke—No. 2789
January Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of George F. Heinecke, convicted of burglary, in the Courts of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia, County on August 1, 1934, be commuted from two and one-half to one year, seven months, expiring on February 1, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to several charges of burglary in 1934. He was sentenced to serve a term of from two and one-half to five years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. At the time of the commission of the crime he was only eighteen years of age. The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary states: "This man has a satisfactory institutional record. At the present time he is employed in the library. He has attempted to improve himself by attending school in the afternoons. * * *"

The trial judge states: "* * * I know of no reason why the applicant should not receive favorable consideration by the board, if, in its judgment, it is merited."

By the time the applicant can be released he will have served over a year and a half of his minimum sentence. The District Attorney's representative who appeared before us at the open session stated that because of the extreme youth of the applicant and because no deadly weapons were used, he is entirely satisfied to leave the matter in the hands of the Board.

We believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1939. An excellent home awaits him and employment has been guaranteed.

In re Application of Agazio Fraietta—No. 1607
February Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the life sentence of Agazio Fraietta, convicted of murder, first degree, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, of Allegheny County, on June 16, 1926, be commuted from life to nine years, nine months, expiring on March 16, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The present District Attorney of Allegheny County states that the jury might very properly have returned a verdict of murder in the second degree and that he would not object to a commutation of sentence. The trial judge states, "At the time of the trial of this case I was of the opinion that the finding of the jury of first degree murder was perhaps a little severe. I have no further knowledge of any facts than those brought to my attention at the time of this trial, I now state that I will be entirely satisfied with any action which the Board may see fit to take, after consideration of all of the circumstances."

The maximum sentence which the applicant could have received if a second degree verdict had been returned would have been from ten to twenty years. The applicant has now served almost ten years of his sentence. He was never involved in any other trouble. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole for the period of his natural life.

In re Application of Francis P. Croft—No. 2208
February Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Francis P. Croft, convicted of unlawfully causing explosive mixtures to explode, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of York County, on September 3, 1935, be commuted from one year to seven months, expiring on April 3, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, and several accomplices plead nolo contendere to felonious carrying and possessing of bombs and explosives. The applicant was sentenced to serve from one to two years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The trial judge states, "These four men were concerned in a strike and in the explosion of a bomb in an effort to terrorize workman of another employer who refused to cooperate with the strikers. They were properly convicted and sentenced from one to two years September 3, 1935. My impression as the result of the trial was, and is, that they were the tools of others and were carried away by strike hysteria without any settled vicious intent or purpose. I believe that everything of benefit to the public and to them in the way of penalty has been accomplished; and would recommend the exercise of clemency provided they can be kept under the eye of diligent parole officers.

The trial District Attorney states, "I would voice no objection to their application for clemency and am of the opinion if they are granted a commutation of sentence that we will not likely have any further trouble from any of them." The private prosecutor says he is heartily in accord with favorable consideration.

We believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

February Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Our reasons for making this recommendtaion are as follows:

In 1932, the applicant was convicted of robbery. The amount of money involved was sixty cents. He was sentenced to serve from five to ten years in the Western State Penitentiary. He has served almost four-fifths of his minimum sentence. He was never involved in any other serious trouble.

The trial judge states, "I think that I wrote you some time ago that this application has merit. Mr. Stout, the General Manager of the Erie Forge and Steel Company, a former associate in business of the father of Thomas Whalen, has agreed to give this boy employment, I believe that he will go straight and that in any event it is worth a trial".

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary state: "If this inmate were eligible for parole, we probably would recommend him for parole."

Haney, convicted of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon to rob, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on January 30, 1929, be commuted from ten years, to seven years, two months, expiring on March 30, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, in 1929. He was sentenced to serve from ten to twenty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. He has now served over seven years of his minimum sentence. He was never involved in any other trouble and has a satisfactory institutional record. In re Application of William A. Miele—No. 2379
February Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of William A. Miele, convicted of embezzlement, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on January 8, 1934, be commuted from two and one-half years, to one year, five months, fifteen days, expiring on July 15, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of embezzlement as an officer of a corporation. He was sentenced on January 8, 1934, to serve a term of two and one-half years in the Philadelphia County Prison but did not start serving his sentence until February 1, 1935.

The applicant was secretary of a building and loan association in the City of Philadelphia. He was charged with embezzlement and abstraction of funds. It appears that the embezzlement probably took place because of the applicant's ignorance of the work and his desire to help the poor and unfortunate persons in his community. The applicant was in no way qualified to be a secretary of a building and loan association. He is a plumber by trade and since his incarceration has saved the County of Philadelphia thousands of dollars by doing the plumbing work in the Philadelphia County Prison.

The applicant enjoys one of the finest Army records and Major-General Edward C. Shannon, former Lieutenant Governor, appeared before us in open session on several occasions and recommended clemency. Many of the stockholders of the building and loan association, of which the applicant was secretary, have urged us to grant clemency.

We believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal. A commutation of sentence from two and one-half years to one year, five months, fifteen days, will permit the applicant to be with his family on Easter.

In re Application of Frederick J. Faulkner—No. 2768
February Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to several charges of robbery and being armed with an offensive weapon in 1930, and was sentenced to three consecutive terms of imprisonment in the Eastern State Penitentiary of from ten to twenty years, five to twenty years, and five to twenty years.

The sentence of an accomplice was commuted on our recommendation in August, 1935. The District Attorney's representative, who appeared before us in open session, was not opposed to the granting of clemency.

The applicant was never involved in any other trouble. In May of this year he will have served six years of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished, and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Stephen Olshefski, convicted of possession and explosion of dynamite, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Luzerne County on April 9, 1935, be commuted from five years to one year expiring on April 9, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant and several others were convicted of the possession and explosion of dynamite. Sentences of from five to ten years and fines of $500, were imposed. The crimes were committed during the heat of a recent and bitter mine strike, which involved the anthracite miners of Pennsylvania and the United Mine Workers of America.

There was no serious damage, and no persons were injured. The trouble between the two unions has been settled, and there is little or no danger of a recurrence of the same type of trouble.

The trial judge states, "I feel, however, that each of the applicants should be required to serve a period of at least one year in the penitentiary before being released on parole." We are in accord with the trial judge's opinion.

The applicant has an excellent institutional record, and we are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1945. Employment and a home have been assured.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

THOMAS A. LOGUE,

The above recommendation is approved:

In re Application of Lestern Harbaugh—No. 2806
February Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Lester Harbaugh convicted of unlawfully causing explosive mixtures to explode, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of York County on September 3, 1935, be commuted from one year to seven months, expiring on April 3, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, and several accomplices plead nolo contendere to felonious carrying and possessing of bombs and explosives. The applicant was sentenced to serve from one to two years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The trial judge states, "These four men were concerned in a strike and in the explosion of a bomb in an effort to terrorize workmen of another employer who refused to cooperate with the strikers. They were properly convicted and sentenced from one to two years September 3, 1935. My impression as the result of the trial was, and is, that they were the tools of others and were carried away by strike hysteria without any settled vicious intent or purpose I believe that everything of benefit to the public and to them in the way of penalty has been accomplished and would recommend the exercise of clemency provided they can be kept under the eye of diligent parole officers."

The trial District Attorney states, "I would voice no objection to their application for clemency and am of the opinion if they are granted a commutaton of sentence that we will not likely have any further trouble from any of them." The private prosecutor says he is heartily in accord with favorable consideration.

We believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied, he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1937. Satisfactory arrangements have been made for employment and a home.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In re Application of Albert Damrick—No. 2813
February Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of Albert Damrick, convicted of robbery (5), in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on September 26, 1929, (2) maximum sentences, four years; (3) minimum sentence, two years; (4) minimum sentence, two years; (5) minimum sentence two years to (2) two years, six months; (3) one day; (4) one day; (5) one day, expiring on March 29, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was sentenced on five different bills of indictment, to serve from two to four years consecutive terms of imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary. He has served approximately six and one-half years of his sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished.

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary states, "If this inmate were eligible for parole, we probably would recommend him for parole as we believe his change in attitude since his incarceration makes him a good parole risk, February 4, 1936." The District Attorney's representative who appeared before us at the open session stated that he was not opposed to the granting of clemency. Two accomplices have been released.

The applicant will be on parole until 1940. Legitimate employment and an excellent home will be provided for the applicant upon his release.

In re Application of Dominick Basciano—No. 2815
February Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Dominick Basciano, convicted of robbery, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Delaware County on October 25, 1935, to begin October 11, 1935, be commuted from two and one-half years to six months, expiring on April 11, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of robbery, in October, 1935. He was sentenced to serve a term of from two and one-half to five years in the Eastern State Penitentiary, sentence to begin October 11, 1935.

After a careful consideration of the facts in the case it is our opinion that there was no robbery. The applicant and two others were engaged in a drinking bout. The applicant and one of his friends placed a $3.00 bet on the outcome of the Louis-Carnera fight, several hours after the conclusion of the fight, and the third friend was made stakeholder. The applicant asked the stakeholder to turn over the money and the stakeholder refused, stating, "Try and get it," which the applicant proceeded to do.

The applicant was never involved in any other trouble. We believe he has been sufficiently punished for what he has done, and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal. He has a satisfactory institutional record.

The applicant will be on parole until 1940.

February Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommended that the (1) maximum sentence, minimum sentences, of Mike Vucica (Spiroski), convicted of (1) robbery; (2) burglary; (3) larceny by trick, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions, of (1) Washington, (2) (3) Allegheny County on (1) May 11, 1921, (2) Nov. 11, 1927, (3) Dec. 15, 1927, be commuted from (1) twenty years; (2) one and one-half years; (3) one year to (1) eleven years, four months; (2) one day; (3) one day, expiring on April 1, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of robbery in 1921. He was sentenced to serve a term of from three to twenty years in the Western State Penitentiary. At the expiration of his minimum sentence he was released on parole. In 1927, he was sentenced to serve a term of from one and one-half to three years and one to two years for larceny by trick and burglary.

The applicant is a native of Jugoslavia. Our recommendation is for the purpose of, and contingent upon, his deportation to that Country.

In re Application of Edward Lanning—No. 2822
February Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentences of Edward Lanning, convicted of burglary, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions, of Lackawanna County on October 12, 1928, be commuted from (1) five years; (2) five years, to (1) four years; (2) three years, five months, expiring on March 12, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to two charges of burglary. He was sentenced to serve a term of from five to ten years on each charge, to run consecutively. He was never involved in any other crime and has a satisfactory institutional record. He has served seven and one-half years of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The District Attorney of Lackawanna County states that the application should receive serious consideration.

The applicant will be on parole until 1946. Employment has been assured and arrangements have been made for a satisfactory home.

In re Application of Lester L. Corey—No. 2823
February Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentences of Lester L. Corey, convicted of robbery, receiving stolen goods, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on June 21, 1933, be commuted from (1) two and one-half years, (2) two and one-half years, to (1) two years, (2) nine months, twenty-one days, expiring on April 11, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to robbery and receiving stolen goods. He was sentenced to serve two consecutive terms of imprisonment of from two and one-half to five years each in the Western State Penitentiary.

The trial judge states, "At the time this matter was before us, in 1933, I was of the opinion that Mr. Corey was of a much higher type than those ordinarily before us on the charge of robbery. At that time I also had before me a letter which I had received from Judge Montgomery, of Minneapolis, Minn., copy of which is attached to Corey's petition for clemency. I also at that time received a letter from his former wife, who apparently was the cause of his downfall. She appeared to be genuinely repentant for what she had done and spoke of Mr. Corey in the highest terms.

"Had there been no one else involved in these crimes except him I would have been inclined to be very lenient; but did not see how I could make any distinction between him and the other co-defendants at that time.

"I had a talk with him after imposing sentence and told him at that time that I would recommend a pardon after he had served a reasonable time. I believe that the Board would be entirely justified, due to his previous good reputation, in granting him clemency at this time, and I would recommend that the same be done."

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary states, "If this inmate were eligible for parole, we probably would recommend him for parole: (1) first offense, (2) excellent work and conduct record, (3) has employment, February 4, 1936."

We believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal. The applicant will be on parole until 1941. Employment has been assured.

In re Application of Louis Vernon—No. 2828
February Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentences of Louis Vernon, convicted of robbery, (3) in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions, of Delaware County on March 19, 1929, be commuted from (1) ten years; (2) ten years; (3) ten years, to (1) seven years; (2) one day; (3) one day, expiring on March 21, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to three charges of robbery in 1929. He was sentenced to serve three consecutive terms in the Eastern State Penitentiary of from ten to twenty years. He has served almost seven years of his sentence. He was never involved in any other trouble. He was seventeen years of age at the time of his arrest. He has an excellent institutional record and has attempted to improve himself by studying. We believe he has been sufficiently punished, and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal. The District Attorney's representative who appeared before us at the open hearing stated that consideration should be shown.

The applicant will be on parole until 1956. Employment and a home have been arranged for in Virginia, and our recommendation is contingent upon his removal to that State.

In re Application of Robert Rickards—No. 2829
February Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Robert Rickards, convicted of robbery, larceny of auto, violation of firearms act, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Delaware County on March 21, 1933, be commuted from nine years to three years, expiring on March 21, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant and two others were adjudged guilty of robbery, larceny of an automobile, and violation of the firearms act. The applicant was sentenced to serve a term of from nine to twenty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. He was only seventeen years of age at the time of the commission of the crime. An accomplice was commuted, upon our recommendation, on October 30, 1935.

The District Attorney's representative, who appeared before us at the open hearing, did not oppose the granting of clemency. The applicant was never convicted of any other crime and has an excellent institutional record. By the time he can be released, he will have served over three years of his minimum sentence. In re Application of Joseph Walsh—No. 2831
February Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentence of Joseph Walsh, convicted of operating an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on January 10, 1935, be commuted from two years to one year, three months, expiring on April 10, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In January, 1935, the applicant was convicted of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. He was sentenced to serve a term of two years in the Philadelphia County Prison, to run concurrently with the unexpired probationary sentence of three years, imposed in 1933, for entering a building with intent to commit a felony. No property damage nor personal injury was caused by the applicant's operation of the automobile. He has now served over a year in the Philadelphia County Prison.

The Superintendent of the Philadelphia County Prison states, "* * * the facts as set forth therein (application of Joseph Walsh) are correct and feel the application is meritorious." The Supervisor of Paroles states that in his opinion the punishment suffered by the applicant has been sufficient.

The applicant's mother owns and operates a restaurant in Philadelphia. She is suffering from chronic rheumatism and needs the applicant to assist her in the management of the business.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of John Mayeros, convicted of robbery, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Northumberland County on April 18, 1927, be commuted from ten years to nine years, expiring on April 18, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1927, the applicant and an accomplice were implicated in the robbery of a bank in Elysburg, Pennsylvania.

The applicant was sentenced to serve a term of from ten to twenty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. He was never convicted of any other crime, and his institutional record has been excellent. On April 18, he will have served nine years of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished.

The accomplice, who received the same sentence, was granted a commutation of sentence in December, 1935, on our recommendation.

The applicant will be on parole until 1947. Employment has been assured in Ohio, and our recommendation is contingent upon his removal to and remaining in that state.

In re Application of Robert Bullock—No. 401
March Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Robert Bullock, convicted of second degree murder, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Philadelphia County on June 29, 1927, be commuted from ten years to eight years, ten months, expiring on April 29, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1927, the applicant plead guilty to murder in the second degree. He was sentenced to serve a term of from ten to twenty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The applicant, a colored man, had been living with the deceased, a white woman of very poor reputation, for a number of years. They had frequent quarrels, and on several occasions the applicant administered beatings to the deceased. After the last beating a doctor was called in and made several subsequent visits to treat the deceased. On one visit, about four days after his first call, he found the woman dead. A post-mortem examination showed that death was caused primarily by a ruptured bladder, which the attending physician had failed to note. If the applicant had elected to stand trial, it is altogether probable that he would have been convicted of some lesser crime.

The applicant will have served nine years of his minimum sentence on June 29. We believe he has been sufficiently punished. He has a satisfactory institutional record and is employed in a position of trust outside the walls at Graterford.

The applicant will be on parole until 1947.

In re Application of John J. Tivnan—No. 719
March Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that John J. Tivnan, convicted of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquors, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on November 14, 1929, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquors in 1929. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $200, costs of prosecution, and placed on probation. He was never involved in any other trouble and has an excellent reputation. Prior to his conviction he was a member of the Philadelphia Police Force. For the past six years he has been employed by the Philadelphia Electric Company.

The District Attorney's representative, who appeared before us at the open session, stated that he had no objections to the granting of a pardon.

A pardon will, in part, remove the stigma of the crime from the applicant and his family and will make him eligible to apply for employment under civil service regulations.

In re Application of Steve Celich—No. 1636
March Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Steve Celich, convicted of conspiracy, extortion, possession of firearms, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Dauphin County on March 24, 1933, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1933, the applicant, when only seventeen years of age, plead guilty to conspiracy and extortion. He was sentenced to serve a term of from four to eight years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. A commutation of the minimum sentence to two years and one month was granted in April, 1935, on our recommendation. Since the applicant's release on parole he has conducted himself in an exemplary manner and is attending the Harrisburg Academy. The headmaster of this institution states that the applicant has an exceptionally good record at the school, and it was his opinion that the applicant showed no criminal tendencies.

The trial judge recommends a pardon, and the trial District Attorney stated that he would concur in any action the Board would take. A pardon will be of material assistance to the applicant's advancement and will, in part, remove the stigma of the crime.

In re Application of George Thompson—No. 2036
March Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of George Thompson, convicted of four charges of robbery, receiving stolen goods, bills Nos. (1) 118, (2) 119, (3) 120, (4) 121; and one charge of voluntary manslaughter, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on April 21, 1925, be commuted from (3) maximum of six years; (4) maximum of six years; (5) minimum of six years, to (3) one day; (4) one day; (5) one day, expiring on April 24, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1925, the applicant was sentenced to serve a term of from eighteen to thirty-six years for robbery, receiving stolen goods and voluntary manslaughter. The sentence of one accomplice, sentenced to serve the same term of imprisonment, was commuted, and he was released on parole in 1934. Another accomplice was first sentenced to life imprisonment and pardoned in 1925, but later was sentenced on the robbery charges to serve a term of from twenty-eight to fifty-nine years. The sentence of this accomplice was commuted in 1935, but he is still confined as we have not approved the Board of Trustee's recommendation for parole, since it appears that this accomplice was the ring-leader. The applicant has served almost eleven years of his sentence, although he was confined for one and one-half years before he was sentenced.

The only other trouble in which the applicant was involved occurred when he was fifteen years of age. At that time he served a period of three months for larceny.

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary states, "If this inmate were eligible for parole, we probably would recommend him for parole because there apparently is a complete change in his attitude."

The District Attorney's representative, who appeared before us in open session, stated that he was not opposed to the granting of clemency.

We believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished.

The applicant will be on parole for a long period of time. A home and employment have been provided for him if he is released.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Arthur Lorise, convicted of entering, robbery, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on February 16, 1933, effective February 14, 1933, be commuted from seven and one-half years, to three years, three months, expiring on May 14, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant and one, Leo Litfin, plead guilty to robbery in 1933. The applicant was sentenced to serve from seven and one-half to fifteen years in the Western State Penitentiary. In December, 1935, a commutation was granted to Litfin, on our recommendation. Both the applicant and Litfin had no previous criminal record, and were approximately of the same age. The applicant was never involved in any other trouble, and his conduct and employment records during his incarceration have been excellent. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The Warden of the Western State Penitentiary states, "He (the applicant) has been industrious and cooperative and has never been reported for any infraction of our rules. He is an experienced barber, is in good physical and mental health, and if released, should be able to earn an honest livelihood."

The applicant will be on parole until 1948. A suitable home and employment have been assured him upon his release.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

THOMAS A. LOGUE,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GEORGE H. EARLE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Walter Wilkinson—No. 2454
March Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Walter Wilkinson, convicted of robbery, being armed, assault and battery with intent to kill, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on February 27, 1925, be commuted from twenty years to nine years, eleven months, expiring on May 28, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1925, the applicant was convicted of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon. He was sentenced to serve a term of from eight to twenty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. At the expiration of his minimum sentence he was released on parole. In June, 1934, he was sentenced to serve a term of from one to two years in the Eastern State Penitentiary for the crime of assault and battery with intent to kill, sentence to run concurrent with the unexpired portion of the sentence for robbery.

The trial judge in the assault and battery case has written to us and told us that from additional evidence brought to the attention of the court subsequent to the conviction the jury might have been justified in rendering a different verdict, if it had the benefit of the after-discovered evidence, and that under all the circumstances he would recommend further consideration on parole.

Warden Smith, in a letter written at the direction of the Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary, states: "His parole violation appears to have been nothing more than a brawl and the Board of Trustees is of the opinion that for Wilkinson to be compelled to serve the entire balance of his parole time is far too severe as the punishment he could have received for such an offense would not have exceeded three years. He has already completed twenty months of his second sentence of from one to two years.

"Therefore, in view of the above, the Board feels that this case should be given consideration."

After a full consideration of all the facts, we concur in the opinion of the trial judge and the Board of Trustees of the penitentiary.

The applicant will be on parole until 1946.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

THOMAS A. LOGUE,

In re Application of Martin Tylosky—No. 2502
March Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Martin Tylosky, convicted of attempted robbery, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on June 24, 1932, be commuted from five years to three years, ten months, expiring on April 24, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of attempted robbery in 1932. He was sentenced to serve a term of from five to ten years in the Western State Penitentiary. The District Attorney's representative, who appeared before us at the open session, stated that he was not opposed to the granting of clemency and that the applicant was under the influence of his brother.

The applicant has served almost four years of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished. The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary states, "If this inmate were eligible for parole, we probably would recommend him for parole (1) has excellent institutional record (2) has job and sponsor."

The applicant will be on parole until 1942.

Respectfully submitted,

March Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of burning to defraud insurer in 1935. He was sentenced to serve a term of from two to five years in the Western State Penitentiary. He was never involved in any other trouble and enjoyed an excellent reputation. His institutional record has been very good. By the time he can be released he will have served one-half of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal. The trial judge has no objections to the granting of clemency.

The applicant will be on parole until 1940. Employment has been assured, and an excellent home has been provided.

In re Application of Anthony Baker—No. 2745

March Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Anthony Baker, convicted of statutory rape, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Luzerne County on December 4, 1933, be commuted from three years to two years, five months, expiring on May 4, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of statutory rape in 1933. He was sentenced to serve a term of from three to six years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. He has served over three-fourths of his minimum sentence. He was never involved in any other trouble, and his institutional record has been excellent. At the time of his commission of the crime he was only nineteen years of age. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1939. His mother and three minor sisters are in urgent need of his support. Employment has been assured.

In re Application of James Brislin—No. 2841

March Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of James Brislin, convicted of possession and explosion of dynamite, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Luzerne County on April 9, 1935, be commuted from five years to one year, expiring on April 9, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant and several others were convicted of the possession and explosion of dynamite. Sentences of from five to ten years and fines of $500.00 were imposed. The crimes were commtited during the heat of a recent and bitter mine strike, which involved the anthracite miners of Pennsylvania and the United Mine Workers of America. There was no serious damage, and no persons were injured. The trouble between the two unions has been settled, and there is little or no danger of a recurrence of the same type of trouble.

The trial judge states, "...I feel, however, that each of the applicants should be required to serve a period of at least one year in the penitentiary before being released on parole," We are in accord with the trial judge's opinion.

The applicant has an excellent institutional record, and we are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1945. Employment and a home have been assured.

March Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of James Lavelle, convicted of robbery, being armed with an offensive weapon, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on February 7, 1930, be commuted from ten years to six years, three months, expiring on May 7, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to robbery in 1930. He was sentenced to serve a term of from ten to twenty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. At the time of the commission of the crime he was only nineteen years of age. He has a satisfactory institutional record and has served over three-fifths of the minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished.

An excellent home has been provided for the applicant upon his release, as well as legitimate employment.

The applicant will be on parole until 1950.

In re Application of James Caple—No. 2843

March Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of James Caple, convicted of robbery, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Delaware County on May 5, 1933, be commuted from four years to three years expiring on May 5, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to robbery in 1933. He was sentenced to serve a term of from four to ten years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

Commander John D. Pennington, Superintendent of the Pennsylvania Industrial School, states: "Caple was transferred to this school on February 6, 1934, from the Eastern State Penitentiary on the basis of good behavior and the likelihood of his falling in line with training given here. He was assigned to the garage and school and has made good progress. He has made a very satisfactory adjustment during his entire time in this school and I feel is entitled to consideration for clemency."

The District Attorney's representative, who appeared before us at the open session, stated that he was not opposed to clemency. The applicant has served approximately three-fourths of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished.

The applicant will be on parole until 1943.

In re Application of Michael Notorfrancesco—No. 2845

March Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Michael Notorfrancesco, convicted of larceny of an automobile, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on December 5, 1919, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, when only eighteen years of age, was convicted of the larceny of an automobile. He was sentenced to serve a term of eighteen months in the Philadelphia County Prison, but this sentence was reconsidered and set aside on February 5, 1921, and sentence was suspended and the applicant placed on parole for the balance of the term.

The applicant was never involved in any other crime, and he has been gainfully employed for a number of years. He enjoys an excellent reputation, is married, and the father of two children. On a number of occasions, the applicant has taken civil service examinations and, while he attained high grades, he never was appointed because of the conviction. A pardon will make the applicant eligible for appointment to civil service positions, be of material assistance to his advancement, and in part remove the stigma of the crime from his family and himself.

The District Attorney's representative, who appeared before us at the open session, stated that he had no objection to the granting of a pardon.

In re Application Maurice Dibofsky—No. 2852
March Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Maurice Dibofsky, convicted of burglary, felonious entry and larceny, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Montgomery County, on January 16, 1931, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to burglary, larceny and felonious entry in 1930. He was sentenced to serve a term of from one to ten years in the Montgomery County Prison. The facts concerning the imposition of sentence were as follows:

The applicant, prior to the commission of the crimes, was employed at the Philadelphia Post Office. He obtained sick leave because of a mental condition. After the commission of the crimes the applicant stated that he did not remember anything about it. Doctor Geston stated that the applicant was suffering from a psychoneuristhenic condition, having delusions of various kinds. Judge Williams was in favor of suspending sentence, but stated that it should not be suspended unless the applicant could be placed in the right kind of an institution, and that it appeared to him that the best thing that could be done was to sentence him to prison or jail and then have him paroled, under the Act of May 31, 1919, P. L. 356, to a suitable institution, for treatment. Thereupon, sentence was imposed on February 6, 1931, after a petition was allowed for a removal of the applicant to Mt. Sinai Hospital. After several months' treatment the applicant was returned to the Montgomery County Prison, from which institution he was released on December 12, 1931.

The applicant was never involved in any other trouble. The doctor, who is treating the applicant at the present time, states that he has a slight nervous condition which will disappear with steady employment.

A pardon would enable the applicant to apply for reinstatement with the Post Office Department, enhance his chances for advancement in other lines of endeavor, and would in part remove the stigma of the crimes.

In re Application of Cyril Method Washco—No. 2853
March Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Cyril Method Washco, convicted of aggravated assult and battery, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Luzerne County on April 9, 1935, be commuted from one and one-half years to one year, expiring on April 9, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was adjudged guilty of aggravated assault and battery in 1935. He was sentenced to serve a term of from one and one-half to three years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The District Attorney states: "In the above application for clemency, after consideration of the circumstances existing at the time of sentence and the history of the proceedings thereafter, it would appear that the ends of justice would be served by a commutation of the sentence imposed."

The defendant was sentenced at a time of considerable disturbance due to the rivalry between labor unions, which has since terminated. Furthermore, a co-defendant, Peter Kimbert, sentenced at the same time to the Luzerne County jail, has since been paroled by the court."

The applicant was never convicted of any other crime, and he enjoys an excellent reputation. His institutional record has been satisfactory.

In re Application of John H. Gordon—No. 2858
March Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of John H. Gordon, convicted of arson, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Bedford County on September 11, 1934, be commuted from two and one-half years to one year, eight months, expiring on April 11, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to arson in 1934. He was sentenced to serve a term of from two and one-half to five years in the Western State Penitentiary. The trial District Attorney states: "Your letter of February 25, 1936, as well as the applications for clemency in behalf of the above named defendants, was received this day. I at once presented this matter to our Judge the Honorable Harry C. James. After going over the petition very carefully, we desire to say to your Honorable Board that we shall not oppose the petitions of John Gordon and Martin Dively. We were informed by Mr. Gordon's brother several weeks ago, that his brother, John, would again present his petition before the Board of Pardons on the grounds that he is in need of immediate medical assistance. At the request of Judge James, I wrote the doctor in charge of Bellefonte institution and asked him to furnish our Court with the complete medical examination of this defendant. This examination was later on furnished our Court, and we are satisfied that the defendant, John H. Gordon, should be given medical attention that he is unable to secure at the institution in which he is now confined."

The Board of Trustees of the Eastern State Penitentiary states: "If this inmate were eligible for parole, we probably would recommend him for parole (1) first conviction (2) excellent institutional record. He is unable to work, however, he draws $46.94 per month retirement, rural mail carrier. He has applied for disability compensation, U. S. Veterans' Bureau."

The applicant will be on parole until 1939.

In re Application of Stephen Ezbicki—No. 2860
March Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of robbery in 1932. He was sentenced to serve a term of from seven to fifteen years in the Western State Penitentiary. The District Attorney appeared before us at the open session and stated that there was such a doubt in his mind as to the applicant's guilt that he would recommend clemency although he added that because of the criminal record he thought that it would do no harm to keep the applicant in the penitentiary. The applicant has served almost four years in prison or the total of his back time for his parole violation. In view of the doubt as to his guilt, we believe he should be released as he has been more than sufficiently punished for his bad record.

In re Application of John Raub—No. 2862
March Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant and two others were convicted of highway robbery in 1932. The applicant was sentenced to serve from four to eight years in the Northampton County Prison. The trial District Attorney states: "At the time of the trial it appeared that Raub (the applicant) took the smallest part in the holdup. The chief actors were Charles Riker and Nick Petrolio. Since the latter received clemency when he was an important actor, you may feel that Raub should likewise receive clemency. "We know that Raub's former employer thought highly of him as an employee and steady worker. We understand independently of the petition that he could get his job back as soon as he is released from prison."

The applicant has served over three and one-half years of his minimum sentence. The sentence of an accomplice, as stated by the District Attorney, was commuted on our recommendation approximately one year ago.

We believe the applicant has been sufficiently punished. The report from the Northampton County Children's Aid Society indicates that his family is in urgent need of his support.

The applicant will be on parole until 1940. Employment has been assured him.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1934, the applicant was convicted of operating an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. Sentence was suspended.

The applicant had been employed as a police officer in Philadelphia for eighteen years. He had been under the care of the chief police surgeon because of a heart condition and was unable to do active duty. He had never been involved in any other crime, and his conduct since 1934 has been exemplary. A pardon will enable him to apply for reinstatement to the police force.

Neither the trial judge nor the trial District Attorney have any objection to the granting of a pardon. The pardon will be of material assistance to the applicant's advancement and will in part remove the stigma of the crime.

In re Application of Martin N. Dively—No. 2867
March Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to maliciously opening a grave and removing a body. He was sentenced to serve a term of from two to four years in the Western State Penitentiary. The trial judge states, "* * * the application in the above stated case has the approval of the Court, and clemency is recommended." The trial District Attorney states, "* * * we are satisfied that the defendant is telling the truth in his application. We know it to be a fact that this man is a hard worker and not a real criminal, but that he got into this mess through his drinking, and that Fetters and Barclay, realizing that he was easily tempted to do things through drink, persuaded him to join their drinking party, and while under the influence of liquor, he did assist Fetters and Barclay in the removing of this one body from one of the cemeteries in our county." The District Attorney of Blair County appeared before us to oppose the application of Ross A. Barclay, who was admittedly the leader in the crime, and told us that there was no question but that the applicant was merely a laborer and a tool of the ringleader.

On May 18th, the applicant will have served one-half of his minimum sentence. We believe he will have been sufficiently punished if he serves that time.

The applicant will be on parole until 1939.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant and several others were convicted of the possession and explosion of dynamite. Sentences of from five to ten years and fines of $500 were imposed. The crimes were committed during the heat of a recent and bitter mine strike, which involved the anthracite miners of Pennsylvania and the United Mine Workers of America. There was no serious damage, and no persons were injured. The trouble between the two unions has been settled, and there is little or no danger of a recurrence of the same type of trouble.

The trial judge states, "* * * I feel, however, that each of the applicants should be required to serve a period of at least one year in the penitentiary before being released on parole." We are in accord with the trial judge's opinion.

The applicant has an excellent institutional record, and we are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

April Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of John Toth, convicted of robbery, receiving stolen goods in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Cambria County on December 28, 1931, be commuted from five years to four years, seven months, expiring on July 28, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant and three others were implicated in the hold-up of an American Store Company in Johnstown. Each of the four received a sentence of from five to ten years in the Western State Penitentiary.

The present District Attorney states that he has no objections to the granting of clemency because the sentences of two of the accomplices were commuted. The third accomplice escaped from the Rockview Farm Prison and received an additional sentence of from five to ten years.

The applicant was never involved in any other trouble and had a good reputation prior to the commission of this crime.

The recommendation for commutation of the minimum sentence to expire on July 28 is made because of his disciplinary and work records in the institution. By that time he will have served over four and one-half years of his minimum sentence. We believe he will have been sufficiently punished.

Applicant will be on parole until 1941.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

THOMAS A. LOGUE,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GEORGE H. EARLE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Thomas Mern Moreman—No. 1716
April Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of Thomas Mern Moreman, convicted of (1) bill No. 28, robbery, (2), bill No. 29 and No. 30, robbery, bills Nos. 308, 320, 322, robbery, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County, on January 15, 1931, be commuted from (1), bill No. 28, from a maximum of twenty years, to five years, four months, expiring May 15, 1936; (2), bill No. 29 and No. 30, from two years to one day, expiring May 16, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant and two others were implicated in two robberies in 1931. The applicant was sentenced on two separate bills of indictment to serve a term of from ten to twenty years and from two to four years, to run consecutively, in the Western State Penitentiary. Another accomplice, who received the same sentence, had his minimum sentence commuted, upon our recommendation, in May, 1935.

The third accomplice received a sentence of from two to four years in the Allegheny County Workhouse and was released on parole a number of years ago.

The applicant was never involved in any other trouble.

The trial judge states: "While I do not credit Moreman's explanation of the circumstances under which he allegedly became involved in the two robberies in question, if your Board believes that he can get work and decent employment as he suggests, and that his prison record indicates he will probably be able to rehabilitate himself in decent society, I would have no objection to a commutation of his minimum sentence, if the maximum were undisturbed, in order to help assure proper conduct on his part after his discharge from prison."

The District Attorney's representative, who appeared before us at the open session, stated that he is not opposed to the granting of clemency.

The applicant has served over five years of his minimum sentence, was never involved in any other trouble, and has an excellent prison record. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

At the time of the commission of the crime the applicant was only nineteen years of age and the report from the institution states that his criminal activities were largely the result of unemployment.

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary states: "If this inmate were eligible for parole, we would probably recommend him for parole (1) first conviction (2) good institutional record."

The applicant will be on parole for approximately twenty years. Employment has been assured.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS KENNEDY,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

THOMAS A. LOGUE,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GEORGE H. EARLE,
Governor.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of John Cochran—No. 1773
April Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that John Cochran, convicted of voluntary manslaughter, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Washington County, on May 27, 1933, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1933, the applicant was convicted of voluntary manslaughter. He was sentenced to serve a term of from four to eight years in the Western State Penitentiary. In 1935, upon our recommendation, his minimum sentence was commuted and he was released on parole in June of last year.

The applicant was never involved in any other trouble and since his release has conducted himself in an exemplary manner. The trial District Attorney states: "The writer, District Attorney at the time of the trial of this case, has known this defendant some years and personally knows that while on the Police force he was regarded as an efficient officer. His reputation both as a private citizen and while a member of the Police force of the City of Washington was good and so far as I know the occurrence which led to his conviction of manslaughter and subsequent imprisonment, has been the only thing to mar that record. Mr. Cochran is not a law violator and I do not believe would ever have been involved in any violation of the law had this unfortunate situation not arisen. I therefore feel that there is no real situation for Mr. Cochran to be on parole.

"The Commonwealth has nothing to fear in my opinion as to any future violations of the law on the part of Cochran and now that his sentence has been commuted and his behavior has been excellent since his release, I am in favor of giving him every aid in making a fresh start with a clear record."

A pardon will in part remove the stigma of the crime from the applicant and his family and will be of material assistance to his advancement.

Respectfully submitted,

NOT PRESIDING,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

THOMAS A. LOGUE,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Francis Connelly, al. El Roy Krotz —No. 1795
April Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Francis Connelly, al. El Roy Krotz, convicted of robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on August 17, 1935, be commuted from five years to two years, nine months, expiring on May 17, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1933, the applicant, when only eighteen years of age, plead guilty to robbery. He was sentenced to serve a term of from five to ten years in the Western State Penitentiary.

The trial judge stated, in September, 1935: "Now it appears that there were some strong factors in his (the applicant's) favor which could have been presented at the time he pleaded and which, I am certain, would have influenced me in imposing sentence much less than he received. From the record it appears that he has been imprisoned for more than two years, in addition to the time he spent in the hospital.

"If a satisfactory record is before your Board, I recommend that he be released on parole."

The Board of Trustees of the penitentiary states: "If this inmate were eligible for parole, we probably would recommend him for parole (1) first conviction (2) good constitutional record."

The District Attorney's representative, who appeared before us at the open session, stated that he was not opposed to the granting of clemency and felt that the applicant should be given a chance. Applicant was never involved in any other crime. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal. Applicant will be on parole until 1943. Employment is assured.

Respectfully submitted,

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of William F. Schultze—No. 1948
April Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of William F. Schultze, convicted of attempted extortion in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on January 8, 1934, be commuted from five years to two years, five months, expiring on June 8, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant was convicted of attempted extortion in 1934, and the jury recommended mercy. He was sentenced to serve a term of from five to ten years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The trial judge states: "* * * that as I look back at the facts of the case the conviction grows in my mind, notwithstanding the time employed in the execution of the crime, it was nevertheless the result of an impulse that for the time the prisoner was not able to control. Considering he is twenty-five years of age and that he had theretofore borne an excellent reputation, there is in my humble opinion no reason to believe that he may repeat this or other crimes. If clemency is accorded at this time he will still be under probation for the unexpired term of fifteen years, which of itself should prove the most effective deterrent."

The District Attorney's representative, who appeared before us at the open session, said he was not opposed to the granting of clemency.

The applicant has an excellent institutional record and is employed in the bookkeeping department. He will be on parole until 1949. Employment has been assured him. He has a wife and two children who are in urgent need of his support.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Thomas Christian Stocker—No. 2090

April Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of Thomas Christian Stocker, convicted of (1), Bill No. 22, robbery; (2), Bill No. 3, larceny; (3), Bill No. 1, robbery-armed; (4), Bill No. 4, larceny; (5), Bill No. 77, robbery; (6), Bill No. 78, being armed; (7), Bill No. 79, being armed, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County on May 29, 1931, be commuted from (2), Bill No. 3, two and one-half years to one day, expiring on May 30, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant and several others were convicted of several charges of robbery and larceny. The applicant received a sentence of from seven and one-half to thirty years in the Western State Penitentiary. One accomplice received a sentence of from ten to twenty years. His sentence was commuted, upon our recommendation, in December, 1935, and we are recommending the commutation of sentence for another accomplice who received a sentence of from twenty-five to fifty years.

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary states: "If this inmate were eligible for parole, we probably would recommend him for parole (1) he has had but one previous conviction (2) he has had a very good institutional record."

The trial District Attorney's representative, who appeared before us at the open session, is not opposed to clemency. Mr. T. H. Reiber, Parole Director of the Western State Penitentiary, recommended clemency and stated that the applicant has been working in the psychology department and is highly efficient, although when he first entered the institution he was a poor typist and did not know shorthand.

On May 29th, the applicant will have served five years of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1961. Employment has been assured.

Respectfully submitted,

In re Application of Victor Kawalec—No. 2225

April Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Victor Kawalec, convicted of robbery, carrying concealed deadly weapons, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Northampton County on October 5, 1931, be commuted from seven years to four years, eight months, expiring on May 29, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant with two others plead guilty to robbery and carrying concealed deadly weapons in 1931. Each of the three was sentenced to serve from seven to fourteen years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The sentence of one accomplice was commuted, upon our recommendation, in May, 1935; and the sentence of the second accomplice was commuted, upon our recommendation, in October, 1935.

The applicant was not the ring leader. He has served over four and one-half years of his minimum sentence. He was never involved in any other trouble and has a satisfactory institutional record. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The trial judge states: "In view of the fact that Stanley Dashuta and Charles Zukowski, accomplices of the applicant, have been released on parole, the present application should receive favorable consideration."

The applicant will be on parole until 1945. Employment and an excellent home have been arranged in New Jersey. Our recommendation is contingent upon his removal to and remaining in that State.

In re Application of Joseph Frederick Snyder—No. 2387
April Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Joseph Frederick Snyder, convicted of robbery in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Columbia County on January 23, 1933, be commuted from seven and one-half years to three years, four months, expiring on May 23, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant, when only nineteen years of age, plead guilty to robbery. He was sentenced to serve from seven and one-half to fifteen years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. He was never involved in any other trouble. His institutional record has been excellent, and he is employed in the main office of the Rockview Farm Prison. Since his incarceration he has endeavored to improve himself.

The trial judge states: "I believe this young man (the applicant) should be paroled. He has served long enough in my opinion."

The trial District Attorney states: "Please be advised that I also have no objection to the parole of this man (the applicant)."

The applicant has served almost three and one-half years of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1940. An excellent home has been provided and employment assured upon his release.

In re Application of William Joseph Simpkins—No. 2585
April Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of William Joseph Simpkins, convicted of assault and battery with intent to kill in the Court of Oyer and Terminer and Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County on April 2 1934, be commuted from three and one-half years to two years, two months, expiring on June 2, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to assault and battery with intent to kill in 1934. He was sentenced to serve a term of from three and one-half to seven years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. The facts of the case are as follows:

The applicant was friendly with a girl. She wished to terminate the friendship, and this made the applicant very jealous. He was intoxicated and shot the girl and attempted to commit suicide. The trial judge states: "If you think this man has been sufficiently punished and that further confinement will add no improvement to any that may have been noted, I have no objection to a pardon, provided he returns to the State of Washington instead of taking up his activities in Philadelphia."

The District Attorney's representative, who appeared before us at the open session, stated that he was entirely willing to leave it up to the Board to decide what action should be taken.

The applicant was never involved in any other trouble and has a satisfactory institutional record. He has served over two years of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole until 1941. Our recommendation is contingent upon his removal to and remaining in the State of Washington.

In re Application of Anthony Lococo (Cook)—No. 2804
April Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the sentences of Anthony Lococo (Cook), convicted of (1), Bill No. 3, robbery; (2) Bill No. 4, robbery; (3) Bill No. 5, carrying concealed deadly weapons; (4) Bill No. 78, being armed; (5) Bill No. 79, being armed; (6) Bill No. 77, robbery; (7) Bill No. 1, robbery-armed, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on May 29, 1931, be commuted from (5) Bill No. 79, a maximum of twenty years, to one day; (6) Bill No. 77, a minimum of ten years, to one day, expiring on May 31, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

In 1931, the applicant was convicted of a number of charges of robbery. He was sentenced to serve a term of from twenty-five to fifty years in the Western State Penitentiary.

The report from the penitentiary indicates that he became involved in the crimes because of financial difficulties growing out of hospitalization of his wife and decreased employment resulting from the depression. Prior to this time the applicant was regularly employed, had the reputation of being an excellent worker, meeting his financial obligations regularly and promptly. His penitentiary record is excellent, and during the recent flood, he worked day and night to assist the officials in keeping order and saving records.

The Board of Trustees of the Western State Penitentiary states: "If this inmate were eligible for parole, we probably would recommend him for parole (1) first conviction (2) excellent institutional record."

The sentence of one accomplice was commuted, upon our recommendation, in December, 1935. The applicant will have served, before he can be released, five years of his minimum sentence. We believe he will have been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

The applicant will be on parole for a long period of time. Employment has been assured.

In re Application of Jordan Scarpino—No. 2874

April Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Jordan Scarpino, convicted of robbery, receiving stolen goods in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on November 7, 1930, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

On November 7, 1930, the applicant was sentenced to serve a term of from six to twelve months in the Allegheny County jail for robbery and receiving stolen goods.

The trial District Attorney states to the parole agent who investigated the case that the applicant's arrest was entirely unjustified; that after he had prosecuted the case he received information which indicated that the applicant was innocent, and thereupon moved the court that the applicant be released on parole. This was done on February 5, 1931, and on June 30, 1931, the applicant was finally discharged from his parole.

The parole agent, from his investigation, reported to us that there was real doubt about the applicant's guilt.

The applicant was never involved in any other trouble. He has been operating a barber shop in Pittsburgh for the past five years and enjoys an excellent reputation in the community in which he resides.

In view of the doubt as to the applicant's guilt, his excellent reputation, and the fact that he has engaged in a legitimate business and conducted himself in an exemplary fashion, we believe a pardon should be granted.

In re Application of James B. Givin—No. 2879

April Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that James B. Givin, convicted of conspiracy to cheat, and defraud, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Philadelphia County, on April 16, 1931, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead nolo contendere to conspiracy to cheat and defraud. He was adjudged guilty and was sentenced to serve a term of one year in the Philadelphia County Prison. After serving approximately eight months of his sentence he was released on parole. At the time of his trouble, he was associated with the Conway Brothers in Philadelphia and had been a member of the Bar of Philadelphia County for over thirty years. The applicant did not profit by the commission of the crime. He was never involved in any other trouble and his conduct since then has been exemplary. He is almost seventy years of age.

A letter addressed to us, dated April 15, 1936, by the applicant, reads as follows: "In the matter of my application for a pardon as above, if the Board would grant the petition I will not at any time in the future apply for reinstatement as a member of the Philadelphia Bar.

Yours respectfully

James B. Given."

The District Attorney's representative, who appeared before us at the open session, stated that he opposed the application for a pardon, only if the applicant intended applying for reinstatement to the Bar. A copy of the quoted letter was given to the District Attorney's representative.

A pardon will in part remove the stigma of the crime and will be of assistance to the applicant in obtaining employment.

In re Application of William John Minor—No. 2882

April Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

March 21, 1933, be commuted from ten years to three years, two months, expiring on May 21, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant and two others plead guilty to robbery and larceny of an automobile. The applicant was sentenced to serve from ten to twenty years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

At the time of the commission of the crime the applicant was only seventeen years of age. The sentence of both accomplices were commuted upon our recommendation and both have been released on parole.

The applicant has an excellent institutional record and is attempting to improve himself by attending school. Col. Joseph Klapp Nichols and Col. F. Dickinson Shaw have interested themselves in this case and are willing to act as his sponsors. They will see to it that the applicant has employment if released.

The applicant has served over three years of his minimum sentence. On May 19th, he will be twenty-one years of age. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal.

In re Application of Will Harris—No. 2883
April Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that the minimum sentence of Will Harris, convicted of robbery, receiving stolen goods, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Allegheny County on October 2, 1930, be commuted from seven and one-half years to five years, eight months expiring on June 2, 1936.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to robbery and receiving stolen goods in 1930. He was sentenced to serve from seven and one-half to fifteen years in the Western State Penitentiary.

The District Attorney's representative, who appeared before us at the open session, stated he had no objections to the granting of clemency.

The trial judge stated: "However, I find the indictment in this case does not indicate a prior conviction in our court and if Harris's prison record has been good, and he can obtain employment through which he can and will support his family, then I think his application is meritorious.

"Finding the foregoing facts favorable to the applicant, I would voice no objection to the commutation of his minimum sentence so that he might be released in the early future."

The Board of Trustees of the penitentiary stated: "If this inmate were eligible for parole, we probably would recommend him for parole (1) first conviction, has job and home; would recommend release to home of mother in Alabama."

The applicant has served five and one-half years of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal. In re Application of Harry Walsh—No. 2905
April Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead guilty to sodomy in 1935. He was sentenced to serve a term of from two to ten years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. A letter from the Chief Probation Officer of Philadelphia County reads as follows: "The court has reviewed the case in question and the plea set forth under question 17 of the application has favorably impressed the court, particularly insofar as the defendant's previous conduct is concerned. His record for industry in the past, and his previous reputation are also meriting of consideration, and it now appears doubtful that the defendant will ever again permit himself to reach that condition which will result in a repetition of such an offense.

"I am therefore directed by Judge Heiligman to say that he joins in the application for clemency at this time."

The District Attorney's representative, who appeared before us at the open session, did not oppose the granting of clemency.

The applicant has a satisfactory institutional record and has never been convicted of any other crime. He is almost fifty-seven years of age. On May 31, 1936, he will have served one-half of his minimum sentence. We believe he has been sufficiently punished and are satisfied he is not a habitual criminal. The applicant will be on parole until 1945. Arrangements have been made for employment and a satisfactory home.

BOARD OF PARDONS

In re Application of Frank S. Masley—No. 2906
April Session, 1936.

To His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The above application having been heard, upon due public notice, in open session, the undersigned members of the Board of Pardons recommend that Frank S. Masley, convicted of conspiracy, misdemeanor, in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Allegheny County, on May 29, 1929, be pardoned.

Our reasons for making this recommendation are as follows:

The applicant plead nolo contendere in 1929, to several charges of conspiracy. The charges arose out of the alleged failure of the applicant to properly perform his duties, together with others, as election officers, and for the alleged making of false and fraudulent returns and for the permitting of false and fraudulent voting.

He was adjudged guilty and was sentenced to serve four months' imprisonment in the Allegheny County Workhouse. At the expiration of four months he was released and placed on parole for two years.

The trial judge states: "In my opinion Frank S. Masley should be granted a pardon. While he pleaded guilty to a charge of negligence in his conduct as a Judge of Election, and was sentenced and served four months in the workhouse, he was not a part of the political organization which was responsible for the corruption that occurred at the polling place in question. He has not been engaged in politics since his imprisonment and is a man of good moral character. I am satisfied he will never be guilty of any further infraction of law. I feel certain he will advocate by precept and example honesty in elections. I think his name should be cleared.

The District Attorney's representative, who appeared before us at the open session, said he absolutely recommended the granting of a pardon.

After a careful examination of all the facts in the case we are in accord with the recommendations of the trial judge and the District Attorney's representative.

A pardon will, in part, remove the stigma of the crime from the applicant and his family and will be of material assistance to his advancement.

Respectfully submitted,

NOT PRESIDING,
Lieutenant Governor.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CHARLES J. MARGIOTTI,
Attorney General.

THOMAS A. LOGUE,
Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The above recommendation is approved:

GEORGE H. EARLE,
Governor.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE DELAWARE RIVER JOINT COMMISSION OF PENNSYLVANIA AND NEW JERSEY

To the Honorable: The Legislatures of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey and the Council of the City of Philadelphia.

In 1935 Delaware River Bridge traffic increased by 1.75% and gross receipts by 1.87%. All classes of traffic, excepting horse-drawn vehicles, showed a gain. Maximum daily traffic was 61,161 on August 18th and minimum, 8,289 on January 24th. The daily average for the year was 27,824.

Comparative figures since the opening of the Delaware River Bridge on July 1, 1926 are as follows:

Details of traffic and receipts are shown in chart and tabular forms in this report.

Part of the increase in expenses in 1935 was due to items of construction cost of the high-speed rail transit project which were met out of toll funds. During the year, work was prosecuted vigorously on the project and, at the close, there was every indication that the line which extends the subway system of Philadelphia into Camden at a cost of $10,000,000 would be opened in the spring of 1936. Details of progress are given in the appended reports of the engineers.

The High-Speed Line is approximately two and one-half miles long from Eighth and Race Streets, Philadelphia to its terminus alongside the Broadway Station of the Pennsylvania-Reading Seashore Lines in Camden. Stations are provided at Broadway and opposite the City Hall in Camden; and in Philadelphia at Franklin Square in addition to the previously-built station at Eighth and Market Streets. The City of Philadelphia built the Eighth Street subway several years ago as part of the Broad Street-Locust Street subway system. Passengers on the bridge line will alight at Eighth and Market Streets but the City of Philadelphia plans during 1936 to electrify the Eighth Street subway south of Market Street and the Locust Street extension to Eighteenth Street. These subway portions were built before the construction of the bridge line was begun but have not yet been equipped.

The cost of the bridge line to the Commission will be, approximately, $8,000,000 with an additional $2,000,000 defrayed by the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works.

The line has been leased to the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company and the Commission will receive two and one-half cents for each passenger carried thereon. The fare will be ten cents with free transfers to the North and South Broad Street subways. The Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company has agreed to give free transfers from the bridge line to the Market Street subway until such time as the Locust Street subway is put into operation to enable passengers to reach the central business section of Philadelphia.

PROGRESS OF HIGH-SPEED LINE

Our engineers, Modjeski, Masters and Case, Inc., report to the Commission upon the status of the High-Speed project as follows:

The line is designed for the operation of multiple unit electrically operated trains and extends from the connection with the Eighth Street Subway at Race Street in Philadelphia diagonally across Franklin Square in two tubes to the substructure of the Delaware River Bridge approach and thence across the bridge in the two outside locations provided in the original bridge construction. On the Camden side the tracks converge downward below the surface of the ground under the bridge approach structure and turn southward into Fifth Street as a two track subway. At Federal Street the subway swings on a long curve towards the east to a location parallel and adjacent to the tracks of the Pennsylvania-Reading Railroad and terminates about 70 ft. west of Sixth Street. Beyond this point is a continuing passageway at the street level to Haddon Avenue.

To maintain vehicular traffic cut off by the construction of the High Speed Line, underpasses have been constructed in Fifth Street, Philadelphia, between Cherry Street and Callowhill Street approximately 1450 ft. in length and in Fourth Street, Camden, between Main Street and Linden Street approximately 650 ft. in length. An additional short underpass for pedestrians has been constructed on the west side of Fourth Street, Camden, below the bridge. The temporary Philadelphia underpass in Fifth Street which crossed the new tracks at grade has been abandoned, filled, and paved over.

Three passenger stations have been provided, each with platforms 550 ft. long, one in Philadelphia located in Franklin Square and two in Camden, one in Fifth Street opposite the City Hall and the other at the easterly terminus of the line at Broadway, adjacent to the Pennsylvania Railroad Station. Lighting fixtures, signs, toilet facilities, ticket booths, fences and similar facilities are being installed and the stations will be turned over to the operating company completely equipped for operation. The upper floors of the Broadway Station are at the street level and are connected by means of a moving stairway with the station platform below in addition to the usual fixed stairways, and by a covered passageway with Sixth Street and Haddon Avenue. The City Hall and Franklin Square subway stations are entirely below the street level. Numerous stairways or passages afford convenient access to and from the streets at all stations. At the southeast corner of Seventh and Race Streets, Philadelphia, and at the Plaza Club Hotel in Camden, entrance and exit stairways have been provided in the existing buildings under special agreements with their owners.

The track of the High Speed Line consists of 100-pound A.S.C.E. rail laid to standard gauge of 4 ft. 8½ in. and 150-pound top running contact rail on porcelain insulators with protection boards, laid on creosoted yellow pine ties. The track over the bridge is provided with emergency guard rails throughout. In the subway the ties are short blocks beneath each rail and are either embedded in concrete or bolted to the top flanges of steel channels embedded in concrete. The channel construction was adopted at curves and special work with the object of holding the track rigidly in place and providing a convenient method of replacement of ties. Across the bridge the ties on the approaches are of standard length, laid in ballast on a concrete slab constructed under a preliminary contract completed in 1934. Over the suspended span regular bridge construction is employed consisting of 8 in. x 9¾ in. ties bolted to the steel frame work provided in the original bridge construction. Longitudinal guard timbers bolted to the ties are provided over the suspended span. Tracks for storage of 12 cars are provided beneath the Camden approach of the Delaware River Bridge between Third and Fourth Streets.

Signaling and Interlocking Equipment is of the electro-pneumatic type similar to that in the Broad Street Subway. An innovation consists in the installation of air lines of bronze tubing.

Electric power for the operation of the High Speed Line is provided through two substations, one in Philadelphia below the bridge at Front Street and one in Camden at Fourth and Birch Streets, as set forth in the report of the Electrical Engineer.

Twenty-six steel passenger cars of a modified stream line construction and having a seating capacity of 67 passengers are under construction.

Under an agreement between the Commission and the Pennsylvania Railroad, the railroad company has cooperated in the subway construction at the Broadway Station by temporarily discontinuing its northerly track and removing its pole line interfering with the subway construction and placing the cables below ground.

During 1935 the Commission sold 4,000 par value bonds for $4,301,580 to finance the project. The Commission received a free grant of $326,010.03 from the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works under the Loan and Grant Agreement of May 4, 1934. Requisitions for additional funds, due as part of the Grant, were under consideration at Washington at the end of the year.

BONDS SOLD TO PUBLIC

The Commission's policy of selling blocks of its bonds as funds are needed resulted in a marked saving in interest costs during construction. The favorable financial position of the Commission, as shown in the Balance Sheet appended to this report, was, undoubtedly, one of the chief factors in obtaining premiums from the banking syndicates which purchased its bonds in competitive bidding after advertising. The Commission elected to dispose of its bonds to the public rather than to the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works because of the greater premium to be obtained. During 1935, sales of Commission bonds were made as follows:

Date	Amount Sold	Price	Amount Received	Purchaser
January 18	$2,000,000	@ 108.279	$2,165,580	Graham, Parsons and Company
October 20	$2,000,000	@ 106.8	$2,136,000	Yarnall and Company
Total—	$4,000,000		$4,301,580

Thirty-four arrests were made on the bridge in 1935; ten fires were extinguished; one fatal traffic accident occurred and a workman employed by a contractor on the transit project died from injuries as a result of falling from the bridge.

The Delaware River Joint Commission takes this opportunity of inviting the Legislatures of Pennsylvania and New Jersey and the Council of the City of Philadelphia to inspect the bridge and to go into the details of operation at any time.

Respectfully submitted.

December 31, 1935.

The Delaware River Joint Commission:
Camden, N. J.

Gentlemen:

We transmit herewith a report of the work accomplished on the High Speed Rail Transit Line during 1935 and the status of the work at the present time. The report by the Electrical Engineer of the source and distribution of power for operation and the electrical features is given in Appendix "B".

Nine contracts, Nos. 7-C to 15 inclusive, for the finish and equipment of the High Speed Line aggregating $2,668,819.19 have been awarded during the year, completing the work of placing the entire project under contract. Including seven contracts awarded in 1934 the aggregate of the sixteen contracts comprising the entire work is $7,277,480.09.

Contract No. 1 for subway construction in Philadelphia and Contracts 7-A and 7-C for the construction of the substation buildings were completed this year. Contract No. 6 for trackwork and contact rail is substantially completed and Contracts 2 and 3 for subway conostruction in Camden are nearing completion. Contract No. 4 for the construction of concrete decks on the bridge approaches was completed in 1934. The remaining nine contracts for finish and equipment, except Contract No. 15 for which the order to proceed has not yet been issued are actively in progress. At the end of the year the project as a whole is approximately 80 per cent completed.

During the greater portion of the year 102 Commission engineers and inspectors have been employed on the work, the number now being reduced to 87. The number of Contractors' men employed directly on the work has averaged 725, the maximum being 1175. At the end of the year the force was reduced to about 400.

Due to the participation by the United States Government in the financing of the work, it has been prosecuted as Public Works Administration Project No. 1293 and has been subject to Government regulations and inspection throughout.

The various contracts for the construction and equipment of the High Speed Line Project are as follows:

Contract No. 1 comprising the subway and underpass construction in Philadelphia which was approximately 80 per cent complete at the beginning of 1935 was completed August 29, 1935.

The work during the past year has been concerned largely with the completion of the Fifth Street underpass which was opened to traffic on May 28, 1935, the filling and repaving of the old underpass, the physical connection with the Eighth Street Subway, and the restoration of surface conditions. The Seventh Street Extension has been completed and the car tracks laid, Race Street has been widened on the north side between Eighth Street and Franklin Street, and the surface of other streets disturbed by the construction has been repaved. Franklin Square has been temporarily resurfaced, the fountain replaced, and the walks relaid, but the landscaping of this square and of the open plots resulting from the demolition of buildings over the subway to the west and the replacement of trees in Franklin Square has been deferred until a later date.

CONTRACT NO. 2—CONSTRUCTION OF TRACKWAYS ALONG THE DELAWARE RIVER BRIDGE APPROACH FROM WEST TO THIRD STREET TO FIFTH STREET AND A SUBWAY IN FIFTH STREET FROM THE BRIDGE APPROACH TO FEDERAL STREET: ALSO A VEHICULAR AND A PEDESTRIAN UNDERPASS IN FOURTH STREET.

Contract No. 2 for that portion of the High-Speed Line north of Federal Street, including the City Hall Station and the underpasses in Fourth Street, was 60 per cent completed at the beginning of the year and is now nearly finished. The work remaining to be done consists of backfilling and paving portions of Fifth Street at the southerly end of the contract and putting the finishing touches on the work in general.

The Contractor's operations during the year have covered all branches of the construction, including the completion of the difficult work of underpinning and supporting the substructure of the Delaware River Bridge approach, the completion of the Fourth Street underpasses, opened for vehicular travel September 23, 1935 and for pedestrians September 25, 1935, the widening and paving of Fourth Street and the underpass approaches at Linden Street, and the restoration of surface conditions. New granite curbs have been set and cement sidewalks laid along the line of the subway and underpass and permanent asphalt roadway paving on concrete base, laid in Fourth Street. A temporary bituminous macadam pavement on four inches of broken stone is being laid over the backfill above the subway in Fifth Street.

CONTRACT NO. 3—SUBWAY IN CAMDEN FROM FIFTH AND FEDERAL STREETS TO THE VICINITY OF HADDON AVENUE AND CARMAN STREET

Contract No. 3 comprising the construction of the subway and its connecting passages between Federal Street and Haddon Avenue, which was 30 per cent completed at the beginning of the year is now substantially completed. The unfinished work consists of laying sheet asphalt in Hudson Street and Taylors Avenue and laying certain small areas of cement sidewalk paving, and minor items of finish to the structure.

The work on Contract No. 3 during the year has been principally concerned with the construction of the Broadway station and its approaches. The design of this station differs from the conventional type of the other stations in that the station control areas above the loading and unloading platforms are at the street level and are housed by steel and concrete structures located on both sides of Broadway. The south wall of these structures support the railroad embankment. A moving stairway between the platform and street levels is being installed under Contract No. 14. The work includes construction of a covered passage from the station to within about 50 ft. of Sixth Street and from Sixth Street to Haddon Avenue. Heated quarters for the employees of the operating company are provided at the east end of the station.

Contract now approximately .....99% completed

Contract No. 6 covers the furnishing and installing of the trackwork and contact rail required for the operation of the High Speed Line including the storage yard; also installations of metallic tubing for cables and steel electrical chambers, footwalks, gratings, pipe railings and similar equipment on the bridge and approach structures.

At the beginning of the year track materials were beginning to arrive on the work; the contract is now substantially completed.

The trackwork is similar to that adopted as standard in the City-owned Philadelphia subways.

An interesting innovation consists of the use of GEO type tie plates used throughout the work which are accurately fitted to the ties by gauge in the shop and provide means for the subsequent placing of the running rail on rubber pads in accurate alignment. The rail is fastened to the tie plates by means of clips, thus providing for replacements with a minimum damage to the ties. This construction eliminates the necessity for anti-creepers. Expansion joints of a new and effective design have been installed in the rail of both tracks at the bridge towers.

CONTRACT NO. 7-A—PHILADELPHIA SUBSTATION BUILDING

Contract now approximately .....100% completed

Contract No. 7-A which was awarded near the close of 1934 has been substantially completed and the electric power equipment it is designed to house is being installed. The building is approximately 74 ft. by 53 ft. in size and of attractive architectural appearance, constructed of brick with granite base and limestone trim. It is located underneath the structure of the Delaware River Bridge on Front Street north of Race Street and as a protection against a possible fire on the bridge structure is provided with a copper roof.

CONTRACT NO. 7-C—CAMDEN SUBSTATION BUILDING

The substation building in Camden was first designed as a limestone structure to resemble the Administration Building and was located in the open plot of land on the south side of Linden Street at the south Marginal Road. Bids were received on November 9, 1934 for constructing this building under Contract No. 7-B, the low bidder being Builders, Inc. and the price $105,220.15. All bids were rejected and the building was redesigned as a brick structure with granite base and limestone trim approximately 83 ft. by 53 ft. in size to occupy the plot of land on the east side of Fourth Street between Birch Street and the north Marginal Road. Bids for the construction of the substation on the revised design under Contract No. 7-C were received on January 11, 1935. Work was started on this building shortly thereafter and it is now completed and electrical apparatus and conduits are being installed. The work of Contract No. 7-C includes plumbing, ventilators, and hand-operated chain hoist but no electrical equipment.

Contract No. 8 covers the construction of 26 steel passenger cars for the operation of the High Speed Line, and two additional trucks and some replacement parts. One sample car is nearing completion, and the construction of the others is progressing rapidly.

The cars have a modified stream line outline at the ends and seating arrangement for 67 passengers. Some reduction in weight was made by the use of high-strength rust-resisting steel.

Contract No. 10 for Block Signaling and Interlocking Equipment was advertised and one bid received from the Union Switch and Signal Company in the amount of $593,430 on March 15, 1935. This single bid was rejected and the Contract was readvertised as Contract 10-A giving the bidders the privilege of bidding on either an electric or electro-pneumatic system or a combination of the two, except that installations in the Eighth Street Supway were required to be electro-pneumatic in operation to operate with the existing signaling and interlocking equipment with which it connected. Bids were received from the Union Switch and Signal Company in the amount of $583,600 for combined electro-pneumatic and electric system in which an air line across the Delaware River Bridge was not required, and in the amount of $589,970 for an electro-pneumatic system which included an air line available for the operation of tools on the bridge. The General Railway Signal Company submitted a bid of $628,406. The electro-pneumatic type of equipment was requested by the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company on account of the air line over the bridge and its many advantages in facilitating connection with the existing signal systems in the Philadelphia subways and the bid of the Union Switch and Signal Company for an electro-pneumatic system was accepted by the Commission and was awarded on May 31, 1935 as Contract 10-A.

REPORT OF ELECTRICAL ENGINEER

The Delaware River Joint Commission,
Camden, N. J.

Gentlemen:

Six major electrical or mechanical contracts, five of which were prepared, issued and awarded during the current year, are now actively carried forward as part of the high-speed rail transit project. In addition to the above, a considerable amount of electrical and mechanical work is included in several of the structural contracts. The aggregate of this work is in excess of $1,500,000.

In general, manufacturing, erection and installation have progressed satisfactorily. The presernt status of the work is well advanced on all contracts as shown below.

Features and Problems

The direct current power distribution system had to follow closely that of Broad Street Subway on account of the inter-connection of the lines, but special study had to be made on account of problems introduced by the considerable expansion, contraction and vibration on the bridge structure.

Rectifiers and metal-clad switchgear are used in the sub-stations for rectifying and switching the current as these types are the most desirable equipment available and have proved extremely satisfactory on the more recent subway developments in Philadelphia.

A diversity of primary power is provided through two independent sources each of a high degree of reliability. There are two sub-stations each supplied with power over duplicate cables from one source. There is a tie line between sub-stations so that either may be supplied from the other. This arrangement gives maximum flexibility and reliability of service and, though it assured continuity of operation, introduced a very complex problem due to the differential in power characteristics between the Pennsylvania and New Jersey power system.

Each of the utility companies which are to furnish power for the operation of the line stipulated that the use of the tie cable made mandatory that provisions be made to prevent the possible tying of the two systems together. This might occur through the tie line or through either of the four distribution cables, each of which is to be supplied from either sub-station, unless proper precautions were taken. Conferences were held with the engineers of the utility and operating companies. The limitations each wished to impose were duly considered and a system of electrical remote interlocking was developed which is now acceptable to all concerned. Such system has been adopted and the auxiliary devices on the various switchgear units augmented or modified to meet the imposed conditions. There are twenty-six units of switchgear and the system of interlocking makes it impossible to close any unit, either manually or electrically, if such closing would inter-connect the two utility systems but at the same time permits all normal operations to be performed.

A feature worthy of note was the adoption of non-ferrous thin wall tube system across the bridge for cable raceways and signal air lines. The gross weight of these tubes is about 100,000 pounds or about one-third the weight of corresponding ferrous pipes ordinarily used. This desirable reduction in weight was obtained coincident with what is believed to be a more reliable installation and at a cost comparable with that involved in the use of ferrous metal.

All operations in the Philadelphia sub-station will be normally controlled from the Camden sub-station over four wires of the size ordinarily used for a telephone. Numerous circuit breakers at remote locations are also controlled from this station over similar wires. Telephones are to be located at many points along the lines as are fire alarm stations and loud speakers for train dispatching. The wires for these many functions have a special rubber insulation and are combined into a single special trunk cable with branches as required. The total conductor-feet in the cable exceeds one million or over two hundred miles.

Power for lights and miscellaneous equipment in each passenger station is supplied over two cables, each of which may be fed from sub-station. Automatic equipment in each station transfers the various circuits to the live source and thus assures continuity of service. Similar provisions are being installed to maintain signal service.

Provisions have been made for future developments. Space is provided in each sub-station for a 50 per cent increase of capacity over the initial. The power distribution system will readily lend itself to any normal extension of the line, particularly in the Camden area.

CONTRACT DATA AND STATUS OF THE WORK

Contracts involving electrical or mechanical work are as follows:

Contract Number	For	Awarded to	Date of Award	Amount of Contract
5	Rectifier and switchgear	Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co.	8-17-34	$393,965.00
9	Sub-station control and power distribution system	W. V. Pangborne and Company, Inc.	6- 7-35	318,346.21
10-A	Block signaling and interlocking equipment	Union Switch and Signal Company	5-31-35	589,970.00
12	Subway lighting	Riggs-Distler and Company, Inc.	7- 9-35	54,700.99
13	Pumps, plumbing, sewage ejectors and heating	William M. Anderson Company	8-13-35	20,219.24
14	Moving Stairway	Westinghouse Electric Elevator Company	7-19-35	26,950.00

In addition to the above major electrical and mechanical contracts, a considerable amount of similar work has been done as part of various construction contracts as follows:

Contract No. 1: Installation of concealed conduit and fittings in the subway and passenger station area, construction of an underground duct system and lighting and pumping facilities for the Fifth Street Underpass.

Contract No. 2: Installation of concealed conduit and fittings in the subway and passenger station area, installation of high-voltage feeder line from the Camden anchorage to the Fourth Street transformer room, installation of lighting and pumping facilities for the underpass and installation of an underground duct system. Under this contract the several electrical services now furnishing power for various locations in the Camden area are being combined and supplied from present service to the Camden anchorage via a high-voltage cable to the transformer room at Fourth Street and then distributed to the various locations. This permits all power required for bridge operation in the Camden area to be obtained at more favorable rates and effects a very appreciable annual saving.

Contract No. 3: Installation of concealed conduit and fittings in the subway and passenger station areas and construction of an underground duct system.

Contract No. 6: Installation of a metallic tube system across the bridge and on approaches for the support and protection of cables and installation of the contact or third rail system.

Contracts Nos. 7-A and 7-C: Studies and equipment layouts were made to obtain buildings best adapted for the desired arrangement of equipment. Ventilation, dissipation of excess heat, and suitable illumination were considered and definite provisions made to obtain desired results. Detail plans were made for under-floor ducts, a concealed conduit system, and equipment foundations.

Contract No. 8: Motive, control and other electrical equipment on the cars, Specifications covering these items were prepared. Plans and diagrams have been checked. Engineering tests have been made and witnessed and inspection of construction maintained. Most of the motive and control equipment have been tested and delivered to the car builder.

Contract No. 11: Electrical equipment of the maintenance building.

Major Electrical and Mechanical Contracts

Contract No. 5: This contract was awarded to the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Company and covers transforming, rectifying and switchgear equipment required for the two sub-stations. Work of design and manufacture was started in the latter part of 1934 based on mutual agreement pertaining to reduction in rupturing capacity of certain switchgear units. This agreement was disapproved by the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works in March, 1935, and the contractor was so advised and contract reverted to original requirements. Notwithstanding this delay of over eight months, the work has progressed so as to keep pace with related work on other contracts. Manufacture and testing are nearly complete. Delivery to the Camden sub-station is complete and erection work well under way. Delivery to Philadelphia sub-station is 50 per cent. complete and erection started. The contract as a whole is approximately 70 per cent. complete.

Contract No. 9: This contract was awarded to W. V. Pangborne and Company, Incorporated, and includes sub-station switching and control equipment, supervisory control equipment, complete cable plant, track bonding, completion of contact rail system, remote controlled circuit breaker equipment, signal transformer equipment, underground ducts and other work.

Manufacture of sub-station equipment is being rushed and many items are being installed. The manufacture and testing of cable is nearly complete and installation started. The work on this contract is closely co-related with that of Contract No. 5, each being somewhat dependent upon the other. In connection with the track bonding, coincident with other work under this contact, difficulties were encountered which required a supplemental contract being prepared. This will provide for the use of compressed and expanded types rather than welded type bonds. The work as a whole is about 35 per cent. complete.

Contract No. 10-A: This contract was awarded to Union Switch and Signal Company and covers interlocking and block signaling equipment for the line. Certain of the interlocking devices are controlled from distant points by a system of Centralized Traffic Control. This system, over a group of three control wires, permits the sending of coded electrical impulses from a central station to switching and interlocking devices which perform the desired operation and return a signal to the central station showing that the operation has been performed. This makes it unnecessary to keep switch and signal men at the remote points. Mention has been made of using thin wall non-ferrous tubes for signal air lines. These tubes are joined together by a novel coupling or fitting which permits the tube to expand and at the same time maintain an air-tight joint.

Manufacturing of all equipment is nearing completion. Construction work has been under way for several months and is progressing satisfactorily. The final completion of the work will be dependent upon availability of power for testing and adjustment. The entire work is now 60 per cent. complete.

Contract No. 12: This contract was awarded to Riggs Distler and Company and covers the transformers, switchboards, panelboards, wiring and fixtures required for the lighting and auxiliary power required for the subway and passenger stations.

Considerable study was made of the illumination requirements particularly of passenger stations and a departure made from the usual metallic type of lighting fixture so that in many locations, refractory glass types are being installed. Switchboards are all "dead front" safety type provided with the most modern type of equipment. Certain major items have been designed, manufactured and delivered and others are in process of manufacture. Installation work has been in progress for three months and is progressing satisfactorily. The entire work is 40 per cent. completed.

Contract No. 14: Awarded to the Westinghouse Electric Elevator Company and covers furnishing a moving stairway or escalator in the Broadway Station. Manufacture is practically complete. Installation work has proceeded as far as practicable until power is available for operation and adjustment. The entire work is now approximately 50 per cent. complete.

Conclusion

The electrical and mechanical work of the entire project is progressing in a satisfactory manner.

The close relationship between the work of the several electrical contracts requires careful co-ordination. This is being done so as to expedite the work. Some adjustments in completion schedules will however be necessary.

Respectfully submitted,

LOUIS T. KLAUDER,
Electrical Engineer.

REPORT OF THE LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO INVESTIGATE THE GILBERTON MINE DISASTER PURSUANT TO RESOLUTION NO. 42

To the Honorable House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Your Committee appointed pursuant to Resolution No. 42, of the House of Representatives of the Sessions of 1935-37 has the honor to submit the following as its report.

Resolution No. 42 of the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania was introduced on February 6, 1935, by the Honorable John J. Downey, Schuylkill County, reported from the Committee on Mines and Mining on February 13, 1935, and adopted by the House. Subsequent thereto, the following Representatives were named to serve on the Committee: Joseph P. Bradley, Northumberland, Secretary; John F. Stank, Northumberland; Daniel C. Linderman, Schuylkill; J. Noble Hirsch, Schuylkill; John J. Downey, Schuylkill, Chairman.

In pursuance to the aforementioned resolution, the Committee held a series of hearings in the offices of the Gilberton Colliery, Gilberton, Pennsylvania, at which time officers of the Gilberton Colliery and the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company testified. A hearing was also held at Richardson's Hall, Mahanoy Plane, Pennsylvania, where 13 present and former employes of the Gilberton Colliery testified. The members of the Committee made several trips to the colliery for the purpose of investigating what repairs were being made after the disaster.

The specific assignment given the Committee is expressed in the Resolution of the House of Representatives hereinbefore referred to, and is stated as follows:

"Whereas, A terrible mine disaster happened on the morning of January twenty-first between the hours of nine and ten o'clock at Gilberton in Schuylkill County which resulted in the loss of many lives therefore be it

Resolved, That the Committee on Mines and Mining of the House of Representatives shall have power to fully investigate the mine disaster referred to in the preamble hereof to determine the cause thereof whether said disaster was due to negligence of any person or company or failure on the part of the laws of this Commonwealth to make ample provision to safe-guard the lives of persons employed in the anthracite coal mines and what provision if any shall be made to correct such laws.

Resolved, That the Committee on Mines and Mining shall make a report of its findings to the House of Representatives as early as possible.

Resolved, That the said Committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee and to produce such books papers records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books papers records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases.

The Committee, before stating its conclusions as directed by the aforesaid Resolution, deems it advisable to state the history of the tragic subject of this inquiry and to discuss briefly the testimony given by certain material witnesses.

On the morning of January 21, 1935, an explosion occurred in the Gilberton Mine, at Gilberton, Pennsylvania, in which 13 men were killed, 84 men injured, and a total of 190 men treated.

The Colliery was owned and operated by the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company.

Due to the horrible and untimely death of these men, speculation was rife as to its cause. Charges of violations of the "State Mining Laws" were openly made by survivors and other employes of the mines, and denials equally as emphatic were made by company officials. Several investigations were made as to the cause, but your Legislative Committee desires to state that it has absolutely ignored all other investigations and bases its conclusion on facts that were produced before it.

On April 12, 1935, your Committee met Mr. J. R. Sharp, General Manager, Mr. William E. Jones, Superintendent, and Mr. R. E. Kirk, Safety Inspector, at the offices of the company at the Gilberton Colliery. No testimony was elicited from any of these three witnesses, which shed any light on the cause of the explosion. One significant fact developed from the testimony of Superintendent Jones, and that was that a seven (7) foot fan which had not been in operation for over six months prior to the accident was started within three hours after the accident. The explanation given by the officials was that it must have been accidentally turned on by some employe.

On Friday, May 17, 1935, your Committee held a hearing at Richardson's Hall, Mahanoy Plane, Pennsylvania, at which time they examined 13, present and former, employes at this colliery. While the present employes were very reticent to discuss the probable cause of the explosion, due to a fear on their part of reprisals by the company officials in dismissing them from their employment, yet the testimony of each and every one showed very clearly a ruthless disregard for compliance with the State Mining Laws. Considerable evidence was given, not only in connection with the accident of January 21, 1935, but also of another accident in which, one, Hinkle, was killed a week before.

William Caton, an employe of four or five years standing testified that the ventilation was all wrong and that during his period of service there were frequent changes of foremen, inside foremen, fire bosses and assistants due to the fact, "sometimes the fellows would say the hell with it, I don't like this, get afraid and quit."

Daniel Reismiller, told of frequent violations of the mining laws by using what is known as a "Shake-shot."

George Jacusky, who was mining at this colliery at that time testified that it was necessary to take the hose off the jack-hammer and blow air around the breast.

Vernon Morgan, a former employe, who claims he was let out (and glad of it, "he said,") for refusing to sign daily reports as requested by the Superintendent, for the reason that he did not wish to assume the responsibility of an accident gave the Committee a very detailed account of conditions in this colliery. He told how the airways were in bad condition and how he tried to listen to the Mine Inspector but that the Superintendent told him he knew what had to be done. There was no control of the return ventilation. When asked by the Committee whether a lamp belonging to one of the dead miners with its bottom off could have been done by the miner himself and thus cause the explosion, he replied "that you cannot take the bottom off the lamp, that the condition of the lamp was the result of the explosion and not the cause of it."

Thomas McDonald, stated he was employed at the time of the accident, that he heard a shot fired and immediately after shouts of the men, yelling of an explosion. The dangerous condition of the mines immediately prior to the accident and for some months previous were explained and testified to by all the witnesses. It was shown that there were frequent changes made in the personnel of the bosses due, according to the miners, to the fact that the subbosses refused to jeopardize the safety and lives of their men under them, on account of the dangerous working conditions. The dangerous conditions were called to the attention of the company officials, but seemingly without any effect. It has also been agreed between your Committee and the Company Officials that no repairs were to be made until this investigation was completed, yet the company disregarded this understanding and made a number of material changes and repairs immediately after the hearing at which the miners gave their testimony.

Your Committee visited the mines after the testimony had been concluded and issued a statement to the Company that having found everything to be then in good condition, that your Committee did not want to stand in the way of beginning operations at once, provided the permission and sanction of Mine Inspector Quigley, were secured.

CONCLUSION

The Committee, after due and calm deliberation of all the facts, and taking into consideration the interest of each and every witness, can only come to one conclusion, and that is: That the Gilberton Disaster of January 21, 1935, was due to a flagrant violation of the "State Mining Laws" on the part of the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron Co., operators of the Colliery

The immediate cause of the explosion is limited to that of one survivor. Proper air conditions were not maintained; illegal mining in getting coal out with shake-shots was the rule instead of the exception; men were taken to the barn and other places of safety by the bosses while this wild-cat mining was in progress. Complaints made to the company officials and instructions given them by the State Mine Inspector were unheeded.

From all the material testimony, your Committee can come to no other conclusion than:

That the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company, through the acts of certain of its officials, whereby they violated different sections of the Ventilating Acts, are therefore, responsible for the accident.

And, had the operating company worked this colliery, not only on the day of this accident but for months previous in strict accordance with the State Mining Laws, this tragedy would have been averted.

FOREWORD

The Joint Legislative Committee to investigate Public Relief in Pennsylvania has proceeded in full sympathy with the fundamental purpose of relief legislation—namely, that Government aid should be extended to every worthy individual, or family, in distress as a result of involuntary unemployment.

The Committee believes that Government aid must be continued until those now idle through no fault of their own can find work.

Gigantic sums of money and heavy burdens of taxation will be required, and the Committee believes that consideration for both the unemployed and the taxpayer demands the highest economy and efficiency in the administration of relief work.

Every penny of relief money wastefully expended is lost to those needy people for whom it was intended; every penny so spent becomes an unnecessary burden to the people who pay the taxes.

The primary objective of this Committee has been to find ways of placing a larger proportion of funds appropriated for relief into the hands of the unemployed for whom it is intended.

If too much money is spent for administration, if relief benefits are granted to the undeserving—or used for purposes of political reward—the men, women and children who need it most are robbed and the public is defrauded.

The scope of the Committee has been state-wide and all agencies engaged in the administration of public relief were studied. The period covered in the investigation is from the inception of the Pennsylvania Relief System in September, 1932 to May 31, 1935, although statistics in several of the reports include the latter months of 1935 and the early months of 1936.

Lack of time and money have prevented the completion of certain phases of the investigation. Various accounts should be audited; the legal status of blind relief should be determined; hospitalization should be studied to conclusion; and the investigation of irregular practices should be continued.

The Committee proposes to complete a study of the various phases of the investigation set forth in the following report if funds are made available for such investigation, at the Special Session of the General Assembly called for May 4, 1936.

SUMMARY OF THE REPORT OF THE JOINT LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE PUBLIC RELIEF

The Joint Legislative Committee, as the result of its investigations and studies, is endeavoring in this report to bring as clearly and forcibly as possible to the attention of the members of the General Assembly and the people of the Commonwealth:

1. The vast scope of the present relief problem.
2. The staggering sums of money expended during the last forty-three months.
3. The mass of our population which is affected by State and Federal relief programs;
4. The serious financial situation which confronts the Commonwealth if the current relief program is to be contained without the assistance of Federal funds for Direct Relief.

The Committee believes that one of the following policies should be definitely established by the General Assembly:

1. Shall the Commonwealth continue to maintain the standards of relief which have been built up under the State Emergency Relief Board while Federal moneys were available for direct relief, or,
2. Shall the Commonwealth insist that, in so far as the expenditure of its appropriations is concerned, the limitations clearly set forth by the Supreme Court in its decision on the Talbot Act be observed in Administration?

The Supreme Court, in the case of Commonwealth v. Liveright, 308 P. A. 35, construing the Talbot Act, said:

"It is the duty of every citizen, particularly public officials, * * * entrusted with furnishing this relief, to see that it is not given to those not entitled to receive it, * * * The purpose of the State's relief is to furnish maintenance to poor persons, including those who through enforced unemployment, have no means of support and not to those who have such means."

Pennsylvania's Share of Relief

Total expenditures from Federal, State and local moneys for Direct Relief, Work Relief and Auxiliary Relief Programs within the State from September 1, 1932 to April 1, 1936 are $778,278,087.23. This sum represents an amount approximately five times greater than the total income credited to the General Fund for the biennial period ending May 31, 1935.

TREND IN STATE REVENUES. During the fiscal biennium ended May 31, 1935, the revenues of the Commonwealth from normal sources decreased $21,226,271.22 as compared to the biennium ended May 31, 1933, which biennium in turn showed a decrease of $21,627,565.75 as compared to the period ended May 31, 1931. A decrease in General Fund revenues of $42,853,836.93 in the two prior biennial periods.

STATE DEBT. Since November 1, 1933, an increase has been authorized in the State debt of $85,000,000.00, of which $50,000,000.00 was for Soldiers' Bonus, $25,000,000.00 to provide revenue for current expenses and $10,000,000.00 to acquire intra-state toll bridges. The debts incurred for Soldiers' Bonus and for current expenses became a charge against the General Fund. The interest and sinking fund charges for these bonds issues for the present biennium is $13,950,000.00.

STATE EMERGENCY RELIEF BOARD. The total expenditures for emergency relief from September 1, 1932 to May 31, 1935, the end of the last fiscal period, a period of 33 months, were $319,737,533.64. This total is in agreement with the records of the Auditor General and the State Treasurer.

These total disbursements were paid from the following sources:

State Funds	$75,974,752.93
Federal Funds	$243,762,780.71

AVERAGE GRANT TO CASES INCREASES STEADILY. The increased cost of relief is shown in the following schedule of average grants to individual cases:

During the month of October, 1933—a normal month—the average relief grant per case is shown as $17.31.

During the month of October, 1934, this average relief grant per case had increased to $26,06.

During the month of October, 1935, this average relief grant had increased to the sum of $34.53 per case.

AUDIT OF RELIEF FUNDS URGED. The Committee believes that all relief accounts and records should be audited and says "the Emergency Relief System has developed to such proportions that your Committee feels that investigation and auditing forces assigned to this system are inadequate to reduce the prevalent inconsistencies."

EFFECT UPON OTHER GOVERNMENTAL FUNCTIONS. The demands of relief upon the funds which might otherwise have been available for governmental functions, has prevented the Commonwealth from increasing appropriations to various departments. Increased forms of revenue which have reached the State Treasury have been used on relief programs.

The extent to which expenditures in the Department of Education and the Welfare Department have remained constant while general State expenditures have increased is shown in the report as follows:

EDUCATION. During the biennium ended May 31, 1933, the Department of Education spent 23.74 per cent of the total expendtures of the State. For the period ended May 31, 1935, the expenditure was 11.65 per cent of the total. This represents a reduction of 12.57 per cent during the biennium.

WELFARE. During the biennium ended May 31, 1933, the expenditures of the Department of Welfare were 9.81 per cent of the total for the State. During the biennial period ending May 31, 1935, the expenditures were 4.95 per cent of the total. This represents a reduction of 4.85 per cent within a period of two years.

The reasons for much of the criticism which is now directed against conditions in State Hospitals and Penal Institutions may be traced to the use of funds for relief purposes which otherwise might have been available for properly conditioning and maintaining these Institutions.

It should be pointed out here that the principal factor in the inability of the State to alleviate the burden of School taxation on local real estate is the great need for relief funds within the Commonwealth.

ASSISTANCE TO VETERANS. The sum of $517,000.00 was allocated by the S. E. R. B. to the State Veterans' Commission for the relief of the needy veterans. Veterans desiring assistance apply through their service officers of the local posts who in turn make application through committees.

The Committee is unable to find any difference between the case of a veteran and that of any class of citizen. Moreover, the Committee finds that the mechanics of relief are set up in such a manner that the veteran would receive relief more speedily and more efficiently if applied for and disbursed through the regular channels.

EXCESSIVE EXPENDITURES. During the period covered by the report, the S. E. R. B. expended $10,096,294.45 for clothing. In the opinion of the Committee, this amount is excessively high "when it is considered that organized charities and local welfare chests have provided this same item."

The report continues:

"From the average number of cases on relief, it appears that an amount in excess of $30.00 per case was paid out for clothing over a period of 13 months. This issuance of this item was at the discretion of the local welfare worker. Our survey disclosed that considerable dissatisfaction existed among the recipients. Claims were made that favoritism was shown in the issuance of these articles.

"During our survey in Area 7 for a period of two months, five employees were required to prepare, handle and distribute 6,302 packages consisting mostly of towels, pillow cases and sheets. The salary of these employees during the period was $1,277.43. Automobile expense was $220.55 for a recorded mileage of 4411 miles. The average cost of these package deliveries was 24 cents per package."

BUREAU OF HOMELESS AND TRANSIENT. The total expenditures for this service within the period covered by the report was $3,301,412.07. An average of 13,265 individuals were cared for daily.

The rules of the Transient Bureau prescribed that only interstate travelers could be accommodated. However, numerous instances wherein individuals living in Pennsylvania registered under an alias, gave their residence in another State, and were admitted to the quarters of the Transient Bureau.

INVESTIGATION OF TRANSIENT CAMP AT MOUNT GRETNA. Pursuant to a request of the Auditor General, an investigation was made of the transient camp at Mount Gretna. The period covered in the investigation was from October 23, 1933 to March 31, 1934.

The investigation disclosed that traffic in merchandise between clients of the camp and others was conducted with the community adjacent to the camp. Search warrants were issued and merchandise approximating $400.00 in value was recovered.

Excerpts from the report follow:

"Records were so poorly kept that they were worthless for the purpose of our investigation.

"The morale of the camp was low, and it appeared that the clients ruled the camp.

"The handling of food supplies was promiscuous and without control. It was possible to steal and trade surplus requirements for each day, as the cooks were custodians of the food. Apparently there was nothing done to check this practice. We found that at no time were food issued based upon requirements.

"There was an absence of discipline and regulations within the camp. Transients trafficked in liquor. There were drunken brawls, and the community was unsafe for women and children.

"It was common knowledge throughout the camp that transients stole both food and clothing. This report to the camp commandant failed to receive any consideration and no attempt was made to check this nefarious practice.

"Officials and employes used their personal cars in the transaction of transient camp business. They received mileage at the established State rate of five cents per mile, and in addition to this regular compensation, they used the gasoline and oil from the transient camp for their personal cars.

"We found no organized work program in effect at Mount Gretna. There appeared to have been minor programs during the winter, such as wood cutting, but this was done because the men required the fuel to keep themselves warm.

"The officer in charge was quite generous with the supplies and stores of the camp and repaid personal obligations by giving supplies to his debtors."

The cost per individual cared for by the Transient Bureau is shown in the report to have been $12.50 per month.

During the same period covered by this investigation, the County Emergency Relief Board in the same community was paying to American citizens the sum of $2.25 per month for their bare subsistence.

HIGH ADMINISTRATIVE COST. The Committee shows that $173,277.33 was spent for direct relief in the Emergency Education Work Relief Program of the Department of Public Instruction, of which sum $46,821.71 was spent for administration.

The report says:

"We invite your attention particularly to the excessive cost of administration which is 27 per cent. of the total amount expended."

SALARIES AND EXPENSES. Salaries and expenses of the S. E. R. B. soared steadily from May 31, 1933 to May 31, 1935. The weekly payroll on the former date was $49,063.51. On May 31, 1935, this figure had climbed to a weekly payroll of $272,649.31.

On September 1, 1932, the percentage cost of administration in the S. E. R. B. was one per cent. of the total expenditure of funds while the cost per case was 7c. On May 1, 1935, the percentage cost of administration was 8.9 per cent of the total expenditure, while the cost per case was $4.92. The personnel and the expenditures of the State Emergency Relief Board increased rapidly from its inception up to July, 1935. Since that date there has been a material decrease in both personnel and expenditures as shown by the following tables:

Personnel		Administration Expenses
June, 1933	2761	$200,893.03	Monthly
January, 1934	3674	296,817.61
June, 1934	8674	590,924.45
January, 1935	11240	235,967.17	Weekly
July, 1935	14521	322,558.56
January, 1936	8294	189,092.64
February, 1936	7734	179,677.52

Those in charge of the administration of the S. E. R. B. account for these variations for the following reasons:

1. That at the inception of the S. E. R. B. and for some time thereafter, local administration costs were in certain communities assumed and paid for locally.

2. That each new service which was assumed as the relief program was continued, such as the furnishing of clothing, payment of rents and utility services, care of transients, etc., necessitated additional personnel. The decrease since July, 1935, is accounted for largely by the reduced number of cases due to P. W. A., W. P. A., and direct payments to recipients in lieu of food orders.

The contention is also made that a large personnel is justified in order to make thorough investigations which tend to decrease the relief load.

Another factor increased costs of administration. Methods of procedure were constantly changed by Federal agencies. Instances have been ascertained where methods of procedure were actually voided by replacement methods before they became effective.

Employes were constantly shifted from one position to another with consequent loss of efficiency.

Intricate systems and red tape in administration increase costs and retard operations. If the present administration costs are maintained on a case load of 200,000, approximately $6,228,802.00 will be necessary for administration alone, for the next eight months.

The report points out that the S. E. R. B. appears to be overorganized and systematized to a degree that retards the very operation of the system itself.

LOANS TO FARMERS FOR REHABILITATION PURPOSES. The purpose of this program was to aid farmers who were on relief by soliciting their requirements for crops and to lend them money to buy seeds and necessary farming equipment. A judgment note was taken and recorded. It appears that the cost of administration of this program was 43 per cent. of the total amount of money expended.

A report on Case 2750 shows that $600.00 was loaned to a farmer living on premises assessed for $3,300.00, on which a mortgage of $3,500.00 was in existence. The loan was intended to encourage farm production which included the raising of wheat. Farmers in the immediate neighborhood were being paid for not raising wheat.

RECOVERY OF FUNDS FRAUDULENTLY RECEIVED. During the period from June 24, 1935 to March 31, 1936, the S. E. R. B. recovered $234,528.49 in funds which had been fraudulently received by clients who had work in private industry or who concealed their assets.

The Committee is of the opinion that an investigation of all cases of "chiseling" reported to the investigators would reveal the possibility of greater recovery of funds than shown above.

SURVEY REVEALS POLITICS IN RELIEF. The administration and distribution of direct relief have been relatively free from politics, due in large measure to the high character of the men chosen as Executive Director of the S. E. R. B.

The same cannot be said of the services and agencies which have supervised work relief. There is abundant evidence that in some communities work is provided for those only who secure the backing of political leaders; that workers are importuned by those in authority to contribute in some form or another for political purposes, and that job holders are told to vote right or suffer the consequences. The Committee considers the injection of politics into the relief system as a lamentable condition. The report says:

"We have evidence that many of the State's unfortunates have been intimidated and compelled to register their political affiliations with the administration now in control and our files disclose evidence to show that those who refused to do so were either discharged from the rolls or from the projects on which they were employed.

"We have evidence in our files that applicants for jobs must have the backing of political party leaders. We have evidence that when requests for employables are made from the relief rolls for 50 persons, a list of 100 names is submitted to the political leader who selects 50 loyal followers.

"We have evidence in our files to show that these unfortunates in relief have been compelled to take from their meagre earnings and purchase tickets for political dinners. If they refused, they jeopardized their jobs. We have statements in our files to show that men supporting families and barely existing on their earnings were dismissed because they could not afford to buy these tickets.

"We have evidence in our files to show that employes of local W. P. A. offices have gone to the County Commissioner's office and scrutinized the registration rolls to determine the political affiliation of relief program employes.

"We have evidence in our files to show that relief program employes, during the general election campaign of November 1935, were threatened with loss of their jobs unless they voted a ticket favorable to the administration.

FLAGRANT CASES OF ABUSE. The report cites flagrant cases of the abuse of the relief privilege in Pennsylvania during the early days of the program. Two paragraphs follow:

"We have in our files affidavits from five individuals who were employed by a citizen associated with the administration of public relief to do personal work for them on a farm, and who received as their compensation—relief orders. We have evidence of further abuse and misuse of relief orders by other persons closely associated with the administration of relief wherein persons not entitled to relief had their grocery bills paid by relief orders. These rregularities were committed by apparently outstanding citizens of the community.

"A brick company in western Pennsylvania manipulated the relief orders as an offset against back wages. We have affidavits in our files stating that men having wages due them from the brick company were given relief and other concessions so that they would not press their claims against the brick company. Certain officials of the brick company were closely associated with the local relief board."

Three other cases studied by the investigators tend to show the attitude of citizens toward relief and the desire of individuals to prefer the benefits of relief to the rigors of labor. The report says:

"These three cases have been regularly employed in a coal mine and earned wages sufficient to support their families. When relief came, they picked up their tools and walked out. The operator of the mine stated that he had offered these men work, but they flatly refused to return to their jobs, as they preferred to be on relief."

The report shows that an employe of the Commonwealth serving as an officer on Capitol Hill was placed on the State payroll on April 17, 1935, but continued to receive the regular relief grant from the State Emergency Relief Board until May 18, 1935.

BUDGETARY DEFICIENCY PLAN OF THE S. E. R. B. The report presents a digest of the Budgetary Deficiency Plan of the S. E. R. B. One paragraph is significant:

"There was a noticeable increase in the total expenditures following the institution of the Budgetary Deficiency Plan."

COMPLAINT. Attention is called to the complaint of the farm organizations that farmers experience extreme difficulty in employing labor during this period of "surplus labor." The report contains a petition from the State Council of Farm Organizations requesting action by the Relief Board to relieve this condition.

DISCRIMINATION. A detailed study of the report of the Joint Legislative Committee to Investigate Public Relief in Pennsylvania reveals clearly that the entire program has gone far beyond the original concept of the responsibility of the Commonwealth for the poor and indigent within its borders.

Influences of the Federal Government and the use of Federal funds have created two visible standards of relief administration in Pennsylvania today.

The one standard is exemplified by the Poor Boards of the various counties who provide shelter, food and clothing for the unemployables of their districts. The other standard is that set by the S. E. R. B. and allied agencies which administer relief to the employables of the State.

It would appear to the Committee that this discrimination of standards of relief between unemployables and employables is manifestly unjust.

LAX INVESTIGATIONS. There is an apparent weakness in the investigation of cases. Many investigators lack the practical qualifications and judgment necessary to ascertain the correct facts, to measure the needs of a family, and to prevent "chiseling." Certain educational qualifications are given undue importance over practical experience and sound judgment.

DUPLICATION OF RELIEF HAS COST STATE $10,000,000.00 It is a provision of the W. P. A. that persons must be on relief rolls before they can become eligible to a position with W. P. A. When these employables are placed on the W. P. A. rolls, the S. E. R. B. is directed to continue relief until their first check is received from the W. P. A.

The investigation discloses that this practice has resulted in a duplication of relief aid because no effort has been made by the W. P. A. to deduct the sum received from the S. E. R. B. during the interim between the date of employment and the receipt of the first W. P. A. pay check. It is estimated that this duplication has cost the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania $10,000,000.00 in relief funds because restitution of that sum was not made to the S. E. R. B.

AUTOMOBILES AND HOME-OWNERS ON RELIEF. The investigators for the Committee studied 834 automobile questionnaires returned by recipients of relief. It was noted that 164 admitted ownership of cars and 1935 licenses; three owned licenses for both a truck and a passenger car; one owned two cars with licenses; and four owned motorcycles with licenses. This survey indicated that one out of every five families on relief during the period covered by this investigation owned and operated automobiles.

In a survey of 225 cases, 60 were home owners. Of this number of homes, 42 were encumbered by mortgages and 18 were unencumbered.

Actual cases in this survey are included in the report.

INVESTIGATIONS INCOMPLETE — FURTHER INVESTIGATION PROPOSED. More than $103,000,000.00 was transferred to the S. E. R. B. Disbursing Officer, a large portion of this money having been transferred as "Advancements." It is our intention to make a detailed audit of the cash transactions of the Disbursing Officer.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION ACCOUNT. More than $400,000.00 has been expended for the insurance of employes. It is proposed to investigate and audit this report.

MOTHERS' ASSISTANCE FUND. Approximately $11,999,999.00 has been expended for this form of relief. The Committee should investigate this Fund to determine the worthiness of certain cases of persons now receiving assistance as well as the eligibility of certain rejections.

OLD AGE ASSISTANCE. Approximately $2,000,000.00 has been expended for this form of relief since the enactment of the measure in 1934. The Committee proposes an exhaustive investigation into this form of relief which presents an opportunity for fraud BLIND PENSIONS. Approximately $1,000,000.00 has been expended for assistance to the blind since the enactment of the measure in 1935.

The Committee quotes an excerpt from Act 220—1935 P. L. 621, Section 4:

"Every blind person who is not at the date of making application an inmate of any prison, jail, insane asylum or any public reform or correctional institution, shall be entitled to receive from the Commonwealth a pension of $30.00 per month. No person shall be denied a pension because of the fact that he or she is not a citizen of the United States. In the event that any Act of Congress providing Federal aid toward pensions for the blind requires the recipients to be citizens, no such Federal aid moneys shall be expended in the payment of pensions to non-citizens, but such persons shall receive pensions out of moneys appropriated by this Commonwealth."

In light of the foregoing legal status the Committee proposes a thorough investigation of this form of relief.

HOSPITALIZATION. The State appropriated approximately $35,000,000.00 to State-aided and State-owned hospitals during the two-year period ending May 31, 1935. This sum is intended to assist in the care and treatment of indigent patients. An additional sum of approximately $5,000,000.00 is shown as an expenditure by the Relief Board for medical treatment.

The Committee believes that an investigation should be made of this entire question of "Hospitalization." A definite program should be determined upon for sharing this charity burden now imposed upon the hospitals with the relief system.

Considerable overlapping of this form of charity is apparent. Hospitals repeatedly include in their budget request to local charity organizations an item to offset this care of indigent persons.

TYPES OF RECIPIENTS. Having approximately 600,000 individuals on relief, or approximately 6% of the total population, the committee is endeavoring to determine upon a classification of these individuals, having in mind the requirements set forth in the Constitution of Pennsylvania and the Act creating the relief system.

FRAUD AND JUGGLING. In the course of the investigation numerous instances of fraud and juggling have been disclosed, but lack of time has compelled the Committee to discontinue further investigations. It is recommended that this important investigational study be continued.

FOOD MARKETS. The Committee has had no opportunity to investigate the operation of food markets which were established and then discontinued. There does not appear to have been any audit or investigation of this phase of relief. The Committee feels that a thorough investigation should be made as to the accounting methods employed for the purchase and sales of commodities in these markets.

MISCELLANEOUS COLLECTIONS. The S. E. R. B. accounts for approximately $400,000.00 received from various sources. Recently money has been recovered from those who fraudulently received assistance and has been credited to an account known as "Restitutions."

An excess of $200,000.00 is rejected in this account. Approximately $200,000.00 additional is shown as received from miscellaneous sources. The Committee feels that if $400,000.00 has been recovered there is a possibility that a much larger sum could be recovered and this important phase of relief should be studied thoroughly.

RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE JOINT COMMITTEE

1. STANDARDS TO MEASURE ASSISTANCE. Since the Federal Government has withdrawn from the field of direct relief, and this must in the future be provided from State moneys raised by additional taxation imposed on a people laready overburdened with Federal, State and local taxes, the Joint Committee recommends that the present system of standardized relief, revolving around the idea of granting sufficient assistance to make up an arbitrary budget deficiency, be discontinued, or materially changed. The Committee recommends that each family be viewed as an individual case and its needs determined in accordance with the needs of law, taking into consideration the place of residence, cost of living in the community, former standards of living of a family, past history as to vagrancy, place of settlement, opportunity for self-employment, and available seasonal employment, particularly in rural communities during summer months. Attention is here called to the complaint of farm organizations that farmers have extreme difficulty in employing labor during this period of surplus labor.

The Committee believes that employables receiving assistance must be impressed with their individual responsibility to use every effort to support themselves and their families, wholly or partially, and that family responsibility and morale must not be broken down.

The Joint Committee is of the opinion that the law should establish a maximum average for all cases of relief.

2. ELIGIBILITY FOR ASSISTANCE. The Joint Committee calls attention to the legal duty of those in charge of administration to adhere strictly, in the distribution of unemployment relief, to the rules of law laid down by the Supreme Court in its decision on the first Talbot law.

Unemployment relief is poor relief, nothing more, nothing less. The minute the historical definition of poor persons is broken through, the administration of the law enters the forbidden field of charity and becomes illegal.

The Supreme Court was careful to point out that if moneys were granted to those not entitled to poor relief or those who refused to work, recovery should be had from those responsible for the illegal administration.

Consequently, income, property, real and personal, the willingness to work, the legal responsibility of relatives must be taken into consideration. Relief must not be granted to non-residents of the State. These should be removed to their place of settlement.

Where owners of real estate must be assisted, it is the duty of the agency granting assistance to recover the amount advanced, and this may be done by taking liens against the real estate. Automobiles are property and should be taken into consideration.

The Joint Committee is not endeavoring to lay down arbitrary rules but simply pointing out a legal duty.

3. WORK RELIEF. The Committee believes that no work relief projects be undertaken from State appropriations for unemployment relief, except in those cases where the Legislature specifically appropriates money for a particular project. All such subjects should be constructed only by contract let to the lowest responsible bidder.

4. COUNTY ASSISTANCE BOARDS. The Joint Committee is of the opinion that all forms of public assistance should be coordinated to avoid the granting of overlapping assistance and to lessen the cost of administration. We now find one agency administering poor relief, another unemployment relief and still another Mothers, Aged and Blind Assistance. Each of these is designed to assist some class of unfortunates. The Committee recommends that County Assistance Boards be created at the Special Session, which shall be given jurisdiction over (a) aid to dependent children (formerly Mothers' Assistance); (b) assistance to the aged; (c) assistance to the blind, and (d) unemployment relief. In this manner a unified administration will be attained.

The Committee recommends that such boards be appointed by the County Commissioners. The County furnishes some of the money for aid to dependent children and administration costs for assistance to the aged. The Committee is of the opinion that appointment by the County Commissioners is necessary to avoid serious constitutional difficulties.

The County Assistance Boards should be empowered to pass upon policies to be followed, but the actual administration should be placed in an executive director in each county, to be appointed by the County Assistance Board, with the approval of the President Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of said County. These Boards should also appoint the personnel required and should be limited in their administration expenses. Part of the costs of administration should be paid by the respective counties and this proportion should be increased gradually as the counties may be able to bear the expense until the whole cost of administration be carried locally.

The State administration of all of these services should be unified in the Department of Welfare. The Department of Welfare should supervise the allocation of relief moneys monthly to the County Boards. Responsibility for administration should rest with the County Boards, subject to the standards established by law.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF PENNSYLVANIA

FILE OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

RESOLUTION No. 110

MR. HORST, IN PLACE, APRIL 1, 1935

MR. CORDIER, JUDICIARY SPECIAL, APRIL 2, 1935

In the House of Representatives, April 1, 1935.

Whereas, A number of investigating committees have been created by the House of Representatives to investigate the affairs of local relief boards in particular counties and

Whereas, It is apparent from the widespread dissatisfaction that some inherent defect exists in the present system of relief distribution and that enormous sums of public money are being expended and are requested for the next fiscal biennium when no taxpayer appears to be assured that such expenditures are actually needed and

Whereas, Taxpayers are demanding that the light of publicity be thrown upon the whole system of distributing public relief and that some system be devised to cull from the list of recipients of relief those who are unworthy those who abuse the aid extended to them and those who paint false pictures of economic conditions in order to fasten a dole system foreign to American traditions on the body politic and

Whereas, The system of investigating relief distribution in particular localities while beneficial to the locally affected fails to approach the task of placing relief upon a sound Statewide business basis whereby red tape may be eliminated and those actually in need aided in a manner suitable to an American citizen therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the President Pro Tempore of the Senate shall each appoint three members of their respective Houses whose duty it shall be (a) to make a searching and impartial study and investigation of the distribution of public relief throughout this Commonwealth; (b) to ascertain whether and in what respect the present system is open to abuse; (c) to ascertain whether additional legal safeguards should be provided; (d) to ascertain whether appropriations for relief may be reduced; (e) to collate and digest reports of other investigating committees and (f) to investigate such other facts and circumstances as may be deemed necessary and advisable to enable the General Assembly to act with some degree of certainty and establish an impartial unpolitical, unwasteful and business system of aiding those of our unfortunates in need and of eradicating and punishing those who take advantage of distressing economic conditions for their personal selfish ends whether as recipients of relief or as distributors thereof.

Resolved, That said committee shall make a report of its findings to this General Assembly as early as possible.

Resolved, That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary such subpoenas may served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoena issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books, papers, records, or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases.

HISTORY OF PENNSYLVANIA'S RELIEF PROBLEM

In the fall of 1930, before beginning his term as Governor, Gifford Pinchot appointed a Pennsylvania Committee on Unemployment, to determine how the amount of unemployment might be reduced and how the condition of the unemployed and their families might be alleviated.

A report was submitted by the Committee in January, 1931, wherein they relate that county committees had been organized to "survey the needs" and to "organize and coordinate relief." They further indicated that unemployment relief needs could and should be cared for by local, private and public funds. It was also their opinion that:

> "material relief is a two-edged instrument, which, unless carefully manipulated by skilled hands, will do more damage than good, and will create in a community complacent paupers who look to the public treasury for their maintenance."

In July, 1931, Governor Pinchot appointed a Governor's Planning Committee on Unemployment Relief, and in August, 1931, a report was compiled titled "Relief Needs and Conditions in Pennsylvania" which estimated the number of unemployed in Pennsylvania in June, 1931, to be 919,000, and looked toward the possibility of State assistance.

Accordingly the Governor convened a Special Session in 1932, and the S. E. R. B. was created by Act No. 51, P. L. 88, consisting of the Governor, the Lieutenant Governor, the Auditor General, State Treasurer and the Speaker of the House of Representatives. It is the duty of the State Emergency Relief Board to plan and adopt a comprehensive program for the expenditure by the Governor of Federal moneys received for relief and work relief—such program to provide for:

(a) an equitable allocation of the moneys for expenditure in the various counties of the Commonwealth, taking into consideration the needs of the various communities and the relief funds available from taxation and other sources in such local communities;

(b) the nature, character and location of the public works to be constructed or improved by the use of such Federal funds;

(c) the method and manner of distributing direct relief and the public and private agencies through which such relief shall be distributed in the various counties, and the manner in which private agencies shall be organized in communities where the same is deemed necessary; and

(d) the co-ordination of the relief work carried on by the Governor from Federal funds and that provided for by any appropriation from the General Fund for unemployment relief, so that the best results may be obtained.

Whenever any funds are received from the Federal Government for direct relief or work relief by the Governor, for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, pursuant to the application of the Governor, such funds shall be deposited in the State Treasury in a special fund to be known as the "Federal Unemployment Relief Fund."

Any interest earned on such deposits shall be credited to the Federal Unemployment Relief Fund, and shall be expended for the same purposes as the principal sum held in said fund.

During August 1932, the State Emergency Relief Board appointed in each county of the Commonwealth a "County Emergency Relief Board" consisting usually of seven citizens serving without salary. The County Emergency Relief Board were charged with the administration of State and Federal funds for emergency relief in their respective counties and were empowered to administer such funds, either directly or through such public or private agencies, or both, as they might designate, subject to the approval of the State Emergency Relief Board.

On September 2, 1932, the State Board issued a set of general relief rules which outlined the fundamental policies and described some of the basic procedures to be followed. Four major principles were laid down as follows:

1. All relief shall be distributed on the sole basis of actual need, to persons who have been residents of Pennsylvania for one year, regardless of race, color, religion, citizenship or politics.

2. No relief shall be given to any person who has been offered work that he or she can do but has refused to work.

3. All funds received must be expended solely for food orders, work relief or other forms of actual relief.

4. Each County Emergency Relief Board will be directly responsible for carrying out the policies and decisions of the State Emergency Relief Board.

Provisions were not made to allow salaries or expenses to be paid from Unemployment Relief Funds. Local administration expenses were to be paid by the communities through public or private funds.

All direct relief was to be distributed in the form of food, food orders, or otherwise, on the basis of actual need. No food order was to designate the store at which it must be redeemed. The changes of relief policies since September 1, 1932, have been influenced by changes in relief needs and conditions. State Board broadened its policies. In October, fuel relief was authorized; on December 1st, the shoe and clothing program was instituted.

At the meeting held on October 5, 1932, representatives of the Philadelphia County Emergency Relief Board stated that it was impossible for them to secure local funds for administration, and at this meeting it was resolved to approve and provide administrative expenses for Philadelphia.

On December 7, 1932, the State Board rescinded its order relative to the payment of administrative expenses and took the position that "there must be sufficient trained personnel" to insure effective administration of relief and authorized the granting of administrative budgets to County Boards.

Further provision, however, was made that no person connected with a County Emergency Relief Board who was receiving a salary from any other source whatsoever might receive a salary from State Emergency Relief Board funds.

During the period from September, 1932 to December, 1932, no time was available for detailed planning, all efforts being concentrated on granting relief to the unemployed in need, with the result that the organization expanded from day to day in order to cope with the enormous task before it.

It was not until January, 1933, when the Board approved administrative grants to counties, that efforts were made to centralize, establish and develop standards of control and administration.

On January 3, 1933, the regular legislative session convened, and as the appropriation granted during the Special Session of 1932 would be exhausted about March 31, 1933, it was necessary for additional appropriations to be made in order to continue to receive federal aid.

The results of this regular session provided forty-five million, two hundred thousand dollars from State funds for the period April 1, 1933 to May 31, 1935, for which the Federal Government would provide an additional forty-five million dollars. The following four appropriation acts provided the aforementioned funds:

Act of March 30, 1933, No. 1A	$2,000,000.00
Act of April 12, 1933, No. 3A	5,000,000.00
Act of May 22, 1933, P. L. 922 (No. 172) ...	18,100,000.00
Act of May 26, 1933, P. L. 1086 (No. 262) ..	20,100,000.00
	$45,200,000.00

The Act of May 26, 1933, P. L. 1086, was contingent upon the approval of the voters of an amendment to the constitution providing for a bond issue, and was approved at the November, 1933, elections.

On May 1, 1933, Eric H. Biddle succeeded William B. Rodgers as Executive Director of the State Emergency Relief Board.

During the spring of 1933 an extensive thrift garden program was instituted and developed.

On May 31, 1933, a program for purchase and distribution of shoes and clothing was authorized as funds might be made available.

On August 1, 1933, State Emergency Relief Board regulations became effective requiring that all Federal relief funds be administered through public agencies, with the result that the centralized "Unit Control" system was made mandatory.

A personnel division was organized along with a standardization of salary scales, and job classifications were maintained for assistance to the counties in its selection of personnel.

On October 11, 1933, standard food-relief schedules were promulgated by the State Emergency Relief Board.

On October 29, 1933, the Surplus Food Products Division was formed to distribute food commodities obtained from the Federal Government.

During November, 1933, the Federal Government announced the formation of the Civil Works Administration. Eric H. Biddle was selected by the Federal Administration to act as Administrator for the State of Pennsylvania. We present elsewhere in this report a brief resume of the work performed by the Civil Works Administration and its effects upon the direct relief program.

On December 1, 1933, provision was made to allow medical home relief to include nursing and dental care.

Another Special Session of the Legislature was called on November 13, 1933, to provide sufficient additional unemployment relief funds. This session adjourned December 31, 1933, after passing Emergency Relief Appropriation Act No. 66, in the amount of $20,000,000.00 out of the anticipated net profits from operations of Pennsylvania Liquor Stores, to become effective April 1, 1934. As the profits of the Pennsylvania Liquor Stores fell below this estimate, allocations were not made from this appropriation.

On January 3, 1934, an educational work relief program was approved by the State Emergency Relief Board, to be supervised by the Department of Public Instruction. The idea of the program was two-fold, namely: first, to give employment to available unemployed teachers in need, and, secondly, to further the educational qualifications of desiring unemployed adults who are on relief rolls.

A program was sponsored by the Federal Government and approved at the March 15, 1934, meeting of the State Emergency Relief Board for the creation of part-time jobs for college students. Any college could make application for not more than 10% of its enrollment, and the earnings of the students were not to exceed $15.00 per month per student.

On March 31, 1934, the Civil Works Administration was suspended by the Federal Government and a Work Division was organized by the State Emergency Relief Board to continue the work program instituted by the Civil Works Administration. We present elsewhere in this report a resume of the administration of the Works Division.

On April 19, 1934, a resolution was passed by the State Emergency Relief Board approving the action of the Governor, Auditor General and State Treasurer setting up a plan of requisition and disbursement of the Federal Unemployment Relief Funds designated by the Governor to be used for Works Division projects.

CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHT OF COMMONWEALTH TO PROVIDE RELIEF

The first appropriation for unemployment relief was made by the Talbot Act, No. 7-E of the Special Session of 1931, and this appropriation of $10,000,000.00 to the Department of Welfare for allocation to poor districts, was limited to expenditure "for the purpose of providing food, clothing, fuel and shelter for residents who are without means of support." The same idea runs through every subsequent appropriation to the State Emergency Relief Board, until in Act No. 21-A, 1935, which appropriated $60,000,000.00 to this Board, we find in Section 3 provision for the expenditure of some of these moneys for "direct relief for the unemployed who are without means of support." The remainder is to be spent for work relief presumably, also to provide work for those unemployed who are without means of support, but this is not directly expressed in the act.

The legal theory under which these appropriations are made, in order to stand the test of constitutionality, was developed in accordance with the principles announced by the Supreme Court in Busser v. Snyder, 282 Pa. 440. In that case the court considered the Old Age Pension Act of 1923 which granted a pension to citizens over 70 years of age who had incomes of less than $365 a year, or property worth less than $3,000.00. The court pointed out that this act did not limit aid to the poor or indigent as that term was understood under our poor laws. The court recognized that there was a duty on the State to help those who were without means of support, but that the State could not enlarge this class in granting aid without offending Section 18, Article III of the Constitution prohibiting approprations to persons for charitable or benevolent purposes. It said, "the minute the historical definition of poor persons is broken through the act enters the field of forbidden legislation through Section 18, Article III, and falls as a poor law."

The Talbot Act came before the Supreme Court in Com. v. Liveright, 308 Pa. 35, and was sustained on this same point, that the State had authority to make appropriations for the support of the poor, and that such appropriations were not construed as charitable or benevolent appropriations. However, it is clear from these two cases that the Legislature cannot go beyond this point without offending the Constitution. In the Liveright case the court said this:—

"It is the duty of every citizen, particularly public officials * * * entrusted with furnishing this relief, to see that it is not given to those not entitled to receive it. * * * The purpose of the State's relief is to furnish maintenance to poor persons, including those who, through enforced unemployment, have no means of support, and not to those who have such means." (p. 78)

"Moreover, the persons who are handling the money can be compelled by the courts to see that it is properly administered as directed by law. Mandamus is a powerful remedy and the Attorney General may compel a reimbursement to the State Treasurer of moneys not properly spent." (p. 80)

Not every person without property or other means of support and without employment or unable to engage in employment falls within this class. On the other hand a person owning unencumbered real estate may find himself in this class. In the former cases there may be relatives liable to support the poor person. The poor laws make a husband, wife, children, mother, grandparents and grandchildren of a poor person liable for his support, if of sufficient ability; and this support can be enforced by court order. (Sec. 1012 of the General Poor Relief Act of 1925, May 14, P. L. 762). In the latter cases, the deduction that a person having real estate may come within the class, follows from the poor laws, that the real estate of a poor person shall be liable for the expenses of his support, maintenance and burial. incurred by any poor district, whether owned at the time such expenses were incurred or acquired thereafter; and procedure is provided whereby poor districts may recover the amounts expended. (Sec. 1000 supra.) In a Lancaster County case it was held that a person owning less than $300.00 of household goods and with no family using any such goods was indigent: Wendell v. Simpson, 11 Lanc. Bar 3.

Nor is a poor district or the Commonwealth liable to support those who do not have a settlement in the district or the State. A settlement is established generally by a person who comes bona fide to establish a permanent abode and continues to reside there for one whole year; but the settlement cannot be established at the end of the years if the person was a public charge when he arrived or becomes so during the year. In these latter cases his settlement remains in the place where he was formerly settled. Thus, out-of-State transients who are aided from public funds cannot gain a settlement here. In such cases a person has what is known as a quasi settlement and may be aided, but only until he can be removed to the place he came from: (1933, May 23, P. L. 966).

INCOME FROM SPECIAL TAXES

THE FOLLOWING TABLE reflects the INCOME from SPECIAL TAXES which were designed to provide funds for Unemployment Relief.

Act No. 52 of the 1933 Special Session appropriated $12,000,000.00 for Relief.

Act No. 53 provided only $9,867,809.90.

Subsequent appropriations aggregating $71,867,715.80 were made to meet Unemployment Relief Payments.

The 1935 Session created a special tax program intended to raise sufficient funds to meet the requirements of the Relief Program and to defray the deficit.

The sum of $21,724,179.44 accrued to March 31, 1936. In addition to this revenue, State Stores added approximately $8,700,000.00 to the requirement.

SINKING FUND REQUIREMENTS

The Biennial Period ending 1937 will be required to set aside the sum of $63,972,500.00 to meet interest and retire bonds falling due during this period. This gigantic sum is equal to 40 per cent of the total income credited to the General Fund for the two years ended May 31, 1935. In addition to this sum $12,722,000.00 will be required to retire Highway bonds and pay interest on bonds maturing at a later date. This last sum, however, will be provided by the Motor Fund. This for your information inasmuch as the Motor Fund has been frequently tapped to meet other General Fund expenditures. We quote these figures as being taken from the Governor's budget for the biennium 1935-1937.

EFFECT OF RELIEF EXPENDITURES UPON INDUSTRY AND TRADE

Your Committee desires to offer the following data for your information:

The crash of business during the years 1908 and 1909 worked a hardship upon the public similar to that of our recent depression. We have assembled statistics taken from records of the United States Census Bureau and from Bureau of Statistics, Department of Internal Affairs of Pennsylvania. We confine our date to the total volume of business done in Pennsylvania by productive industries as we feel this is more or less of a barometer indicating the financial position of the State. The low mark in volume of business for 1909 was $2,905,600,200.00. In 1914 the total volume of business in Pennsylvania reached the sum of $3,179,537,132.00, or an increase of $273,936,932.00. This recovery was normal and unassisted by emergency financing.

Following the recent depression the low mark in the volume of business in Pennsylvania in 1932 was $3,117,806,500.00. In 1934 the total volume of business reached the mark of $4,246,119,300.00 or a growth in two years of $1,128,312,800.00. The crash of 1908 and 1909 required five years to increase volume of business in the amount of $273,936,932.00, while in our present recovery two years reflected an increase of $1,128,312,800.00.

FINANCIAL BURDEN

The foregoing schedules tell a mute story of the gigantic burden imposed upon the State by reason of the cyclonic development of relief.

The net revenues to the General Fund for the biennial period ending May 31, 1933, was the sum of $178,420,120.01. For the period ending May 31, 1935, the net revenues to the General Fund were $157,193,848.79, a decrease in the revenues to the General Fund of $21,226,271.22.

We cite certain classes that produce revenue for the General Fund, namely: Licenses and fees for the period ended May 31, 1933, contributed 19.09% of all the money received and credited to the General Fund. For the period ended May 31, 1935, Licenses and Fees only contributed 11,093%, a decrease in this class alone of 7,997%. General taxes contributed 27,89% of the total receipts credited to General Fund for the biennium ended 1935, and only 11.441% for the period ended 1935, a decrease of 16.449%. The receipts from the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund were decreased 7.069% for the biennium ended, over the prior biennium period. For the biennium ended May 31, 1835, the Federal Government contributed 36.735% of the total revenues of the State of Pennsylvania. In addition to this contribution it was necessary to sell bonds, and this item alone represented 11.329% of the total income of the State.

The Department of Education, for the period ended May 31, 1933, shows expenditures of 23.74% of the total State expenditures. For the period ended May 31, 1935, only 11.165% was expended, a reduction of 12.575% in this important function of State Government.

The Department of Welfare for the period ended May 31, 1933, shows an expenditure of 9.81% of the total State expenditures, as compared with 4.953% in this department, concerned with the health and morals of the Commonwealth.

There has been much criticism both from State and civic sources regarding the neglect and hazardous conditions of our hospitals and penal institutions. When the use of available funds for unemployment relief are considered, the conditions as cited by the State and civic sources are easily explained.

Notwithstanding the decrease in revenues of $21,226,271.22 between the biennium ended 1933 and the biennium ended 1935, Unemployment Relief absorbed 43.399% of all moneys expended by State Government. The cost of relief to the State of Pennsylvania for thirty-three months, dating from the time of its inception, September 1, 1932 to May 31, 1935, is as follows:

From State appropriations	$75,974,752.93
From Federal grants	243,762,780.71

a total of $319,737,533.64, or an average cost per month of $9,689,016.17.

During the period under survey, the sum of $103,264,637.05 was paid directly to the Disbursing Officer of the S.E.R.B., to be disbursed by him for cash relief and works division. On June 1, 1935, the total balance available in all funds was $17,641,450.00. The distribution of this balance follows:

In the hands of the State Treasurer:
General Fund	$7,621,273.72
State Stores Account	177,088.94
Federal Unemployment Relief Fund	6,770,459.58
In the hands of the S.E.R.B. Disbursing Officer:
Federal Funds	3,022,627.76
State Funds	50,000.00
	$17,641,450.00

PROFITS FROM LIQUOR STORES

Anticipated profits of the State Liquor Stores did not reach original estimates. The session of 1934 made an appropriation of $40,000,000.00, which was reduced to $20,000,000.00 by the Governor to be paid from anticipated profits of the State Liquor Stores. We quote from the Auditor General's biennial report ended May 31, 1935:

Total receipts from State Stores	$62,075,419.85
Disbursements	60,208,655.88
Balance June 1, 1935	$1,866,763.97

Included in the disbursements was $5,600,000.00 for relief and $3,110,164.01 for Old Age Assistance and Blind Pensions. The total paid from State Stores Fund for relief purposes plus the accounting balance shown by the Auditor General's report would signify that the profits were approximately $10,500,000.00 instead of the $20,000,000.00 anticipated by the Governor.

The Special Session of 1934 made a deficiency appropriation of $14,400,000.00 to cover the shortage in anticipated profits of the State Stores.

BONDED INDEBTEDNESS OF STATE

The bonded indebtedness of the State of Pennsylvania as of May 31, 1933 was $87,286,320.26. The bonded indebtedness May 31, 1935 was increased to $152,783,320.26 an increase in the two-year period of $65,497,000.00. In October 1935, this indebtedness was increased another $50,000,000.00 in the form of short-term notes payable May 1, 1937. It will, therefore, be necessary in order to retire these issues and meet interest payments, to set aside $63,972,500.00 out of General Fund receipts during the 1935-1937 biennium to meet State obligations. This amount represents 40 percent of the net revenue to the General Fund for the two years ending May 31, 1935.

DISCUSSION OF ACCOUNTS

1. Expenditures for Clothing. For the period under survey the following amounts were expended for clothing:

State Funds	$1,391,250.00
Federal Funds	8,705,044.45
Total—	$10,096,294.45

Clothing consisted of all wearing apparel, together with sheets, blankets, bedding and toweling. It would appear that this item of over $10,000,000 was excessively high for clothing, when it is considered that organized charities and local welfare chests have provided these articles. From the average number of cases on relief, it appears that an excess of $30.00 per case was paid out for clothing. The issuance of these articles was at the discretion of the local welfare worker. Our survey disclosed that considerable dissatisfaction existed among the recipients. Claims were made that favoritism was shown in the issuance of these articles.

During the period of our survey in Area No. 7 for a two months' period of time, five employees at a salary of $1,277.43, prepared, handled and distributed 6,302 packages consisting of towels, pillow cases and sheets. The expense for automobiles was $220.55. The recorded mileage to make this distribution was 4,111 miles.

It cost on an average of 24¢ per package to make these deliveries. The total cost was approximately $1,500.00.

2. Veterans' Commission. From the General Fund the sum of $517,111,000.00 was allocated to the State Veterans' Commission for the relief of needy veterans. Veterans desiring assistance apply through their service officers of the local posts who in turn make application through committees, who pass on the worthiness of the case. In Philadelphia the American Legion headquarters appears to be the clearing house. In Harrisburg we have service officers, together with representatives of the Welfare Society pass upon the cases. Western Pennsylvania has the same procedure.

There arises a question as to why this particular group of clients should be severally set apart. There does not appear to be any distinction between an indigent veteran and any other private citizen. Your committee would advise the elimination of such class appropriation, inasmuch as the mechanics of the relief organization are such that veterans would receive the same consideration without going through a lot of red tape in unnecessary channels to secure assistance. The amount necessary to provide for indigent ex-service men is in excess of the appropriation figure.

These excess payments must necessarily be made from the relief fund and the above procedure only tends to complicate the methods of accounting.

3. Purchase of Eggs. The sum of $179,531.38 was expended for the purchase of eggs, This represented approximately 700,000 dozen of eggs. Most of these eggs were received from the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation, and distributed to the counties on the basis of the case load. We understand that the eggs purchased, were from the wholesale dealer to the retail merchant, from whom the recipient received them on a food order.

4. The Federal Surplus Food Commodities. Account for direct relief is $156,403.17, plus an administration cost of $8,680.50, or a total of $165,083.67. It is our understanding that this account includes the purchase and bagging of potatoes and the processing of cabbages.

5. An item of expenditure appears under the title Shoe Repair Shop, the amount expended being $24,958.35.

6, Bureau of Homeless and Transient. The grand total expended for this service was $3,301,412.07. From the reports of the S. E. R. B. we note that an average of 13,265 individuals were cared for daily. The ruling of the Transient Bureau prescribed that only inter-state travelers could be accommodated. However, we found in the course of our survey numerous instances wherein individuals registered under an alias and gave another State as their address so as to be admitted to comfortable shelters. The cost to quarter these individuals amounted approximately $12.50 per month or about $250.00 per individual for about twenty months.

On July 26, 1933, the Federal Relief Administrator issued a memorandum to all Governors and State Emergency Relief Administrators relative to the necessity of developing a program for the care of transients and homeless.

It suggests that in any local community there may be three groups of homeless persons or families:

1. Local homeless residents.
2. State homeless; more than 12 months in the State.
3. Transient homeless; less than 12 months in the State.

Groups one and two are provided relief from both Federal and State funds. Group three is provided relief from Federal funds.

Under a separate part of our report, we show a picture of the transient situation, being a result of an investigation by the Auditor General's Department.

7. Department of Public Instruction, Emergency Education, Work Relief Program. The following expenditures of $17,277.33 are reflected against this account, and summarized as follows:

Direct Relief	$126,455.62
Administration	46,821.71

We invite your attention particularly to the cost of administration, which is about 37% of the total amount expended. The purpose of this program was to employ otherwise unemployed teachers for the free instruction of a great variety of subjects, including English, Citizenship, Recreation, Parent Education, Etc. Monthly relief bulletins issued by the Department of Research and Statistics have devoted considerable space to this program.

8. Cattle Transportation, Handling, Feeding, Watering and Processing. To this account the amount of $1,125,841.01 was charged. The title of this program appears to be self-explanatory. Processed products were distributed to Pennsylvania relief cases similar to other types of Federal relief commodities. The expenditures charged against this account were credited to Direct Relief.

9. Extermination of Gypsy Moth. The amount charged to this program was $119,978.42 and was credited to Work Relief. The operation of this program was confined to Lackawanna and Luzerne Counties and was under the supervision of the State Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Plant Entomology. The project consisted of the cleaning up hibernating places of the moth

10. Labor—Indiantown Gap Military Reservation. The amount of $27,021.64 was spent for Work Relief for common labor in improving the military reservation. Supervision was made by the Department of Military Affairs.

11. Labor—Pymatuning Reservoir Project. The amount of $169,999.71 charged to Work Relief was expended on this program for common labor. These expenditures went direct to persons in urgent need of relief.

12. Salaries and Expenses—State Emergency Relief Board. This account shows an expenditure of $4,487,782.78, summarized as follows:

Work Relief	$100,930.95
Administration	4,386,851.83

The weekly payroll May 31, 1933 was $49,063.41, while the weekly payroll May 31, 1935 was $272,649.31.

We invite your attention to a schedule of this report which shows the increase of 1.0% in September 1932 to 8.9% in May 1935, being the cost of administration as compared with the total expenditures for relief.

13. Control of Japanese Beetle. The amount credited to this program was $7,051.79. This money was spent for inspection service in preventing spread of the beetle and was charged to Work Relief.

14. Federal—Work Relief Projects. The sum of $3,377,630.83 was spent for this program. The expenditures are summarized as follows:

Work Relief	$3,122,083.86
Administration	255,546.97

15. State Re-Employment Service. The amount of $473,885.37 was expended for this service, summarized as follows:

Work Relief	$443,506.59
Administration	30,378.78

The title of this program is self-explanatory.

16. Workmen's Compensation Insurance. This item shows an expenditure of $473,352.25 charged to Work Relief.

17. Loans to Farmers for Rehabilitation Purposes. In this account the amount of $139,889.95 was disbursed summarized as follows:

Work Relief	$97,889.95
Administration	42,000.00

It appears that the cost of administration for this program was approximately 43% to the total expended. The purpose of this program to aid farmers who were on relief by soliciting their requirements for crops and to lend them money to buy seeds and necessary farming equipment for which a judgment note was taken and recorded, repayment to be made by the farmer over a period of time, until the note was paid off. We have interviewed a number of people who have solicited and who have taken advantage of this service. We cite the following case as an example:

Case No. 2750. We found an individual who, with his wife, had been living on a farm consisting of 60 acres. The assessed valuation of this farm was $3,300.00, on which there was a mortgage of $3,500.00, The Rural Rehabilitation Corporation contacted this man in the fall of 1935 and arranged with him to advance $600.00 to be used for the purchase of the following: 1 pr. mules, 2 hogs, 1 beef, 1 cow, 25 pullets, $15.00 for lumber to repair the chicken house, 1 mower, 1 wagon, harness, fertilizer, food and seed wheat.

We might call your attention to the fact that this was about September 1935. This investment was intended to encourage farm production and the raising of wheat, while in the same neighborhood other farmers were being paid not to raise any wheat.

18, 19 and 20. The following expenditures were charged to Administration:

Salaries and expenses, Auditor General's Department	$14,999.98
Postage, Treasury Department ..	10.000.00
Salaries and expenses, Department of Health	4,794.68

21. Child Health Service. The amount of $20,580.08 was expended for this service and included free clinics and medical instruction for children.

22. Printing, Postage, Supplies, State Emergency Relief Board. This item charged to administration is in the amount of $7063.33.

23. Deporting Aliens to Their Native Lands. Amount charged to administration for this service was $205.09.

24. C. W. A. Purchase of Supplies, Equipment and Administration. The sum of $39,416.19 was charged against administration under this heading.

OTHER FORMS OF RELIEF

In addition to the payments for Relief, the following Social Security Classes have been provided for by the State—Mothers' Assistance, Old Age Pensions and Blind Pensions. Revenue to meet these payments came from additional taxation and profits of State Stores.

SUMMARY OF PAYMENTS

September 1, 1932 to May 31, 1935

Mothers' Assistance	$5,238,432.03
Administration	67,910.59
(NOTE: The Counties in which recipients reside, pay an equal amount, hence the amount would be doubled.)
Old Age Pension	$1,964,934.25
Administration	10,000.00
Blind Payments	1,073,414.93
Administration	61,814.78
TOTAL	$8,416,506.63

Mothers' Assistance. This form of relief extends to 8,513 families, having a monthly payment as of February 1936, in the amount of $149,233.41. At this period there are 59 counties represented in the total.

Old Age Assistance. This form of relief has gained great popularity. For the month of February, 1936, there were 39,520 individuals participating. The amount paid to these individuals during February, 1936, was $840,656.41.

Blind Pensions. For the month of February, 1936, there were 6,243 persons drawing pensions. The amount of the February payments was $186,824.35. Sixty-seven (67) counties are represented in this total. We are informed that a great majority of the recipients of this class of relief are in institutions. A number of these recipients are in the Polk State School, a school for mental defectives. Act No. 220 of the 1935 session P. L. 621 recites in part—"every blind person who is not at the date of application an inmate of any prison, jail, insane asylum or any other public reform or correctional institution, shall be entitled to receive from the Commonwealth a pension of $30.00 per month."

RESTITUTIONS

In the following table we show the amounts that have been collected and earmarked on the books of the S. E. R. B., as "restitutions." The period covered is June 24, 1935 to March 28, 1936. Total recovered $234,528.49. Outstanding active accounts receivable $586,524.98.

The institution of this department appears to be concurrent with the activities of your Committee. The amounts recovered are sums fraudulently received by clients. In most cases the recoveries were made from clients who had work in private industry and had not reported their earnings, while they were on relief or those who had bank accounts or concealed assets. The S. E. R. B. is making a strenuous effort to apprehend all such cases of fraud.

It would appear to your Committee that on the basis of recoveries for eight months that additional funds could be recovered, considering the many reported cases of chiseling and fraud which were uncovered by other investigations. This statement is predicated upon newspaper items, of May 1, 1935, in which the amount of relief chiseling is estimated at $2,000,000.00.

DIRECT RELIEF EXPENDITURES TABULATED BY COUNTIES

We exhibit the following comparative table showing Direct Relief expenditures per case, by counties, at the following periods indicated: October, 1933, October, 1934, October, 1935.

We commit this interesting study to you and beg to offer the following scale of increase. The average State total expenditure, per case, in October, 1933, was $17.31; October, 1934, $26.06; October, 1935, $34.52, an increase of 100% from 1933 to 1935 in the average grant per case.

SURVEY REVEALS POLITICS IN RELIEF

During the period of our survey we have frequently observed the dictating influence of politics both in the direct relief system as well as other auxiliary relief programs. The resoluton under which this Committee functions specifically sets forth—"to investigate such other facts and circumstances as may be deemed necessary and advisable to enable the General Assembly to act with some degree of certainty and establish an impartial, unpolitical, unwasteful and business system of aiding those of our unfortunates in need."

Your Committee considered the injection of politics into the relief system as a lamentable condition. We have evidence that many of the State's unfortunates have been intimidated and compelled to register their political affiliations with the administration now in control and our files disclose evidence that those who refuse to do so were either discharged from the rolls or from the projects on which they were employed. We cite certain instances taken from our files:

An employe in a relief office was requested to contribute $27.00 to the Democratic Campaign Committee. Upon failure to respond to this request a letter was written by the Chairman of the County Democratic Committee in which he states in part:

"I am very much surprised that you have not responded to our previous letter requesting your contribution in the amount of $27.00, as I was sure that you appreciated your position to such an extent that you would make this contribution willingly and promptly. I must, however, now advise that unless your contribution in the above amount is received promptly, it will be necessary to place your name on the list of those who will not be given consideration for any other appointment after the termination of emergency relief work."

We have evidence in our files that applicants for jobs must have the backing of party leaders or else they will not be considered. We have evidence that when requests are made from the relief rolls of employables where, for instance 50 men are required, a list of 100 will be submitted to the county leader, and he will blue pencil the preferred 50 which are known to be loyal supporters.

The Administration, in order to raise campaign funds, has resorted to a novel procedure. Dinners are held commemorating the memory of ancestral Presidents. In the promotion of those dinners the tickets are being sold among the laborers on the relief programs. These laborers earn a mere pittance. Their earnings are measured according to the budgetary requirements prescribed by the S.E.R.B. and Washington, predicated upon the actual requirements necessary for bare maintenance.

We have evidence in our files wherein these unfortunates have been compelled to take from their meagre earnings and purchase these tickets. If they refused, they jeopardize their jobs. We have statements in our files wherein men supporting families and barely existing on their earnings were dismissed because they could not afford to buy these tickets.

We have evidence in our files wherein employees of the local WPA offices have gone to the County Commissioners' office and scrutinized the registration rolls to determine the political affiliation of relief program employees.

We have evidence in our files wherein relief program employees, during the general election campaign of November 1935, were threatened with loss of their jobs unless they voted a ticket favorable to the administration.

Subscriptions to Publications. Our investigation disclosed that employees engaged on works projects, were solicited for a publication intended to promote politics. These employees were mailed a group of order blanks and they were advised that "an account" had been set up in their name, and that upon sale of these subscriptions credit would be applied accordingly. The request contained in the letter was more of a command.

We offer herewith only one statement in corroboration of the foregoing facts:

Harrisburg, Pennsylvania,
April 8, 1936

To Whom It May Concern:

I, ... residing in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, at....., do hereby make the following statement, without fear or favor or promise of reward.

I had been employed by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for about seven years until September 30, 1935, when I was dismissed.

During the year 1935 I changed my registration from Republican to Democrat at the request of a Dauphin County Democratic Committeeman, so that I might be able to hold my job, Following my dismissal from the State, I made application to the Unemployment Bureau at 114 Walnut Street, Harrisburg. I was appointed to a position as a labor foreman on October 21, 1935. This appointment was received through the efforts of a Democratic County Committeeman.

During the month of January 1936, I was approached by a Department of Highways official and was handed a ticket for the Jackson Day Dinner, which was to cost $5.00. My weekly earnings average about $17.50, out of which I must support my wife, three children and an old lady 72 years of age. I replied to the Highway official that I could not afford to spend $5.00 for this ticket. I also stated that if the purchase of this ticket was compulsory it would be necessary for me to pay it off on the installment plan or at such times as I could spare the money. Accordingly, the ticket was left with me and on March 9th, I sent $1.00 to . This $1.00 was sent with the timekeeper on the job. I did not use the ticket, and I received a note from Mr. Graham which reads as follows:

> "I am returning herewith the $1.00 you sent on account of Jackson Day Dinner. It appears to me you have had sufficient time to meet this obligation in full. Give this your immediate attention.
> 3-9-36"

This memorandum was written on Form No. 755, a Department of Highways memorandum and reference sheet.

During the months of March I was approached and asked to buy a ticket for the Jefferson Day dinner. I had been accosted almost daily with reference to the purchasing of this ticket and each time I have replied that I positively could not afford to buy one of those tickets. On the evening of April 7th my boss on the W. P. A. project called at my house and asked what I was going to do about the ticket. I repeated again I had already told them I could not afford to buy the ticket and he replied "Well, you know what my orders are."

I have heard the men in my unit being solicited similarly to myself. These men have been informed that if they think anything of their jobs they better buy the tickets. It had been indicated that unless we patronize these ticket salesmen it might cost us our jobs. These statements were made by those soliciting the sale of the tickets.

The foregoing facts are true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

ADMINISTRATION

(a) ORGANIZATION. Proper functioning of the administrative force is greatly hampered by the constant changing of procedure emanating from Washington. In the course of our investigation we determined that by the time the force was familiar with the ruling another would be received replacing the one put into effect. We have instances wherein procedures have been voided and a replacement received before the voided one had been put into effect. The continual changing of procedure has worked against the efficiency of the office personnel, together with the visitors, inasmuch as time was required in keeping up to date with current procedure that should have been applied to the practical work in hand. In addition to this unstabilized method of procedure employes are constantly being shifted from one position to another, and new employes are replacing the older and experienced ones. Details of this statement will appear in another part of our report.

This Committee has experienced great difficulty in securing information from the Relief Board, not from their apparent unwillingness to cooperate, but due to the stress of work and continual change of regulations. In certain instances, we were compelled to wait five weeks for information requested, which should have been available within a very short time.

The administrative staff January 1st, consists of the following:

The foregoing schedule showing the administrative personnel is respectfully referred for your consideration. We would direct your attention to the numerous officers and positions paying salaries in the higher brackets. The total annual payroll is approximately $170,000.00 for this administrative group. The lowest paid officer receives approximately twice as much as the field worker or investigator, who determines to a large degree the worthiness of relief cases.

Our survey disclosed that visitors or investigators receive salaries of between $80.00 and $90.00 per month for this important work.

As a result of our public hearings, and our survey, it has been brought out that one of the major weaknesses of the system was the incompetent visitors. Investigators having experience and training are not available at the low salaries paid by the S. E. R. B. for this kind of work. It is our understanding that one of the prerequisites to become a visitor or investigator is that a theoretical qualification is required and a certain examination must be passed. It appears that college graduates in many cases are able to pass this test, but this does not necessarily hold that such persons are adapted to investigation or visitation work.

ELIGIBILITY FOR UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF

The rules for determining eligibility for unemployment direct relief are:

a. A family household must contain one or more persons sixteen years of age or over, working or seeking work.

b. Such persons must present identification cards showing registration at the employment agency.

Furthermore, a family is not eligible for unemployment direct relief if the only person sixteen years of age or over in the household is:

a. Needed in the home to care for minor children.

b. Known to be physically or mentally incapable of receiving or holding employment.

c. A person eligible for old age assistance and on waiting list or granted old age assistance and awaiting his check.

d. A person eligible for blind pension, on the waiting list, or granted a pension and awaiting his check.

TIME STUDY OF NEW APPLICATIONS AND RE-APPLICATIONS FOR RELIEF

A study of five new applications and five re-applications taken at random from the area, discloses that eleven and four-fifths (11-4/5) days elapse between date of application and actual grant of relief.

CLERICAL DETAILS RETARD INVESTIGATION OF CASES

Due to the pressure of details in clerical work, it is possible for the investigating staff to spend only every other day actually contracting relief applicants or those already on relief. Visitors or investigators find it necessary to devote one-half of their time to taking care of details writing these histories and studying rules, regulations and new precedures.

Your Committee shows the following exhibit taken from a survey of one county:

According to information given by the 223 cases contacted during the investigations, the following analysis is made of a number of cases claiming not to have had a call in nearer than one (1) month:

Two months	37
Three months	6
Four Months	9

OVERLY ORGANIZED S. E. R. B. SYSTEM

The S. E. R. B. appears to be overly organized and systematized to a degree which renders their system so complex as to present understanding of its operations only to those who have set up the system. Past experience teaches that the more complex a system is, greater opportunity for duplications, irregularities and dishonest practices are afforded for manipulation, because the system in its design prevents a ready apprehension of such irregularities and necessitates lengthy audits and investigations to determine accurate record.

The following outline reflects the organization of the Board:

AUXILIARY AGENCIES

Other agencies auxiliary to or collating with the relief system during the period investigated are as follows:

CIVIL WORKS ADMINISTRATION, Inaugurated November 15, 1933 and closed March 31, 1934. The State Civil Works Administration was organized and administered independent of but closely coordinated with the State Emergency Relief Administration. However, in order to facilitate the initial organization of the C. W. A. program in Pennsylvania, several of the people in key positions with the State Emergency Relief Administration were appointed as department heads in the C. W. A. organization, while continuing to function as heads of the respective departments in the relief administration. The relief and the C. W. A. organizations were housed in separate buildings and were administered as two separate organizations.

In anticipation of increased employment in industry and a possible liberalization of the public works program, the State Relief Administration had, in September, 1933, provided for the registration of all employable persons on relief rolls at the offices of the State and Federal employment services. From the outset, all referrals for placement, whether from the relief rolls or from the rolls of the self-sustaining unemployed, were made by the State and Federal employment services. It was not required that persons employed be receiving unemployment relief. In the actual practice, however, approximately one-third of those employed were taken from relief rolls. Payment was made by the United States Treasury through agents appointed in each State.

This program failed in its purpose and accordingly the WORKS DIVISION PROGRAM was inaugurated, directly under the S. E. R. B., April 1, 1934, for the purpose of providing employment which would yield incomes equivalent to the relief needs of the persons employed. Since many of the Civil Works Administration projects were unfinished and a heavy economic loss was thereby threatened, projects were approved to complete the work started under Civil Works Administration as fast as appraisal could determine their value. Limited funds available for conducting the program and desire to complete the work started under the C. W. A. led the Pennsylvania Relief Administration to adopt the policy of act approving projects for new work.

This program was administered by the State Relief Administration. Persons employed were relief employables wit hthe exception of supervisory personnel. This exception was extended to include a limited number of skilled workers on projects for which qualified workers were not available among those receiving relief in the township or borough where the project was located. All assignments were made by the State and National Employment Offices. Payment for Work Division employment was made by the Relief Administration.

Also concurrent with Works Division program, the Local Works Division program was inaugurated. This program was administered by the relief administration and was the same as the Work Division program except that the amount of employment provided and the wages paid were related to the budgeted relief needs of the applicant and his dependents. Under this program a worker received a regular, uniform and continuous weekly payment to meet his family's budgetary deficiency. When the operation of projects was unavoidably interrupted by weather or other circumstances, the weekly payment to each assigned worker whose performance was satisfactory was made week after week for the period the worker was assigned.

This practice has cost the taxpayer $4,826,788.44. Each worker was assigned to work each four-week period the number of hours which would be required to earn his relief needs at the rate of pay which the worker was to receive. To provide continuous operation of projects, workers were assigned work units of 18 hours each. Thus a person might be assigned during any four-week period a fraction of 18 hours in excess of the number of hours required to meet his budgetary deficiency. If the worker was able to work the entire time assigned and the number of hours assigned were in excess of his budgetary deficiency requirements he was paid additional amount earned at the end of each four-week period.

To summarize:—The primary distinction between the Work Division and the L. W. D. program was that the former provided a flat amount of thirty (30) hours per week employment for relief persons assigned, whereas the latter provided a varying amount of employment depending upon the worker's needs. Workers under the L. W. D. worked out the units to which they were assigned in accordance with the schedule of operation worked out for the project. In many cases they earned their entire budgetary deficiency in one week out of four; their budgetary deficiency payments, however, was spread over the entire four-week period just as would be the case if the persons were receiving direct relief.

Civilian Conservation Corps, which was intended to provide employment for the youth of the nation, is administered directly by Washington. The only part that the Relief Administration has played in this program has been in connection with the varous enrollment in the C. C. C. camps. At various times the Relief Administration was requested to compile lists of eligible youths receiving unemployment relief. From these lists eligible youths were enrolled directly by the Federal C. C. C. Administration. The Relief Administration merely acted as a cooperating agency. This program required that enrollees send a specified portion of each month's pay to their families. This pay was sufficient in many cases to remove the youth's family from direct relief. In all other cases it was considered as income and the direct relief grant to the youth's family was reduced accordingly.

Next followed the PUBLIC WORKS ADMINISTRATION. This agency was intended to relieve the Relief burden. This program has never been directly connected with the Relief Administration in any way.

Following this, the WORKS PROGRESS ADMINIS-

TRATION was initiated. This program has been organized entirely independently of the Relief Administration. The Relief Administration is vitally affected by the W. P. A. program, in numerous ways, however. In the first place, 90% of the persons employed on W. P. A. must have been certified as eligible for employment by the Relief Administration. In this connection, all employables receiving unemployment relief were listed on certification forms which were transmitted to the State and National Employment Offices and to the State W. P. A. All employables receiving relief were required to register at the employment offices. The Relief Administration notified both the W. P. A. and the employment offices of all cases closed and opened and reopened. Employables in new cases coming on relief are certified and required to register.

In the second place, prior to November 23, 1935, direct relief was continued until the first pay was received. On that date this practice was modified so that cases were automatically closed twenty-one days after assignment whether they had received their first pay or not. In cases where payrolls were delayed beyond twenty-one days the Relief Administration extended direct relief when requested to do so by the W. P. A. to prevent suffering among cases involved in delayed payrolls.

DUPLICATION OF COSTS

In the requirement for W. P. A. work that "persons must be on the relief rolls before employment will be given," our investigation has disclosed that applicants for work, not necessarily indigent persons and not on the relief rolls, nor requiring relief, were required to register and receive relief orders and then were finally taken over to the W. P. A. projects. Employables transferred from direct relief to W. P. A. projects received relief orders concurrent with the time they worked on W. P. A., because the W. P. A. were unable to issue pay checks, and at the request of the W. P. A. to the S. E. R. B. the relief service was continued. This duplication has cost the Commonwealth an estimated sum of $10,000,000.00.

The average monthly cost of relief over the thirty-three months investigated, aggregated approximately $10,000,000.00 for all purposes; therefore, this overpayment of about $10,000,000.00 represents a sum sufficient to provide the direct relief needs of the State of Pennsylvania for one month.

The W. P. A. made no effort to deduct this duplicate payment from the pay check of the worker, and no effort was made to collect back or to restore this extra money paid out by the Relief Board. Persons fortunate enough to be so favored have been a double cost to the taxpayer because his grant from the S. E. R. B. has been based on his Budget Deficiency. His W. P. A. wages are based on an occupational scale set up by the W P. A., which, in many cases, are over and above the Budget Deficiency grant by the S. E. R. B., therefore, when they receive the grant from the S. E. R. B. and the W. P. A., the increase received from the W. P. A. over and above their Budget Deficiency shows that it has cost the taxpayer more than 100% to maintain the same individual on relief during this period.

The S. E. R. B. has treated the W. P. A. as private industry in cases where the wage scale of the W. P. A. was less than the Budget Deficiency grant under the S. E. R. B. The client was reimbursed by the S. E. R. B. for deficiency. In cases where a client was employed by private industry and also on relief, the same policy was pursued, and in cases where a client's earnings in private industry exceeded his Budget Deficiency, and if this client was on relief at the same time and did not report his excess earnings, he was summarily dropped from the relief rolls and caused to make restitution.

While theoretically the Relief Administration is connected with the W. P. A. program only with respect to certification of relief employables to the employment office, actually a tremendous amount of administrative work has been involved in cooperating with the W. P. A.

COUNTY POOR BOARDS. The County Poor Boards look after the indigent, those considered unemployables. They have no direct relationship with the S. E. R. B. in the local districts except they check the lists of recipients on relief against those that have made requests from them.

The General Assembly enacted certain laws providing for social security for the following classes:

MOTHERS' ASSISTANCE

The average monthly payments for this class are $158,740.36. In addition to this sum, administration costs amount to $2057.89. The counties pay a like amount so that in this class alone over $300,000.00 per month is being paid.

OLD AGE ASSISTANCE

Each month the average cost of this class amounts to $163,744.52, and the administration cost is $1395.50.

BLIND PENSIONS

The average monthly amount of $89,451.25 is paid to this class and in addition it costs for administration $4589.06. The total monthly payments for these three classes of social security assistance amounts to $411,936.13, plus $8042.45 for administration, per month.

DIRECT RELIEF

Your Committee has endeavored to conduct an impartial investigation, having uppermost in mind the purpose or intent of relief, and endeavoring to supply you with information regarding those who received relief and were unworthy. We cite several cases from our files.

While our survey extended State-wide, and included 21 counties and approximately 500 individual contacts, we have determined that the nature of the irregularities and fraud is prevalent equally in all counties. There appears to be a questionable amount of relief recipients in all counties.

AUTOMOBILES

Analyzing 834 automobile questionnaires returned by relief recipients, it was noted that 164 admitted ownership of cars and 1935 license, 3 with a truck and passenger car each licensed, one with two cars licensed and four motorcycles, indicating that about one out of every five families on relief reporting to that time, own and drive cars.

In addition, of the 223 cases investigated by your Committee employes, 65 admitted ownership of cars, or one car to about every 3.4 families within this group.

HOME OWNERS ON RELIEF

Of the 225 cases which were investigated, 60 were home owners, of which 42 have mortgages on these homes. Eighteen own homes which are unencumbered.

One case owned building lots which are unencumbered. Another case had judgment against property.

At the time of this report, 60 days of this duplication has been thoroughly checked which disclosed an amount of $475.00 received by this individual for wages and relief. The investigation on this case has not as yet been completed.
6091	This individual, during the period in which he was receiving relief, at the same time received in dividends in a closed bank the amount of $3119.55.

POOR BOARDS AND S. E. R. B. DUPLICATE PAYMENTS. We have evidence in our files wherein local boards under the S. E. R. B. have continued grants to individuals who were at the same time recipients of relief through County Poor Boards. This duplication was continued notwithstanding information relayed by the Poor Board to the S. E. R. B. officials.

Case No. 12672-16. This individual was a regular recipient of relief, receiving relief orders weekly. Investigator disclosed the fact that this recipient held stock in Penn Central Light and Power Company and received dividends regularly issued by the company. Photostatic reference in our files.

Case No. 6091-16. This case was a regular recipient of relief and had considerable funds in a closed bank. Your investigator disclosed that he received two dividends totaling $3119.55. These dividends were received while he was drawing relief.

We have in our files affidavits from five individuals who were employed by persons associated with the administration of relief in the early days of the program to do personal work for him on a farm, and who received as their compensation, relief orders. We have evidence of further abuse and misuse of relief orders by others closely associated with the administration of relief wherein persons not entitled to relief had their grocery bills paid by relief orders. These irregularities were committed by apparently outstanding citizens of the community.

A brick company in western Pennsylvania manipulated the relief orders as an offset against back wages, which employes had earned. We have affidavits in our files stating further that men having wages due them from the brick company were given relief and other concessions so that they would not press their claims against the brick company. Certain officials of the brick company were associated with the administration of relief.

Case Number 7474-16
Case Number 7479-16
Case Number 14077-16

These three cases have been regularly employed in a coal mine and earned fairly good wages sufficient to support their families. When relief came along they picked up their tools and walked out. The operator of the mine stated he had offered these men work, but they flatly refused to return to their jobs, as they preferred to be on relief. These three cases were investigated by a district supervisor of the S. E. R. B. and also by your investigator, and the facts herewith set forth are true.

We herewith exhibit copies of two affidavits contained in our files which are self-explanatory, in regard to the distribution of fuel in this particular area:

....., whose post office address is ....., Pennsylvania, came personally before me the subscriber, a Notary Public, in and for said County, after being duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that during the winter of 1934 and 1935 the delivery of coal to recipients of relief was under what was termed as a contract system. On or about this time the individual orders for coal were sent to the recipients who would then give the order to a local dealer.

I, as a local dealer, received a number of these orders for the delivery of coal. I delivered the coal to a number of these places where the coal houses were still filled with coal that had been furnished during the time the coal was let on contract by the county board.

To the best of my knowledge, the recipients of relief coal received at least two tons of coal per month regardless of whether or not the recipients needed the coal, under the contract system. And further saith not.

FEDERAL RELIEF ADMINISTRATION URGES CARE OF TRANSIENTS

On July 26, 1933, the Federal Relief Administrators issued a memorandum to all Governors and State Emergency Relief Administrators relative to the necessity of developing a program for the care of transients and homeless.

It suggests that in any local community there may be three groups of homeless persons or families:

1. Local homeless resident.
2. State homeless; more than 12 months in the State.
3. Transient homeless, less than 12 months in the State.

Groups one and two are provided relief from both Federal and State Funds. Group three is provided relief from Federal Funds.

REPORT OF TRANSIENT CAMP AT MOUNT GRETNA

(This report used by permission of Honorable Frank E. Baldwin, Auditor General.)

June 28, 1934.

Honorable Frank E. Baldwin,
Auditor General,
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Dear Sir:

Pursuant to your request, an investigation was made of the accounts and affairs of the Transient Camp at Mt. Gretna, and the report is herewith submitted.

This investigation was conducted by J. R. Heilman, M. O. Tiffany and H. O. Numbers.

Supporting data and detail is on file and available.

Trusting your request has been served, I am

Yours truly,

GEORGE R. MATHERS

FOREWORD

Pursuant to a request of the Auditor General, and investigation was made of the transient camp at Mt. Gretna. During the course of this investigation it was necessary to inspect records and question officials of the Transient Bureau, as well as the Purchasing Department of the S. E. R. B.

The period covered in this investigation was from October 23, 1933 to March 31, 1934, a total of 160 days.

Our report sets forth the history of Transient relief and personnel, findings, responsibility, and certain suggestions for the improvement of this service.

The investigation disclosed that traffic in merchandise between clients of the camp and others was conducted with the community adjacent to the camp. Search warrants were issued and merchandise approximating $400.00 in value was recovered.

This investigation has had a marked moral effect, both on the camp and the community.

There were no records with any degree of reliability to serve us in this investigation.

The causes for the conditions were lack of cooperation, indifference and incompetency.

HISTORY AND ORGANIZATION

HISTORY

The Federal Emergency Relief Act was created in 1933. Subsequent rules and regulations No. 3, as of July 11, 1933, provide that "There will be set up in the Federal Emergency Relief Administration a Department of Transients which will cooperate with the State Emergency Relief Administration in establishing permanent policies and standards of service to transients;" also, "Programs and Projects for the care of transients shall be approved by, and be under the direction and supervision of the State Emergency Relief Administration. A description of such plans and projects, including the number of transients to be cared for, the program contemplated, and the probable cost of such program, shall be submitted by the State Emergency Relief Administration to the Federal Emergency Relief Administration upon request for Federal funds." Transients may be provided for under either direct relief or through work relief. Emphasis should be placed upon the prevention of transiency by adequate programs of work, of relief, and of morale maintenance in all communities, in order to prevent the continued drift of population.

The State Legislature under Act No. 51, 1932, created the State Emergency Relief Board and vested in the Governor full authority. Under Section 3 of this Act, the following authority is vested in the Governor, "In applying said funds for the purposes to which dedicated by the Act of Congress, the Governor is authorized to use the facilities and personnel of any State Department and agencies of the State Government."

Upon the request of the Federal Emergency Relief Administrator for the name or names of individuals qualified to supervise transient relief, Mr. Biddle stated that he recommended Mr. Lawrence Solly of Philadelphia, who was connected with the Travelers' Aid Society, as a man possessing the required qualifications. He was acceptable to the Administrator and accordingly was employed under resolution of the S. E. R. B. dated July 26, 1933, at a salary of $3600.00 per annum, effective August 1, 1933. Mr. Solly functioned until January 31, 1934, at which time he resigned and Mr. Charles Alspach became his successor.

Mr. Alspach was appointed to fill this vacancy under resolution of the S. E. R. B. dated February 28, 1934, at a salary of $4,800.00 per annum, effective February 5, 1934, for a period of three months, and to be paid out of Federal transient funds.

Mr. Solly recommended the employment of William M. Raiguel of Philadelphia as an organizer to assist in the organization and setting up of transient camps. His appointment was confirmed by the S. E. R. B., effective September 27, 1933. Mr. Raiguel served without pay as a volunteer worker from September 27, 1933 to October 14, 1933. Mr. Raiguel went on salary at $2100.00 per annum. Under date of October 25, 1933, in the minutes of the S. E. R. B. the following resolution passed: "That the last resolution on page 12 of the minutes of the meeting of this Board held October 4, 1933, which reads, "William M. Raiguel, Philadelphia, Pa., volunteer worker, effective September 27, 1933" be stricken from the record."

Mr. James L. Arthur of Philadelphia was employed at the transient camp by Mr. Solly. Mr. Arthur came to the camp October 30, 1933, at a salary of $840.00 per year. Mr. Arthur was to have full charge of the accounting system.

Mr. Hilliard Hazsenkamp of Philadelphia was employed October 26, 1933, at an annual salary of $2,400.00. Mr. Hazsenkamp was employed as an accountant to set up procedure and controls.

Upon the recommendation of General David J. Davis, Mr. Esllworth Kelly was employed by Mr. Solly at a salary of $1,800.00 per year, effective October 1, 1933. Mr. Kelly was employed to take charge of the camp at Mt. Gretna.

RECORDS

Upon the institution of the camp, we are advised by Mr. Hazsenkamp and Mr. Varnadore of the Purchasing Department of the S. E. R. B. that proper accounting records were supplied the camp and that adequate instructions were given for the operation of these records. Our investigation disclosed that the records were so poorly kept that they were worthless for the purpose of our investigation.

GENERAL CONDITIONS

During the period of the operation of this camp from October 23, 1933, to March 31, 1934, order and discipline were reduced to a minimum. The morale of the camp was low and it appeared that the clients ruled the camp. During this period Mr. Kelly had placed in responsible and accountable positions transients from the camp.

The clothing store house was given over to a client by the name of Phillips. Phillips registered at the camp as Albert Phillips. The State Police have identified this man as Albert L. Sommers, who was arrested July 10, 1930, in Port Arthur, Texas; also as Phillip L. Sommers, arrested August 11, 1930, in Shreveport, Louisiana. The crimes were, according to Phillips' own statement, felony in connection with a bad check and desertion from the United States Army. Mr. Kelly vested much confidence in Phillips, as evidenced by a letter of recommendation under Exhibit "A" of this report.

A form of receipt for issues was used at the camp whereby upon admittance the client was entitled to receive certain articles of clothing, toilet articles, et cetera. A common practice was to have the client sign this form for a full complement of issue, regardless of the quantities he received. For example: If a client received only a shirt and a pair of shoes he signed for the entire complement which Mr. Phillips had marked up in quantities of 50 to 100 in advance. A copy of this form is shown under Exhibit "B," which had been completed by Mr. Phillips and recovered by us during our investigation.

The handling of food supplies was promiscuous and without control. Walter B. Hassel was listed as the mess officer. His duties comprised "looking after the kitchens and issuing the food."

The method of issue was as follows: Hassel would canvass the kitchens in the morning and ascertain their requirements based on their needs for the following day. Instead of issuing upon actual requirements based upon the number of men to be fed, he would issue to each kitchen one case of butter, one case of milk, 100 pounds of coffee, and other commodities in proportion, such as goods that came in cans. By this system of issuance, it was possible to steal and trade the surplus requirements for each day, as the cooks were custodians of the food. Apparently there was nothing done to check this practice. We found that at no time were issues based upon requirements.

There was an absence of discipline and regulations within the camp. Transients trafficked in liquor. There were drunken brawls, and the community was unsafe for women and children.

Upon the opening of this camp, Major Kelly in an address before the Exchange Club in the City of Lebanon, made a statement warning women and children to keep off the streets and roads after sun down. Following this statement, the State Constabulary visited the camp with their finger print apparatus and cameras and endeavored to finger print and photograph these men, with the thought of apprehending any criminals that might be hiding from justice, but Major Kelly refused this service, even to the extent of having group photographs taken.

It was common knowledge throughout the entire camp that the stealing of clothing and food supplies by the transients was engaged in. This report to the camp commandant failed to receive any consideration and no attempt was made to check this nefarious practice.

Orders from Major Kelly decreed that certain vendors should be given preference in the matter of purchases for the camp, according to statements received by us from employes.

It is alleged that the camp had no scales and nothing was weighed in, and only the vendors' bill was accepted without verification of weights or quantities. This was especially true in the case of the firm of D. M. Flory and Sons of Lawn, who supplied much of the meats used at the camp. We found that a platform scales had been issued at the opening of camp.

Staple articles were purchased by the Purchasing Department of the S. E. R. B. This Department bought upon the requisition of the camp. They at no time endeavored to ascertain the requirements of the camp. We note several instances wherein the purchases were indiscreet. The camp had requisitioned 100 pounds of baking powder and received 1500 pounds. The average consumption of coffee was about 500 pounds per month. During the month of February, 5700 pounds were shipped at the instance of the Purchasing Department of the S. E. R. B. Enough eggs were charged to the camp to provide 452 eggs each day that the camp was operated. These eggs were in addition to all the meats, turkeys, chickens, fish, oysters, cheese, et cetera, that were charged to the camp. It would have been physically impossible to consume this enormous quantity of eggs, and in extenuation of our statement we show the following schedule of the average number of men per day in camp:

October, 1933	15
November, 1933	83
December, 1933	216
January, 1934	374
February, 1934	475
March, 1934	459

The summary is at variance with the figures furnished by Mr. Kelly to the Transient Bureau Office and which are herewith shown for the same period:

October, 1933	0
November, 1933	132
December, 1933	315
January, 1934	578
February, 1934	648
March, 1934	694

The figures we have shown as being more or less accurate were taken from the morning reports which were maintained to a fair degree of correctness.

A canteen was operated in connection with this camp, the rule being that each transient was entitled to a credit card having a value of $3.00 per month, expendible at the rate of ten cents ($0.10) a day in a thirty-day month, or proportionately higher or lower depending upon the number of days in the month. Daily, following the noon meal, the canteen was thrown open and the clients were lined up for their issue. The issues from the canteen stores were made by "trusty clients." It was understood that no client was to be given greater credit than the amount which had accrued at the time he made his purchase. However, we note a purchase of 303 watches at a cost of $1.16 per watch. These watches were distributed among the clients, and they were supposed to pay for them on their canteen credit cards. From information received and records which we have found, we believe that these watches were not earned on the canteen cards.

There was a ruling whereby salaried employes would pay cash for their canteen purchases. These purchases were made on a credit plan and settlement was usually made on pay day. Mr. Arthur, who was in charge of the canteen, kept no records and told the men to "let your conscience be your guide," when they came to make settlement of their account.

This canteen has cost approximately $4500.00 to operate for 160 days. Details on schedule "1." These canteen supplies were loosely kept and loosely guarded, which is evidenced by the fact of the recovery, through search warrants, executed at the instance of the State Police, of cigarettes, tobacco and other canteen supplies.

During the course of our investigation, the Transient Bureau officials presented us with a plan to pay the transients cash instead of a canteen credit card. We were asked for our opinion as to this plan. Our suggestion was, "That to inaugurate such a plan would be a vicibus practice, inasmuch as most of the canteen supplies were traded or exchanged for liquor, and to give these men cash in hand without earning it would increase intoxication and encourage the bootleggers."

Officers and employes used their personal cars in the transaction of transient camp business. They received mileage at the established State rate of five cents ($0.05) per mile, and in addition to this regular compensation they used the gasoline and oil from the transient camp for their personal cars.

Officers admitted giving food stuff to residents of the community to repay certain kindnesses and obligations. Electric light was furnished from the transient camp meter to the Hotel Conewago adjoining the camp.

The cost to operate this camp for 160 days was $56,318.71. There was an average number of 303 men per day in camp. The County of Lebanon over the same period received $97,569.00 to support an average number of 1,549 cases. The average number of people per case, according to the S. E. R. B. statistics, is 4.5. The cost to feed the transients was $0.38½ per day. Using this same sense of reasoning the average cost to feed the individuals by the S. E. R. B. of Lebanon was $0.07½ per day.

In addition to the expensive foods, clothing, canteen luxuries and comfortable quarters, these transients received medical attention, optical attention and dental care. There did not appear to be any omission in the service or supplies to make these men happy and contented.

The transient camp policy appeared to be more of a social uplift character than a compliance with the rules and regulations, which prescribe adequate programs of work. We found no organized work program in effect at Mt. Gretna. There appeared to have been minor programs, such as wood cutting, et cetera, during the winter, but this would not have been done had they not required the wood for fuel to keep themselves warm.

IRREGULARITIES

Investigations disclosed that Major Kelly, Commander of the Camp, used his personal automobile for the transportation of transients and for other utility purposes at the camp. He received the established five cents ($.05) per mile and in addition, used State gasoline and oil. The mileage submitted by Major Kelly and paid for by the State amounted to $501.75. Major Kelly excused this practice in his sworn statement by the fact that the wear and tear on his car was greater than the five cents ($.05) per mile received, and he felt justified in taking gasoline, as well as charging mileage. The Bureau of Motor Vehicles' records show that Major Kelly's car was a third handed car, a Chevrolet Sedan of 1930 model, so that the amount of mileage received by Major Kelly would purchase two similar cars at the current market value. Details under schedule "2."

A canteen was operated and employes on payroll were required to pay for their purchases. Our investigations disclosed that approximately twenty-five employes were on salary and their purchases averaged about $50.00 per month. We inquired as to the disposition of this cash and were advised that it was used to buy postage stamps. However, we find by an analysis of the warrants that Major Kelly passed for payment postage in the amount of $106.40. In other words, this postage account was a revolving fund. That is, according to Major Kelly's own statement, when he received his expense check, he immediately reinvested in postage so that the amount of money which should have accumulated in the Canteen Fund would have been at least $200.00. At the time of our investigation we found $.73 of a balance. The only explanation Major Kelly could give was that he did not take it. The Canteen Fund appeared to be at the service of officers and employes of the camp. Loans were frequently made and no record kept. At the present time, the I. O. U. of Major Kelly is being held by Dr. Thompson in an amount of $29.05, representing money borrowed from the Canteen Fund. Daniel Champney also verifies this, in that he made loans and inferred that it was a common practice for anyone who was short to help themselves from the Canteen Fund. There are no records to indicate amounts outstanding, and as Major Kelly in his sworn statement admits his responsibility in this matter, we feel that Major Kelly should be held accountable for the shortage in the Canteen Fund.

During Major Kelly's administration a private electric light line was connected with the Transient Camp line and carried current to the Hotel Conewago. This line, however, was discontinued shortly before the entrance of your Auditors.

Major Kelly was quite generous with the supplies and stores of the Transient Camp and repaid personal obligations by giving food supplies to his debtors. Detail on Major Kelly's sworn statement.

Major Kelly was a Battalion Commander of the National Guard and almost every week he left camp on Sunday and returned the following Tuesday to perform his duties as a National Guard officer. From information received and statements, this did not constitute the only time that Major Kelly was absent from camp. A major portion of the time Major Kelly lived at the Rifle Range (about two months) and only reported several hours a day at the Transient Camp office. Sworn statement of Major Kelly.

Kelly surrounded himself with individuals of questionable integrity. His principal assistant was one Albert Phillips, a transient. Phillip's record will be discussed in a succeeding paragraph.

We have had this man Phillips fingerprinted and note the following: Phillips has had two previous jail records under two different aliases. He admits having committed a felony in connection with a bad check charge, also having deserted from the U. S. Army, and notwithstanding all this, Major Kelly gave Phillips a recommendation shown under Exhibit "A," which is a masterpiece depicting the man's high qualifications and integrity.

Major Kelly, upon assuming command of the camp was invited to address the Exchange Club of Lebanon, Pa., and in his address he remarked that "Women and children should stay off the roads at night in the vicinity of the camp." Acting upon this statement, Pennsylvania State Police visited the camp with their fingerprint apparatus and cameras and requested permission to fingerprint and photograph these men to apprehend any criminals who might be hiding from justice. Major Kelly refused permission to either fingerprint or take group photographs.

In the selection of Major Kelly, it was felt that he should be well qualified because of his Army experience. However, Major Kelly enforced no discipline, nor regulations, appeared to be indifferent to reports of irregularities and was incompetent. Certain arrests were made in connection with the recovery of stolen goods from the camp, and from the testimony the entire blame for the chaotic condition was placed upon the management of Major Kelly. See Exhibit "C," Charge of Court to Jury.

EXTRAVAGANCES

Certain items were purchased, the quantities of which appear to have been either extravagent, waste or misappropriated. We cite some of these items, the detail of which appears on Schedule No. 3. The Camp was instituted October 23, 1933, and our period ends March 31, 1934, a total of 160 days. From Morning Reports of the Transient Camp, we find that a total of 50,740 rations, or men days, was the basis for issue.

The following summary reflects certain of the items purchased which appear to be far in excess of their requirements:

		No. Rations
Meats—Fresh Beef	16,676 lbs.	13368
Canned Beef	2,400 lbs.	4800
Pork, Bacon, etc.	22,567 lbs.	30060
Cheese	1,197 lbs.	4788
Turkeys	505 lbs.	1010
Chickens	586 lbs.	1132
Scrapple	1,807 lbs.	2614
Liver	1,847 lbs.	3694
Salmon	2,496 lbs.	4992
		67,494
Number of Rations Required ..		50,740
Excess		16,754

Excess of meats purchased was 16724 rations, enough to feed 16754 men for one day. This was exclusive of 5200 oysters and 6030 dozen eggs, enough to feed the camp for 160 days at an average of 452 eggs daily, in addition to the excessive amounts of meats bought.

SUMMARY OF SCHEDULE NO. 3

Potatoes were bought in excess of requirements in the amount of seven (7) tons.

Coffee was bought in excess of requirements in the amount of two (2) tons.

Sugar was bought in excess of requirements in the amount of seven (7) tons.

Butter was bought in excess of requirements in the amount of three (3) tons.

Our calculations were based upon General Orders No. 2, 1932, Pennsylvania National Guard, inasmuch as this standard was used by Major Kelly.

During the same period of our investigation, in which the transient camp had an average of 303 men per day in camp, the County of Lebanon provided direct relief to a daily average of 1,549 cases (the average case, according to S. E. R. B. records being 4½ people) at a cost of $80,500.00, food, or a daily average of 31c per case, being at the rate of 7c per day per individual. The cost to operate the camp was 38½c per day per individual. This 38½c does not include the additional allowance, about 11c per day, for luxuries given them from the Canteen. The prices paid by Lebanon County for food were based upon retail, while the prices paid at the Transient Camp were wholesale. The expense of feeding the transients was seven times greater than the County of Lebanon was allotted for the support of worthy American citizens.

ISSUANCE OF EQUIPMENT

The Transient Camp had no procedure, nor orders, relative to issuing of clothes, accessories and equipment. None of the goods were stamped, and trading was thereby made easy. The principal items of traffic were found to be blankets, rubber jackets, shirts, overalls, caps, shoes, rubbers and toilet articles. The individual receiving these items had no instructions as to whom ownership was vested in. The countryside swarmed with vendors, men offering various items of wearing apparel, blankets, toilet articles for sale, or exchange for liquor. Toilet articles and accessories were considered as expendible items and they were issued to billet commanders in bulk, who in turn made the individual issues to the men. No matter how many times an individual asked for items, he was given them without question. This made trafficing of these items quite easy. We show the following summary of toilet articles purchased, included in "Miscellaneous," Schedule "IV":

Articles	Number	Amount
Safety Razors	864	$171.00
Safety Blades	8,750	121.26
Combs	1,008	61.25
Toothpaste	1,224	132.18
Shaving Cream	1,224	92.10
Tooth Brushes	1,008	50.40
Shaving Brushes	1,008	210.00

On Schedule "IV" we invite attention to certain items—

Salaries $5,798.78—per day $36.24
Supplies and Equipment $8,037.72

Included in these classifications are—

Lumber	$2,783.18
Hardware	992.10
Roofing Paper	764.25
New Toilets—20	219.40
Plumbing Supplies	193.90

These items were incident to improvements of the camp and represent expense.

Clothing and Shoes - $12,936.15

From our investigation, we find that about 800 men received either clothing or shoes, or an average of more than $16.00 per man was expended.

Transient Transportation—$656.15

Paid for hauling men to and from the camp.

Gasoline—$430.93

In addition, gas was used by the officers and a mileage charge put through.

Medical Supplies and Service—$1,134.41

This includes drugs, prescriptions, dental service and doctors' fees.

DISCUSSION

This investigation disclosed the following:

1. That from the time of the opening of the camp in October, 1933, until March 31, 1934, there was friction between the responsible heads and dual responsibilities. That the authorities at Washington were more or less at variance with the authorities in Pennsylvania. That Major Kelly and Mr. Solly would not cooperate. That Mr. Solly had appointed Mr. Raiguel as a watchdog over Major Kelly (Raiguel's sworn statement). That Major Kelly was indifferent, incompetent and permitted and performed irregular and dishonest practices.

2. That purchases were made in the camp without regard to requirements, notwithstanding the high-powered purchasing department in the S. E. R. B.

3. No system of accounting or records had been instituted or maintained.

4. That transients were used in responsible and accountable positions and placed on the payroll. This practice developed—

(a) the reprehensible condition of records;

(b) the practice of trading by having an operator at the source;

(c) the few who were selected to fill these positions gained the ill feeling and envy of the other transients.

5. That through no Work Program, idleness gave opportunity for chicanery.

6. That certain undeveloped leads in this investigation would further prove the laxity of authority and control.

7. That all of the statements referred to in this report and detail is filed separately and available.

8. That a number of search warrants were issued and arrests were made, but due to the lack of certain facts, the Court in Lebanon County rendered no convictions.

9. That no officers nor employes were bonded. When accountable and responsible positions are bonded, dishonesty is at a minimum.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. That an approved accounting system be installed.

2. That the Canteen be abolished and that tobacco be issued after the manner issued by institutions. Candy, cigars and standard brands of cigarettes are luxuries that the average taxpayer cannot indulge in to the extent enjoyed by these transients.

3. That supplies be issued only on actual requirements.

4. That the purchasing department maintain an inventory of camp supplies and a daily report of inhabitants, and only purchase for actual requirements.

5. That no transients be placed in responsible or accountable positions.

6. That all clothing and supplies other than food be identified as property of the S. E. R. B.

7. That a constructive Work Program be designed so that idleness will give place to occupation and that the work program will be approved.

8. That all accountable and responsible positions be bonded.

To Whom It May Concern:

I wish it to be known that the bearer, Albert L. Phillips, has been the Supply Sergeant at Transient Camp, Mt. Gretna, Pa., since November 1, 1933. During that time I have found him to be faithful, trustworthy, competent, efficient and dependable.

Mr. Phillips has rendered service that is beyond the call of the duties of his office. He has a thorough knowledge of storerooms and the operations thereof. His knowledge of personnel and the handling of personnel records is complete.

I hereby recommend him and am sure that he can handle any position of trust and responsibility very satisfactorily.

Very truly yours,

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania vs. John Youtz

In the Court of Quarter Sessions of Lebanon County
No. 60 June Session, 1934

Trial at Lebanon, Pennsylvania, June 5, 1934.
Charge of the Court

Gentlemen of the Jury:

The facts in this case show a sad commentary upon the way in which public funds are being given away. Whether it is the Government that is borrowing money to give away in this manner or whether it be an individual, makes no difference, for the fact is that ultimately somebody has got to pay it back and it all comes out of the pockets of the taxpayers. We rather frequently hear the expression that it is the big corporations which will be taxed, but after all it is the individual who supports the corporations and he is the one who will ultimately pay.

We have permitted this case to go on to show the public what is being done in camps of this character, where there are a lot of irresponsible men, some of whom would work if given the opportunity, but where they had a great many of these fellows who didn't want to work.

This defendant is charged with larceny and with receiving stolen goods, in order to convict of receiving stolen goods you must first find that the goods were stolen. Now the Commonwealth contends in this case that these goods were stolen, but we can't tell from the evidence in this case whether they were stolen; it might well be that they came from the Commonwealth storehouse; the testimony indicates that some of these clothes were worn and that they were purchased from a man by the name of Hoffman, and they were very likely gotten by someone from that storehouse; now, if that is true, then somebody wasn't on the job at that storehouse or it may well be that somebody higher up was in league with this man Hoffman; because, if Hoffman or anybody else was getting goods out of that storehouse and selling them, then the one in charge of that storehouse should have known it; and if they were taken away there by someone who didn't own them, then or course they were being stolen, then they were stolen from the authorities who owned these goods, and if that is true, then they were stolen goods; but we don't know under this evidence whether that is the fact.

Under this evidence, whenever goods were given to these men, they were given to them to use or given to them to be given away by them—from what this evidence shows, and from the testimony in this case you would likely conclude that in the manner of conducting this camp there was loose management somewhere.

Nobody can tell where these goods come from, whether they were given to these men as gifts or whether they were stolen by them. Now where the price paid for goods is greatly disproportionate to the value of such goods, there might be an indication that they were stolen goods; if a man should pay fifty cents for something that is clearly worth four or five dollars, he should be put on guard that such goods might have been stolen; but according to the testimony the prices paid for these goods weren't at such great variance from their value; if the price paid for these shoes for instance was $1.25 that wasn't at such great variance with the price that the government paid according to this testimony, and according to the evidence produced here the Government paid $1.45 for these shoes, and that wasn't greatly disproportionate. I know that in our local emergency relief work we paid less than $1.49 for shoes purchased from our own factories; of course, this was the wholesale price and if purchased at retail the price would be higher of course. The evidence shows that the price paid for these windbreakers was $2.00 or $2.50, and that the Government paid $2.75 at wholesale, and that wasn't so greatly disproportionate to the actual value.

Now there is some evidence here that these goods were stamped and they were not to be traded or sold and that the ownership of the goods was to remain in the State; now if the State wanted to retain ownership in these goods, that should be expressly stated, that the ownership is retained by the State, and that these goods were given to these men only for their use and that sometime in the future they were to be returned, but they didn't do that.

So that you will return a verdict of not guilty in this case.

The clerk will take your verdict.

Certified from record of trial.

SUPPLEMENT TO TRANSIENT REPORT

In the investigation of relief in Lebanon County, we learned that a transient camp had been in operation from October 23, 1933 to approximately May 15, 1934.

We learned that an investigation of this camp had been made at the request of Honorable Frank E. Baldwin, Auditor General, covering the period from October 23 to April 1, 1934. A copy of the transient camp investigation conducted by the Auditor General is made a part of this report.

The statement of the gross amount of relief funds expended in Lebanon County show an expenditure for this transient camp of $84,247.03. The difference between this amount and the gross amount of expenditure in the Auditor General's report covering this investigation, was spent between April 1, 1934 and approximately May 15, 1934, when this camp was moved to Centre County.

The gross amount accounted for during the period of the Auditor General's investigation was $56,318.71. The difference between this and the gross amount spent in the county being a total of $27,928.32 was the amount spent approximately from April 1, 1934 to May 15, 1934, when the camp was moved.

The following finger print records were of two individuals who had access to the commissary and canteen. The one—No. 302898—had charge of the distribution of all merchandise sent into the camp. The records of these two are a fair sample of the rank and file taken care of in this camp.

S. S. MERCY

Another shelter which reeked with bad management and severe criticism was the S. S. Mercy, a hospital ship of the United States Navy during the World War and leased to the Emergency Relief Board to be used as an additional shelter for transients in Philadelphia. This ship was anchored at Girard Point and housed about 300 men. It was under the direct supervision of Captain Thomas W. Rudderow, a retired naval officer. Another retired naval man, Mr. Ernest Maisel, was appointed supply officer of the ship by the Captain. He was in charge of the commissary and the canteen. The canteen was established some time during March of 1934, on the following basis and for the following purpose:

Supplies were bought and paid for through requisitions approved by the Emergency Relief Board and paid under State warrants. These supplies consisted of cigars, cigarettes, tobaccoes, candies and other confections and other novelties. At the inception of the canteen, clients were given a gratuitous allowance of $3.00 per month. Each client was provided with a card and when purchases were made the canteen officer would punch the amount on the card. In other words, the daily allowance on these cards was about 10c. This system was replaced on or about June 1, 1934, with a cash allowance in which the clients were given outright money. It was contemplated that the money received from the sale of canteen supplies should be deposited in a revolving fund and used to replace the depleted stock. The Emergency Relief Board had designated that when $200.00 had been deposited, this amount should be transmitted to Harrisburg, but no transmittals ever were made. Responsible officers in charge of the canteen were manipulating these funds and accordingly arrests were made and the officers in charge received a jail sentence of one year plus costs of trial. The shortage determined was estimated at about $6000.00 abstracted from the Canteen Fund.

This "Mercy" ship was merely a tramp haven. We have been informed that these men refused to do any work whatsoever. We cite one instance when refueling was necessary for the ship, the local authorities employed stevedores to unload the coal, as the transients positively refused to do any labor around the ship. Your Committee has felt in light of this survey that these transients being composed of a restless, shiftless group of men, have been entertained and provided with not only the necessities of life but luxuries of which the average taxpayer could not afford to avail himself. This cash allowance is now being paid from the General Fund appropriations, that is, the taxpayer of Pennsylvania is contributing to this group of ungrateful individuals. The total amount expended for twenty months to operate this ship was $167,016.51. A detailed summary of these expenditures is herewith submitted.

To maintain this group of men, the average cost per month was between $25.00 and $30.00.

BUDGET DEFICIENCY PLAN

We will endeavor to present a digest of the Budgetary Deficiency plan of the State Emergency Relief Board, in operation.

We quote an extract from a compilation entitled "The Development of Relief Standards by the State Emergency Relief Administration." The present relief standards of the State Emergency Relief Administration are the result of thirty months of constant progress towards more nearly adequate provision for the needs of the unemployed." The following policies were stated by the State Emergency Relief Administration in September, 1932: "All relief shall be distributed on the sole basis of actual need, to persons who have been residents in Pennsylvania for one year, regardless of race, color, religion, citizenship, or politics, No relief shall be given to any person who has been offered work that he or she can do and has refused to do. All funds received must be expended solely for food orders, work relief or other forms of actual relief. Every able-bodied man will, if and when possible, be offered as much work a month on a maintenance project in his locality as will compensate for relief supplied to him and his family on the basis of their estimated need."

At the institution of State relief, it was believed by the State Board that the localities would be able to provide forms of relief, in addition to the food which was originally supplied by the State, However, demands for relief other than food became so great that the relief system was extended to include practically every essential necessary for the maintenance of the individual and his home.

In November, 1934, a budgetary standard of living was established. These standards were prepared with the collaboration of physicians, dieticians, economists, nurses and other professionals. Elaborate tables have been prepared and are in use for the establishment of relief claims. These tables are too voluminous to include in our report, but we will endeavor to give a synopsis or outline of the salient facts.

In the following outline we show the development or the acquisition of necessities in chronological order, which began with food in September, 1932. In October 1932, milk an dfuel were added. In February, 1933, shoes were added to this list. In March, 1933, thrift gardens were developed. In April, 1933, medical relief was instituted. In December, 1933, they added clothing to the list. In April, 1934 shelter was included and in December, 1934, the item "public utilities" which covered gas and electricity was added to the list. The complete list shows food, fuel, shoes, thrift gardens, medical attention, clothing, shelters and electricity and gas. All of the items enumerated are issued on the basis of schedules prepared for that purpose.

The purpose of the rent relief program "is to provide dwellings that comply with legal standards of health and sanitation for families who are recipients of unemployment relief". Rents are granted to families on the following basis—by paying to the landlords as rent relief the current real estate taxes and an additional sum to cover, in the average case, water rent and fire insurance costs, Where more than one family on relief resides in a building, the rent relief paid to the landlord is pro rated. Persons owning their homes may receive a rent relief grant based upon the foregoing basis.

An elaborate schedule has been worked out setting forth the basis for Adjustment of Incomes. If a relief client is employed in private industry or on Federal programs and does not earn sufficient to meet the standard prescribed by the State Emergency Relief Board, he receives a check for the unearned difference. For example:

If, according to the schedule, this client's budgetary allowance was set at $17.75 per week, and through his employment only earned $10.00, he would receive a check for approximately $6.00.

Allowances are made for lunches, car fare, etc., and according to a statement of expenditures compiled by the S. E. R. B. the amount for miscellaneous items from the period September, 1932, to November, 1935 for this item was $417,198.65.

In March, 1933, the Thrift Garden Program was instituted. From March, 1933, to November, 1935, the sum expended for this program was $1,012,238.99.

Medical attention has been extensively developed. The Operating Manual makes provision for practically all medical requirements including dental services.

There was a noticeable increase in the total monthly expenditures following the institution of the Budgetary Deficiency plan, the total expenditure for direct relief was $13,043,569.97. For December the amount was $16,949,261.09. For January, 1935, the amount was $24,627,548.62. There was an appreciable increase in the number of cases, Therefore, these increases appear to be the result of the higher standards of living which had been prescribed by the State Emergency Relief Board and which required more funds to carry out.

There appears also to be a provision made to provide furniture for families on relief as set forth in "Schedule 6" of the Manual of the Relief Divisior. Section 7, Page 9.

WORKS PROGRESS ADMINISTRATION

Instituted in April of 1935, Congress set aside, at the request of the President, the sum of $4,880,000,000.00. The purpose of this program was to give employment to persons who were on relief and to thereby decrease the tremendous direct relief burden. Effective during July and August, 1935, Pennsylvania began operation of this program.

Eligibility for employment under the W. P. A. required that 90% of the employables must come from the relief rolls and 10% was permitted to be employed as skilled labor, etc. During the operation of the work relief program under the S. E. R. B., the average number of persons on work relief varied from 100,000 to 500,000 per month. The average number of persons on work relief from January to August of 1935 was approximately 250,000. A report from the W. P. A. office indicates that the number of persons on the W. P. A. payrolls who had been transferred from the relief rolls as of December 31, 1935 was only 217,756. At May 15, 1936 this same classification of persons represented 263,714. The direct relief rolls have been reduced by approximately 225,000 from January 1 to March 28, 1936. Total payments for unemployment relief reflected no effect by reason of the W. P. A. program until February, 1936. The following summary is necessarily shown in proof of this statement:

TABLE SHOWING THE INCREASE IN RELIEF PAYMENTS FROM THE INAUGURATION OF THE W. P. A. PROGRAM—AS TAKEN FROM THE RECORDS OF THE FISCAL OFFICES

Employes under W. P. A. are required to wait considerable time before receiving their first pay check, consequently an arrangement has been effected between the officials of the S. E. R. B. and the W. P. A. administrator whereby employables transferred from S. E. R. B. relief rolls are continued as recipients of relief until such time as their pay checks arrive. A recent ruling has been set up specifying 21 days for this gratuity. By this co-ordinated plan duplication of payments is made and the recipient is not required to pay back the amount he received from the S. E. R. B., neither is there a deduction made from his pay check by the W. P. A. to refund this duplicated payment. It has been conservatively estimated that at least $10,000,000.00 has been expended by the S. E. R. B., for this plan of duplication. Accurate figures are not available at this time. The Budget Deficiency plan in operation in the S. E. R. B., is also responsible for considerable outlay from the direct relief funds. Employes under the W. P. A. who do not earn the amount prescribed by the standard set up known as "Budgetary Deficiency" are compensated for the difference or unearned allowance.

An item appears on a statement from the S. E. R. B. offices captioned "unearned payments" which shows a total of $5,171,332.04 for the period ended November, 1935.

During the course of our survey we picked 25 cases at random from the various districts in Area No. 7 that had been transferred from direct relief to W. P. A. projects. We show the following summary, the case number, the amount received on relief grants and the wages earned under W. P. A. It will be observed from this statement that any deficiency occurring wherein wages are less than grant the difference is met by the S. E. R. B. by payment of a check for unearned payments:

Cases transferred to W. P. A.

These grants indicate the amount of Direct Relief received each month.

The W. P. A. wages are based on a period of one month.

These twenty-five cases have been selected from the various districts throughout the area.

The W. P. A. does not appear to be functioning with as much rapidity as had been anticipated at its inception. Our survey has disclosed the following in a test of 2136 cases which were closed in one area. This area carried 7,136 cases, of which 34.83% were absorbed by private industry and 43.45% were taken under W. P. A. The remaining 21.72% were taken over through unclassified local poor authorities, other government aid, etc., channels. It was estimated at the rate the W. P. A. absorbed unemployment of this area, it would require at least a period of seven months. In another study during our survey we selected 225 cases registered with the National Reemployment Service. An examination of the records disclosed the following:

36 persons were called once
36 persons were called twice
9 persons were called three times
8 persons were called four times
1 person was called nine times making a total of 90 persons being called for work out of the 225 cases registered.

Another study affecting approximately 40 men disclosed that these men had not received any pay for over four weeks. The average wage per man was approximately $8.00 per week. Pay checks had been delayed prior to the holiday season and the administrator had promised all men that their pay checks would be delivered for Christmas. Accordingly, the headquarters office was subjected to the taxing burden of endeavoring to get these pay checks out. Considerable comment was current at that time relative to the overworking of employes as numerous cases were represented as having collapsed at their work and it was necessary to send them to their homes in taxicabs.

We have evidence in our files of the abuse of the franking privilege of the W. P. A. administrator. Pay checks are mailed to the recipient and included in the same envelope was political propaganda and other literature intended to exploit the Democratic administration at Washington.

We have evidence in our files indicating wanton waste and extravagance. There appears to be a lack of organization, management and supervision. We have instances wherein employes were sent to work on projects and upon arrival there were no tools wherewith to work.

Among some of the approved projects under the W. P. A. program and for which this $4,880,000,000.00 is being spent, Pennsylvania has participated in the following:

Dancing lessons, sewing and knitting instruction, physical education, dramatic training, organization of baseball clubs, eradiction of gooseberry bush blister, etc.

MISCELLANEOUS COMMENTS AND REMARKS

A petition from the Agricultural Council of Pennsylvania Farm Organizations. During the preparation of this report, your Committee received the following petition:

"Since there is general complaint throughout the State from farmers, that they are unable to hire laborers for farm work. This situation appears to be so serious that consideration should be given to it by those in control of relief. There is something wrong when huge amounts are being spent for unemployment relief, yet farmers are unable to hire help. Therefore, the Agricultural Council of Pennsylvania Farm Organizations petitions the Pennsylvania Relief Administration to take notice of this situation at once. Agricultural Council of Pennsylvania Farm Organizations. April 23, 1936."

High Cost of Administration Contended Necessary to Economical Operation.—It is contended that in order to keep down operating costs, that administrative costs should be increased. It is noted that a number of employes on the administrative payroll have been dismissed. Nevertheless, this did not reduce the administrative payroll. The rank and file, or employes receiving low pay, have been dismissed, but those in the higher brackets have been retained. There does not appear to be any effort made to centralize various bureaus or subdivisions under these high-bracket officials.

Relation of Relief to W. P. A.—While W. P. A. is a Federal project, and handled by the Federal Government, there devolves upon the State the responsibility of caring for employes of the W. P. A. during the period they must wait for their first pay checks. Also the State assumes responsibility for the W. P. A. employe upon his dismissal or when he is unemployed on a Federal project.

Forecast for Relief of Unemployment—The following information was supplied by authorities in scientific research:

According to the 1930 census, there were approximately 3,722,000 gainful workers in Pennsylvania, distributed as follows:

2,918,000 Men
804,000 Women

or a ratio of four men to one woman. These gainful workers were distributed in industry according to the following:

Manufacturing	1,400,000
Agricultural	250,000
Mining	300,000
Transportation	325,000
Trades	450,000
Public and professional service	300,000
Domestic and personal service	330,000
Clerical	330,000
Miscellaneous	203,000

Considering the W. P. A. employe as being unemployed, there are about 900,000 unemployed in Pennsylvania at the present time. It is anticipated that this volume of unemployment will steadily increase within the next two years. Absorption of unemployment by industry will be less than the growth of industry. In the recovery period after a depression, increase of output of goods exceeds the number given jobs because of the rise in the number of full time hours of work per week, and the shifting of part-time workers to full time. Only during prosperity when many new businesses spring up, then the best absorption of labor takes place.

Distribution of the Total Payments for Relief.—The total payments for relief and relief programs for the period September 1, 1932 to March 31, 1936, was the amount of $775,430,825.52. This amount was distributed in the following manner:

(1)	Payments by the State (approximately 20% of the total)	$152,367,563.61
(2)	Payments by local communities (approximately 11% of the total)	84,729,031.43
(3)	Paid by the Federal Government (approximately 69% of the total)	538,334,230.48

FINAL REPORT OF LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE EMERGENCY RELIEF IN NORTHAMPTON COUNTY

To the Honorable Speaker and Members of the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

The undersigned constitutes the Legislative Committee appointed to investigate the Emergency Relief Board and the various other relief agencies and conditions of the County of Northampton, respectively report as follows:

That your Committee has heretofore filed a preliminary report at the last regular Session of your Honorable Body, wherein it was stated that your Committee would subsequently submit a more detailed report at the next Special or Regular Session of your Honorable Body.

The report of the Committee on the various phases of relief work has been substantiated by the reports of other independent committees and bodies, and your Committee reiterates its position. As set forth in said preliminary report the Committee further respectfully recommends for the consideration of the Assembly the recommendations made in said preliminary report.

The one phase of the relief investigation which your Committee felt would require more detailed attention was that set forth in paragraph nine of the preliminary report, dealing with the cases of compulsory labor. There has been submitted to the Committee the names and addresses of the parties who performed this involuntary work, together with the amounts due them as shown by work slips in their possession. These cases total an amount of $30,703.36. In addition the names and addresses of parties who performed this work, but who have no work slips to show for it, are also included. The amounts owing to these parties can in all probability be checked through the records of the State Highway Department at Harrisburg. In addition your Committee is attaching to the original report the statements of various men performing this involuntary servitude, and in some cases the statements of the surviving wife. The exhibits attached to the original report bring most forcibly to the attention of your Honorable Body the fact that there is no matter which should be rectified more willingly and quickly by your Honorable Body than this condition of practical slavery that existed, and for which no recompense was made.

There is no question but that the State of Pennsylvania received the labor of these men and in return paid nothing. Your Committee feels certain that it is not the intention of this Commonwealth to deprive any of its citizens of their just dues and that the condition arose through a misunderstanding in the early years of relief administration.

Your Committee respectfully urges that appropriate legislation be passed by the Senate and by the House to compensate the men for the services they rendered to the State of Pennsylvania, and that this legislation be an amount sufficient to pay the sum of $30,703.36, as well as an additional sum to take care of those cases where the amounts are yet to be proven.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM SINWELL
CHARLES B. COAKLEY

Statement of Mrs. Elizabeth Fisher
1516 N. New Street, Bethlehem. Pa.

That her husband Ralph Fisher, in the fall of 1932, was called out to work on the State Highway. He having little clothing for outside work, and being undernourished due to living on relief which was not sufficient for the family's health. Mr. Fisher after working two weeks came home sick with a cold. He never regained sufficiently to be employed. After Mr. Fisher took sick the poor directors refused to give any relief to the family, until neighbors and the doctor appealed to the poor board, for the care of the family. The lack of food and milk at the time of my husband's illness only tended to weaken and shorten his life.

With the cold caught at his work he lingered until tuberculosis developed in his lungs. Suffering extended until 1934, when he departed from this world.

Leaving me with two boys and a girl, ages 10, 9, 6, I have applied for mothers' assistance for the care of the children, February, 1936. But to date no action or check arrived. Probably due to lack of funds for those children's care.

This is to certify that I attended Ralph Fisher from 1932 to 1934. His condition was brought about by malnutrition.

Statement of Adam Dezlenski

320½ Carbon Street, Bethlehem, Pa.

I have a family of four. I received $2.50 food order from the Family Welfare Association in the year of 1932 and I was sent a card to report for work on the State Highway. I reported for work and was glad I had a job. Until after a time of work and seeing the promised checks for my work were not being sent to me, I complained. I was told to keep on working by the Family Welfare or I would get no more food order, or relief.

My son who was sick after pleading was sent to Mt. Alto for treatment for one year. He was in need of special care and special diet which I could not afford and was not furnished during the time I worked on the highways. But due to local interest of people in our city today, this boy aged 14, is now on the road to complete recovery. Only now if I was to get my money for the work done for the State, I could pay back bills to the grocer, because what was given me in 1932 and 1933, by the Family Welfare was not enough.

Statement of John Goch

811 Shields Street, Bethlehem, Pa.

I have a family of five. In the year of 1932 we were on relief getting $3.50 a week, from the Family Welfare Association. I was sent a post card to report for work on the highways. Signed by the Family Welfare Association. I went to work and completed the days required, when the week was finished another card was received to go out to work the following week again. When I complained that I had finished my work on the first card, I was told I should keep on and go out to work.

During this time my wife was confined I asked to stay home. After five days at home the case worker called at the home, and asked about the family and told me, now that the family was good I had to go to work the next morning. Leaving my wife in bed with other small children, I went to work. But I have never been paid my wages. And the time report promises that a check would be mailed for those reasons. I have asked an organization to fight for my wages.

Statement given by Mrs. Bebley Wells

R. D. No. 4, Bethlehem, Pa.

My husband was called out to work on the State Highway, by a post card, received from the Family Welfare Association. He worked during the years of 1932 and 1933. We did not get pay from the State for his work, we only received $2.50 food order per week, from the Family Welfare Association. At a store of their choice, they were instructed to furnish only limited amounts of commodities requested. The prices were above the average grocery store prices.

We were of the opinion checks would be mailed for the work done by my husband. Since his work reports gave his record of hours, rate of pay and stated that checks would be mailed.

Statement of Mike Ruggiero

224 Diamond Street, Bethlehem, Pa.

I have a family of six. We were getting $4.00 food orders. Some weeks three and some weeks four-fifty. I was sent a card to start work on the Highway in 1932. I went out to work and kept on working without getting any money. My wife was sick and the doctors prescribed medicine for her. When I asked for an order to fill the doctor's order, it was refused several times.

I received coal in one-half ton lots very seldom. We could not keep the whole house warm.

I could not keep my family on the food orders and our merchants left me deal until the bill was about $150.00.

I will appreciate if the work done for the State is paid at this time, to enable me to square myself with those who trusted me.

Statement of Gergorio Santoro

1249 E. Third Street, Bethlehem, Pa.

I have a family of seven. I received food orders from the Family Welfare for some weeks. I received $2.00 per week, never more than $5.00 per week. I was sent a post card that I should report for work on the State Highways.

I have had sickness in my family which was brought on by not having proper food, clothing, and no coal to keep warm.

I was of the opinion that now I had a job and would be able to provide more for the comfort of my family.

But even though the time reports stated checks would be sent, I have never received any money for the work done for the State Highway of Pennsylvania.

If the State could now pay me what is due me, it would enable me to pay back bills to merchants who helped my family to live as what I was given by the Family Welfare was not sufficient, and I will testify that I never got in relief equal to the amount of money due me for my work.

Statement of Louis Kupchuk

623 Ridge Street, Bethlehem, Pa.

I have a family of five. We were on relief in 1932—$3.00 per week, later raised to $4.00. I was sent a card to report for work on the State Highway. I went to work and was glad I now had a job. But after a time I saw that my check for my work was not coming.

When I went to the Family Welfare Association and asked about my money, they said, I was not to get any money, that I was working for my food order.

One of my sons took sick in 1927, kept getting worse, the doctor declared that it was tuberculosis. His suffering went until 1933, when he died, aged 21 years. My family subjected to this dreaded disease, and with undernourishment, lack of clothing, and coal to keep warm, surely shortens my people's lives.

We have had considerable trouble in the past few years, I will appreciate to get the money that is due me for my work on the State Highways.

Statement of Joseph Bejek

235 Diamond Street, Bethlehem, Pa.

I have a family of eleven. We were receiving food orders of $4.50 a week from the Family Welfare Association.

I received a post card the same year of 1932 to report for work on the Highways.

I went to work as instructed. I was of the opinion that checks would be mailed, and continued to work on the Highway. The $4.50 a week given in food order was not enough to keep my family.

My storekeeper advanced groceries until my store bill was above one hundred dollars.

We appealed for coal to the Welfare Workers but were not furnished coal. I found it necessary to go to the railroad yards and steal coal in the winter to warm my home. We had to sleep down stairs on the floor in the kitchen, closing all doors. The rooms upstairs were too cold.

I would not have stolen coal had I received money for my work. I will appreciate if the State pay my money. I can settle with the storekeeper and regain my credit.

To Whom It May Concern:

During the fall and winter months of 1931, I, Auther Rice, was forced to work for my relief orders on the road known as the Applebutter Road, between Shimmersville and Glendon. On several occasions during this period, the regular paid road workers were sent home and we "free" workers were obliged to do their work. Statement given by Mrs. Mary Carrodo 210 Hobart Street, Bethlehem, Pa.

Of the suffering in my family, commencing February, 1933, my husband was called out to work on the State Highway, to work for relief. We were receiving, $3.75 per week, for a family of five. At the time he was working, I was helpless and had to remain on a chair for seven months, after a period in the hospital for four weeks. My husband had to lock the doors when he left for work, leaving me in a chair with the children. We were of the opinion that the wages would be paid since the work records stated they should be held until the check was received. The $3.75 weekly food order given by the Family Welfare was not enough to feed my family. We had to get credit from our merchant. For those reasons my husband has given his work records to a committee of the Unemployed League of Bethlehem, to make a settlement with the State of Pennsylvania, so that we may regain our credit in our community.

ROSTER OF STATE EMERGENCY RELIEF BOARD STAFF

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
State Emergency Relief Board,
Harrisburg, June 8, 1935.

The Honorable Roy E. Furman,
Speaker, House of Representatives,
Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

My Dear Mr. Furman:

The House of Representatives, by Resolution No. 8 adopted May 26, 1936, requested "a list of the employes of the State Emergency Relief Board including those employed in counties and districts (a) whose residence at the time of appointment was outside Pennsylvania (b) the home address of such persons (c) the positions they fill (d) the length of time they have been employed and (e) the compensation to each averaged monthly."

The information requested in Resolution No. 8 is attached. On the list there are thirty-seven names, thirty of whom are on local staffs and seven on the State staff. Two of these persons have resigned, and five are native Pennsylvanians who were not State residents at the time of their appointment. The names of these seven persons are so indicated on the attached list. These thirty employes who were neither natives nor residents of Pennsylvania represent less than one-twentieth of one per cent of the 6905 employes of the State Emergency Relief Board as of May 16, 1936. These thirty persons are occupying supervisory or other positions requiring special skill and experience, and for which it is difficult to find qualified personnel.

It is also interesting to note that there are more Pennsylvanians employed in relief administration outside the State than there are out of State persons employed in the State Emergency Relief Board. It will be noted too that twenty-seven of the thirty out of State persons were employed prior to August 1, 1935 when the administrative staff was being expanded. In a staff which is remaining constant or decreasing in size, it is rarely necessary to go outside the staff itself to find competent and experienced personnel for key positions.

Sincerely yours,

KARL DE SCHWEINITZ,
Executive Director.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM STATE EMERGENCY RELIEF BOARD

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
State Emergency Relief Board,
Harrisburg, June 2, 1936.

The Honorable Thomas L. Kennedy,
President of the Senate,
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

My Dear Mr. Kennedy:

The Senate, by resolution adopted May 26, 1936 requested that the following information be furnished to the Senate:

"(a) Number of cases during the month of January to April, inclusive, of the year 1936, where relief was granted to persons or families without any property;

"(b) Number of cases during the said months of January to April, inclusive, of the year 1936, where relief was granted to persons or families without any income;

"(c) The amount of relief granted during the said months of January to April, inclusive, where the person or family had an income up to $5.00 per week;

"(d) The amount of relief granted during the said months of January to April, inclusive, where the person or family, had an income between $5.00 and $10.00 per week;

"(e) The amount of relief granted during the said months of January to April, inclusive, where the person or family, had an income between $10.00 and $15.00 per week;

"(f) The amount of relief granted during the said months of January to April, inclusive, where the person or family, had an income above $15.00 per week;

"(g) The total amount paid for relief in each of the said months of January to April, inclusive, for relief in the above classifications, as contained in (a) to (f) inclusive."

The information requested would require time and considerable expense to compile. However, we have available in our files some very significant information relative to the extent of relief supplementation of earnings from part-time private employment. I am submitting immediately the information which we have available.

On December 9, 1935 there were 43,029 cases throughout the state receiving direct relief to supplement earnings from private part-time employment. This number represented 16 per cent of the 271,559 cases on relief at that time. The balance of the case load, 228,530, were without income. This provides item (b) of the information requested except that the data apply to the date December 9, 1935 rather than to the period January—April, 1936.

During the first week of February, 1936 a study was made of all cases receiving supplementary relief in Luzerne County. At the time there were 8,627 cases on the relief rolls, and 1,554, or 18 per cent of them were receiving supplementary relief.

Items (b)—(g) of the information requested in the resolution can be furnished, therefore, for Luzerne County as of the first week of February.

(b) Number of cases where relief was granted to persons or families without any income: 7,073.

(c) Amount of relief granted during the week where the person or family had an income up to $5.00 per week: $5,401.68.

(d) Amount of relief granted during the week where the person or family had an income between $5.00 and $10.00 per week: $4,528.43.

(e) Amount of relief granted during the week where the person or family had an income between $10.00 and $15.00 per week: $1,199.26.

(f) Amount of relief granted during the week where the person or family had an income above $15.00 per week: $64.50.

(g) Total amount of relief granted during the week including both cases with income and cases without income: $69,437.64.

The families receiving supplementary relief in Luzerne County average 5.5 persons per family as compared with 3.9 persons per family among those having no income. It is, therefore, not only the smallness of the income received, but also the largeness of the families that leads to supplementation of part-time earnings. The families with incomes between $10.00 and $15.00 per week receiving supplementary relief average 7.7 persons per family.

The policy of supplementing part-time earnings has resulted in conserving relief funds. If supplementary relief were not given to these cases they would be forced to decline part-time employment and odd jobs that do not yield sufficient income to meet their minimum requirements. The result would be that these cases would be on full relief instead of partial relief. The saving to the State Emergency Relief Board of this policy is nearly equal to the amount of the part-time earnings, since the standards of relief plus income for those with part-time employment is only slightly higher than for those without income.

It would be extremely difficult to obtain the information requested by the Senate for the period January to April. The records of all cases not currently receiving are placed in an inactive file. In order to obtain the information requested it would be necessary to search the inactive as well as the active files to locate the records of all cases that received relief between January 1 and April 30, 1936. There are in excess of 1,000,000 cases that have received relief at some time since the establishment of the State Emergency Relief Board. The records of all these cases would have to be inspected to determine whether or not they received relief between January and April. The expense involved would be very large.

I would suggest, therefore, if the Senate agrees, that the information requested be supplied for the present active case load, and that the period covered by the study should be a current week.

I sincerely believe that the information so furnished would be more pertinent as well as much more readily obtained.

I wish, further, to seek the advice of the Senate as to the information requested in item (a). Is "property" to be construed to mean personal property such as furniture, household effects, clothing, bedding, et cetera, or real property such as their own home, a farm, et cetera?

I would appreciate receiving the advice of the Senate on the following points:

(1) Is the available information supplied in this letter adequate for their purposes, or shall current data for the entire state be compiled?

(2) If current information on a state-wide basis is requested, will the Senate agree to accept data for the active case load only and for a current week?

(3) If additional information is requested, what definition of "property" shall be used?

Sincerely yours,

KARL DE SCHEWEINITZ,
Relief Administrator.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
State Emergency Relief Board,
Harrisburg, June 29, 1936.

The Honorable Frederick T. Gelder,
Senator for Susquehanna County,
Senate Chambers,
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Dear Senator Gelder:

I am glad to furnish the information requested in your letter of June 24.

Taking into consideration the number of families—173,657 now on the relief rolls and allowing for a progressive reduction in this number, I would estimate $6,346,000 as required for the month of July. This estimate is based on an average of 167,000 cases for July as against an estimate average of 173,000 during June. In line with the procedure which has been followed in May and in June, I would suggest that, until the Legislature decides upon the amount it shall appropriate through January 31, the standard of relief be kept at the present level. The estimate of $6,346,000, therefore, does not include the payment of additional rent and other needed items.

In your letter you requested that the direct relief budget for July be classified by type of relief item. The State Emergency Relief Board does not allocate funds separately for each type of direct relief such as food, clothing, shelter, et cetera, but makes an allocation to each county to cover its entire relief needs. This practice is followed in order to avoid the administrative waste and inefficiency that would be inherent in breaking down the allocation to each county into specific forms of relief. Due to the fact, however, that we have expenditures in past months classified by form of relief it is possible to estimate very closely the amount of the total direct relief budget that will be expended for each type of relief. The following tabulation shows direct relief expenditures classified for the months of April and May and the estimated classification of the July budget.

Relief Item	April Amount	May Amount	July Estimated Amount
Food	$1,844,038.53	$1,765,490.45	$1,820,000.00

Grand Total	$6,701,475.51	$6,164,002.28	$6,346,000.00

On June 13, Governor Earle addressed a letter to me in which he stated that the Federal Works Progress Administration had made possible the employment on W. P. A. projects of 30,000 additional persons now on direct relief rolls. He asked me to prepare a revised estimate of direct relief requirements until January 31, 1937 taking into consideration the increased W. P. A. employment of relief persons. In accordance with the Governor's letter, I prepared a revised estimate amounting to $55,000,000 for the period May 1, 1936 through January 31, 1937.

Except for the omission of additional rent and other items for the month of July, I would now estimate our requirements for the period May 1, 1936 to January 31, 1937 at the same figure. The following table shows the average number of families per month, the average relief per case per month, which varies with the time of the year and also according to the number of order writing days in the month, the estimated cost of direct relief, of administration, of indirect relief as represented by camps for local homeless, administration of surplus commodity distribution, and the appropriation to the Veterans Commission. It also shows the cost of additional rent and other items in the proposed increase of relief standards. The omission of these latter items in the month of July reduces the total for the period by $792,000 bringing the net requirement to $54,294,000.

* Does not include expenditures out of ear-marked Federal Funds. Checks and orders are written and issue five days a week, Mondays to Fridays inclusive. Some months therefore have more writing days than others and thus the same number of families in one month may involve a larger expenditure than in another month.

Checks and orders are written and issued five days a week, Mondays to Fridays inclusive. Some months, therefore, have more writing days than others, and thus the same number of families in one month may involve a larger expenditure than in another month.

In your letter you ask whether the time has not arrived for a new and searching investigation of the relief rolls.

Only by some such measure can we hope to maintain the relief activities of the State Emergency Relief Board to January 31, at our estimated expenditure of $55,000,000.

The basis of sound relief administration is the quality of the relationship established by the visitor with the family and the obtaining of information about wages, savings, and other resources from employers, banks, public departments, and the like. Checks of relief operations that have been made at various times show that the greatest reduction in the relief rolls come about through information which the families themselves give to our visitors. The next most important source of information is the employer. Though the utilization of these various contacts we are able to discontinue each month ten per cent of the number of families on relief. The proportion of applications rejected now is 50% greater than it was a year ago.

With a large expenditure for administration our visitors could reach families and collateral sources of infromation more frequently and could accelerate somewhat the discontinuance of relief to families when eligibility ceases. There is, however, a point at which returns from administrative expenditure diminish and the savings in relief is not worth the additional overhead involved in making the saving.

Last summer we reduced the number of families on relief by requiring a reapplication from each family then receiving assistance. This summer we are again preparing to follow a somewhat similar procedure. This is particularly important in a time when improving industrial conditions are providing employment for more people.

Another important factor in reducing the relief rolls is by transfer to the W. P. A. and other Federal works activities. The name of each employable person in each family accepted for relief is registered with the United States Employment Service and is also reported to the W. P. A. so that the people on relief are immediately and continually available for employment. Since last September 272,000 families have been drawn from the list of persons thus registered and have been transferred to the Works Program.

Counteracting these efforts to keep the relief rolls to a minimum is the need of those who despite improved industrial conditions continue to require assistance. During the past two months we have accepted each week on an average of 7,500 families which after investigation have been found to be without sufficient means to maintain the barest existence. Our average grant of 31 cents per day, per person, indicates the low scale on which relief is provided. It has been the experience of previous depressions that many months must pass before the unemployed are reabsorbed into industry and we face in this depression the additional fact of technological changes which continue to throw people out of work.

In the last analysis it is employment either in industry or failing this in the Federal Works Program which determines the reduction in the relief rolls. Efforts to reduce the relief rolls beyond those which we are constantly carrying out, can only be accomplished through depriving the destitute of the minimum necessities of life. I am endeavoring to practice every economy in administration and care in the selection of families for relief and will continue to do so. It is impossible to forecast surely what relief needs will be, but I believe that in the present premises $54,294,000 to January 31st, including $4,416,000 for additional rent and other items is a minimum. If any funds remain they can be applied in the period after January 31st, thus leaving the Legislature at its regular session time to consider the relief program without having to face the necessity of emergency appropriations such as have characterized the present session. I cannot recommend any smaller amount without jeopardizing the very existence of the unemployed. Certainly, I have no desire to add to the burdens of the taxpayers, however, on the other hand, I do not believe that the people of the State want to refuse help to their destitute neighbors.

Sincerely yours,

KARL DE SCHWEINITZ,
Executive Director.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE THE PENNSYLVANIA WORKING HOME FOR BLIND MEN IN PHILADELPHIA

To the Members of the House of Representatives:

Pursuant to House Resolution No. 29, Printer's No. 162, which provided for a Committee of five to investigate the Pennsylvania Working Home for Blind Men in Philadelphia, your Committee respectfully reports as follows:

HISTORY OF THE PROCEEDINGS

A Committee representing the inmates of the Pennsylvania Working Home for Blind Men presented a petition to the House of Representatives in which petition it is set forth, inter alia, that the Board of Managers, without just cause and warrant, endeavored to increase the rate of the board of the men who live in the home from $4.00 per week to $6.00 per week, the additional $2.00 to be deducted or taken out of the blind pensions which the men are receiving. The sixty-two inmates contended that the increase was not necessary nor just in view of the various appropriations and contributions which were made to the home, in that it is amply provided with financial support from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the City of Philadelphia, the Welfare Association and from private contributions.

The Board of Managers, being apprized of the petition presented on behalf of the inmates and the pending resolution to investigate the conditions, passed a resolution welcoming the survey and agreed to temporarily refrain from putting into effect the increase until there was had an expression of opinion from the House Committee regarding the subject matter under discussion.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

Immediately after the Committee was appointed by the Speaker on June 30, 1936, it organized and began to function. The Committee engaged Messrs. Thompson and Markel, of Philadelphia, as their accountants and auditors.

Four public hearings were held in Philadelphia in the auditorium of the Home at Thirty-Sixth and Lancaster Avenue. The first hearing was held Friday, July 17, 1936, at 3:00 p. m.; the second hearing was held Friday, July 24, 1936, at 2:30 p. m.; the third hearing was held Saturday, July 25, 1936, at 10:00 a. m.; and the fourth hearing was held Friday, July 31, 1936, at 2:30 p. m.

At these hearings many witnesses appeared in support of the petition as well as those on behalf of the management of the home and the workshop.

Without analyzing the testimony of individual witnesses, we shall present a resume of the facts as stated before the Committee.

The Pennsylvania Working Home for Blind Men was chartered as a corporation on July 23, 1874, by the Court of Common Pleas for Philadelphia County.

The object of this corporation, as stated by the charter, is the organization of workshops and a home for homeless blind mechanics, teaching useful trades to blind men, giving employment also to those blind men who have homes, and the selling of the manufactured products of the corporation for its benefit and advantage.

It shall be supported by donations; by legacies; by inmates and their friends, by annual subscriptions; and by such other aids as may be available for its charitable objects.

The Constitution provides that the government of the corporation shall be vested in a Board of Managers, which shall consist of sixteen persons. The Board shall have power to fill all vacancies in their body, which may occur during the year, and to elect their successors at the annual meeting. There are three vacancies on the Board at the present time.

The thirteen members of the Board, five of whom are also the officers of the corporation, and the year in which each member was originally elected to the Board, are as follows:

J. Henry Scattergood, President	1906
A. Reed McIntire, Vice President	1916
Wilfried H. Robertson, Vice President	1923
Alfred W. Wright, Treasurer	1921
William P. Morris, Secretary	1914
Howard Longstreth	1923
Harry A Batten	1924
H. R. Shellenberger	1926
Thomas E. Shipley	1928
Morris Duane	1929
Caleb J. Milne, Jr.	1929
Otto P. Mann	1935
Alfred Reginald Allen	1935

The Board of Managers holds monthly meetings in addition to the annual meeting held the last Tuesday of December of each year. Five members constitute a quorum for all ordinary business.

The average attendance at the annual meeting for the past two years has been eight, and at the monthly meeting seven.

The members of the Board of Managers serve without compensation.

The corporation owns the property located at the southeast corner of 36th Street and Lancaster Avenue, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, which extends on 36th Street from Lancaster Avenue to Warren Street.

There are a number of structures on this property, one of which is the Home for the inmates, one is a four-story factory building in which there is located a retail store for the sale of articles manufactured by the blind men, and the office is also located in this building. The third building, a three-story dwelling, is occupied by the Superintendent and his family. There are also four three-story dwellings facing on Warren Street. Those latter properties are rented to blind employes.

The Home was acquired in 1874 and is believed to have been erected approximately one hundred years ago. All activities of the organization were originally conducted in this building, which was subsequently enlarged by the addition of wings. This building is now used exclusively as a home for the inmates and for certain of the employes of the home who live there.

We understand that the factory building and the Superintendent's dwelling were erected about the year 1890. The Treasurer's report for the year 1889, 1891 and 1894 indicate that appropriations totalling $25,000.00 were received from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for this purpose. A subsequent report of the Treasurer for the fiscal year 1895-1896 indicates that a mortgage for $50,000 was placed on the property. Payments on account over a period of years reduced the mortgage to $20,000.00 as of April 16, 1919. An additional loan of $30,000.00 was made on October 13, 1921, increasing the mortgage to $50,000.00. On June 25, 1936, this amount was paid in full with the proceeds of a specific bequest for this purpose.

On November 30, 1935, the corporation's investment in real estate, buildings, machinery and furniture and fixtures was stated on the books at a gross value of $252,604.63, less depreciation reserves of $60,950.56, or a net book value of $191,654.07. The real estate on that date was subject to a mortgage of $50,000.00 which further reduced the book equity of these assets to $141,654.07.

The Board of Managers maintain a home for blind men and operate a factory primarily for the employment of blind men. The board received from inmates of the home and the sale of articles manufactured in the factory are insufficient to cover the expenses, and both departments are conducted with heavy losses.

These losses are provided for in part by appropriations received from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the City of Philadelphia and the United Campaign. In addition to this, contributions and bequests are received from private sources. The corporations also derives an income from certain endowment funds, the principal of which is stated on the books at slightly in excess of $50,000.00.

The income received as board for the inmates of the home is applied as a credit against the costs of that department. The income received from the sale of manufactured articles is applied as a credit against the cost of operating the factory. Income received from the other sources enumerated above is placed in the general fund of the corporation and is used to pay the losses of the home and factory; the general overhead expenses of the corporations; capital expenditures; debt retirement and as current working capital.

There does not appear to be any provision regarding the application of these funds as between the home and the factory. On account of this condition it is quite possible that in the distribution of these funds the benefits derived by one department may be inequitable as compared with the benefits derived by the other department.

It was contended by the management that in recent years the home had deficits, and in 1935 the deficit was approximately $14,500.00 over and above all incomes from whatever source. That in order to continue, the institution must get more income, and also try to cut its costs, if possible. It was stated by the President of the Board that the loss in manufacturing, the costs of the handicaps of the blind as compared with the competition of sighted workmen must of necessity be heavy and that the loss in the boarding department (what is known as the home) amounts to about $15,000.00 per year.

On the other hand, the inmates of the home feel that there should be no increase in the board since the management was able to continue operations thus far without any increase. The testimony as to cleanliness and proper facilities, kind of treatment accorded the men, both in the workshop and in the home, is conflicting. The Committee has inspected the home and plant and found conditions as well as may be expected under present circumstances. However, the Committee will enumerate certain recommendations later in the report.

It was also stated by witnesses, both by those outside of the home as well as by those who live in the home, that in the past men were compelled of necessity to go out on the street to beg in order to make up deficiencies in their wages so as to be able to pay $4.00 per week board. The management, although having knowledge of the facts, were either helpless to stop the bad practice or shut their eyes to the condition. The management was also accused of lack of sympathy for the blind and in some instances signs of favoritism was apparent.

All men in the home and most men working in the shop agreed that no increase in the board for the men should be made at this time.

Many witnesses repeated testimony which had been previously stated by some other witness.

The most important testimony taken before the Committee was the report and statements of our auditors who presented their report at the last hearing. At this time it is well to state that the facts and figures presented by the auditors and accountants are merely based on the figures as found in the books and through the accounting system of the home itself. Time did not permit a verification as to the authenticity or correctness of these figures. From the preliminary survey presented by our auditors it may be noted that no depreciation reserve has been provided for such portion of the real estate account as is represented by buildings. It will also be noted that excessive depreciation has been charged on the sprinkler system in the amount of $3,113.20, on the machinery, $14,096.00, and on the home furniture and fixtures, $4,458.33, or a total of $21,767.53.

This method of handling the depreciation of the fixed assets has resulted in an overstatement of the expenses for the years 1935, 1934, 1933, 1932 and 1931 of $3,531.48 per year; for 1930, $2,667.97; for 1929, $1,317.28 and for 1928, $124.88. At the same time the expenses have been understated by the amount of depreciation which should have been charted on the buildings, if any. All of the buildings would have been fully depreciated at the end of the year 1930, if a depreciation rate of 2½% per annum had been used.

And further, it may be observed that on November 30, 1935, the net capital of the corporation, as shown by the books, exclusive of endowment funds of $50,541.51, amounted to $151,565.33, a decrease of $1,020.15, as compared with the net capital as of November 30, 1929. This is after deduction of depreciation of $21,642.65, which, in our opinion, should not have been deducted on assets which were fully depreciated as of November 30, 1928, including all such assets purchased to date. By eliminating this latter item the capital accounts shows a net increase for the period of $20,622.50.

It may be further noted that on November 30, 1929, the current liabilities exceeded the gross working capital in the amount of $9,962.99, and on November 30, 1935, the gross working capital exceeded the current liabilities in the amount of $9,911.26, a net improvement of the working capital position of $19,874.25, in addition to which the corporation was able to purchase fixed assets in the amount of $3,171.13.

Operations for the year ended November 30, 1935, after elimination of the depreciation item above referred to, resulted in a net loss of $10,091.58. Operations for the previous year, after elimination of the depreciation item, resulted in a net gain of $8,607.33. From a comparative standpoint it will be noted that the results for the year ended November 30, 1935 show a decrease of $18,698.91.

The summary of operations, as set forth on Exhibit "B", page 14, of the Auditor's Report, hereto attached and marked Exhibit "A", shows that the loss incurred for the year ended November 30, 1935 was the first net loss suffered by the corporation in the past seven years.

This was due in part to a decrease in income from public, private and investment sources. The principal cause of this condition, however, was the factory department. It will be recalled that this loss for the year ended November 30, 1935 was $13,223.99 greater than for the previous year.

The home was operated for the year ended November 30, 1935 at a total cost of $28,726.66, including overhead charges of $7,637.33, or approximately 26% of the total.

The average number of inmates in the home during the year figured on an exact weekly basis, was 65-33/10. Of this number, an average of 8-1/3 were members of the Retreat.

The per capital cost per week was $8.43, of which $3.59 was expended for supplies and direct expenses of the home; $2.62 was expended for salaries and wages, and $2.22 was charged as the proportionate share of the overhead.

Total expenditures for supplies and direct expenses of the home amounted to $12,187.68 as follows:

Food Supplies	$8,440.30
Light and Fuel	873.46
Physicians' Services	200.00
Drugs and Prescriptions	256.03
Laundry	328.36
Exterminating	300.00
Telephone	43.40
Taxes and Water Rents	16.80
Tobacco	75.00
Christmas Candy	44.73
Funeral Expense	109.50
Miscellaneous	14.24
Petty Cash Expenditures	1,485.77

Salaries and wages paid to employes of the home amounted to $8,901.65. There are fourteen sighted employes of the home who receive an average wage of $11.00 per week and their meals. Five or six of these employes live in the home. This department employs two blind men; one on a part time basis. These men receive $8.50 per week for this work, which is supplemented by $4.00 per week paid to the part time employe for his work in the factory.

The overhead expenses of $7,637.33 are detailed on Exhibit "L," page 24, of the Auditors' Report hereto attached, and will be referred to later.

Total board received during the year, at the rate of $4.00 per week per man, amounted to $13,487.87. Of this amount $1,728.00 was received for the board of the inmates in the Retreat, from the Pennsylvania Retreat for Blind Mutes and Aged and Infirm Persons, a separate corporation but affiliated with this corporation. Inmates of the home, too infirm or otherwise unable to earn and pay their board, are the usual beneficiaries of this organization.

The net loss of the home for the year, after taking into consideration bad debts of $25.89, amounted to $15,264.68, as detailed on Exhibit "C", page 15, of the Auditors' Report.

The factory was operated for the year ended November 30, 1935, at a total cost of $221,323.90.

The comparison by departments is as follows:

	Year Ended Nov. 30, 1935	Year Ended Nov. 30, 1934	Increase Decrease
Broom Department	$24,068.98	$18,073.46	$5,995.52
Weaving Department	28,323.45	19,761.24	8,562.21
Cane Department	1,117.48	1,016.84	100.64
Mop Department	174.08	1,608.46	1,434.38
	$53,683.99	$40,460.00	$13,223.99
Depreciation, not distributed	3,531.48	3,531.48	.....
Total	$57,215.47	$43,991.48	$13,223.99

Bold face type indicates decrease.
Light face type indicates increase.

The sales of the broom department for the year ended November 30, 1935, amounted to $132,718.83, an increase of $2,461.34 as compared with the previous year. The loss on this business, before deduction of overhead charges, amounted to $482.13 as compared with a profit for the previous year of $7,606.80, or a net decrease of $8,088.93.

Due to the limited time available no attempt as yet was made to ascertain the direct cause of this difference. From an examination of Exhibit "F," page 18, of the Auditors' Report, it is apparent that practically the entire amount is accounted for by the increased cost of materials used and direct expenses. We believe that a further analysis of these accounts should be made.

With respect to the weaving department, an analysis of which is shown on Exhibit "H", page 20, of the Auditors' Report, it will be noted the loss of this department, before deduction of overhead expenses, for the year ended November 30, 1935, amounted to $23,315.42, or 101 9/10% of the sales. In other words, the sales of this department amounted to slightly less than 50% of the cost of producing the merchandise.

Therefore, the increased loss for the year ended November 30, 1935, in the amount of $7,695.61, can be directly attributed to the increased sales of $7,885.69.

It may be noted that approximately the same ratio of loss was sustained during the fiscal years 1933 and 1934. Prior to those years the ratio of loss was considerably, lower, ranging from 35.69% in 1929 to 74.38% in 1932.

As pointed out above, time did not permit us to make any attempt to determine the causes for these variations.

The operations of the cane and mop departments are set forth on Exhibits "I" and "J", respectively, of the Auditors' report.

No production records are kept and in order to determine the quantities of articles sold it would be necessary to make a complete analysis of the sales records.

The following is a condensed summary of this Exhibit:

	Year Ended Nov. 30, 1935	Year Ended Nov. 30, 1934
Total Income from all Sources	$239,672.39	$232,545.92
Expenses

Total Expenses	$253,295.45	$227,470.07
Surplus or Deficit for Year	$13,623.06	$5,075.85

* Including depreciation of $3,531.48 on fully depreciated assets.

Bold face type indicates deficit.

An analysis was made of the wages paid to blind employes for the year ended November 30, 1935. The averages are based upon the wages paid to fifty-eight employes living in the home and fifty-six employes living outside of the home, all of whom were employed six months or more. For this purpose we selected one weekly payroll in each month, three being the first week of the month, three being the second week, three being the third week and three being the fourth week.

The average weekly wage classified as to the age of the worker is is follows:

	In the Home			Out of Home
	No.	Average Age.	Average Wage	No.	Average Age.	Average Wage
Under 35	9	29	$9.82	12	30	$11.36
35 to 45	7	41	10.45	14	39	10.58
45 to 55	15	50	8.16	6	50	15.39
55 to 65	7	60	8.91	14	58	13.11
Over 65	20	70	7.55	10	71	9.11
Total	58	50	$8.98	56	49	$11.91

The average age of all blind employes is 51 years, and the average wage is $10.08 per week. Information as to the ages of the various employes was obtained from the superintendent and in some instances were estimated.

It will be noted that the outside employes number slightly less than 50% of the total in number. They receive approximately 57% of the total wages paid to blind employes.

Classification was made of the average wage of these workers by departments as shown on Exhibit "N", page 26, of the Auditors' Report.

As previously stated, this is a preliminary report and is incomplete as to certain pertinent information which will be included in the final report. This will include among other things a more detailed analysis of operations and of the financial transactions.

It is also intended to include in the final report the result of a detailed audit of the transactions from November 30, 1935, to date. We understand that during this period certain large bequests and endowments have been received which will have a material effect upon future operations, a study of which will be necessary in considering the future financial policy of this corporation.

QUESTIONS INVOLVED

1. Was the management justified in proposing an increase of $2.00 per week on the board for the men who live in the home, and who are receiving State pensions?

2. Does the home and the workshop justify its existence?

3. Should there be a change in the method and procedure in managing the affairs of the institution?

DISCUSSION OF QUESTIONS INVOLVED

1. Was the management justified in proposing the increase of $2.00 per person per week on the board for the men who live in the home and who are receiving State pensions?

The Committee feels that at the present time the management should not make that increase. This conclusion is based on the following:

(a) An increase of the board which would of course supplement the income generally would be inequitable since it means that the men living in the home would bear more than their proportionate share of the loss sustained by the workshops. Our analysis shows that the loss sustained in the operation of the shop and the home is in a 3 to 1 ratio. This would mean that out of every $2.00 added, three-fourths of that amount would help defray the operation costs of the workshop.

(b) In deducting an additional $2.00 from the men who are receiving blind pensions, it would deprive these men of part of the benefits which the Legislature intended for them to have, to wit: a higher standard of living. An increase such as is proposed would defeat the very purpose of the grant made by the State to the blind persons. It would also mean an indirect increase in the appropriation made by the State to the institution in the amount of $6000.00 per year, a proposition which the Committee is as yet not prepared to pass upon.

(c) As a substitute for the increase sought the Committee suggests that the management use the saving of $3000.00 in the overhead, which amount is now made available by the repayment of the $50,000.00 mortgage which was placed on the buildings. This $50,000.00 was made possible through an outright bequest recently turned over to the institution. This, together with the fact that an additional amount which will be derived from the income of the other $50,000.00 arising out of the same bequest, should be available for general purposes. We have also pointed out that the error including depreciation on fixed assets in the expenses of running the institution would decrease these expenses by about $3500.00 per year, thus decreasing the annual overhead to an amount approximating between $8000.00 and $9000.00. This aggregate amount would be more than sufficient to overcome the contemplated increase of $6000.00 in the board from the men of the home.

2. Does the home and the workshop justify its existence?

The Committee is as yet not ready to report recommendations involving this vital problem. Testimony was presented both for and against the proposition that it was not necessary to have a workshop for blind persons to make them contented as much as possible. This is so in view of the fact that the blind pensions are now available to them whereas previously no such grant was made.

The pressure for time in order that we may prepare a preliminary report to be presented at this Extraordinary Session did not allow the Committee or its auditors to properly and fully analyze the situations upon which the Committee could base recommendations along those lines. The problem requires further survey and study and it is the intention of the Committee so to do.

Comparisons must be made with other institutions of like or similar character both in this State and places outside of our Commonwealth. The relationship of the expenditures made through public funds on this institution must be taken into account in allocating for blind pensions or grants in the future. A more comprehensive study will be made by this Committee in order to enable it later to make a further report bearing on that question.

3. Should there be a change in the methods and procedure in managing the affairs of the institution?

The Committee is justified in making the recommendation that the Board of Managers should add at least two other members to the board, one member who will be representing the blind persons and who wish to be sponsored by a responsibile blind organization of this State; the other member should be appointed by the Governor who will represent the Commonwealth since the State is a heavy contributor to this private corporation.

The Committee intends to study further the problems of a possible separation of the home from the workshop so that the proper burden of losses and proportionate contributions can be charged to both the home and the workshop. Perhaps one or the other may properly be eliminated without harm to the blind persons effected. It may even redound to their benefit.

A further study should also be made with the view of ascertaining whether it would be feasible, practicable and profitable to the institution for it to locate in such an environment which would be more beneficial to the blind people, taking the safety and health of the inmates into consideration. For that purpose an impartial report should be made regarding the value of the land and the improvements thereon of the present site as compared to the possible cost and removal to a site in a less congested area.

The Committee at this time is not as yet prepared to make any recommendations regarding the present management of the home and the workshop. A further study and verification is required. This will be embodied in a subsequent report.

RECOMMENDATIONS

The Committee, therefore, recommends as follows:

1. That the amount of the board charged to the men should not be increased as proposed by the Board of Managers.

2. That the Board of Managers should be increased by two members, one recommended by a responsible blind organization and the other by the Governor of this Commonwealth.

3. This Committee should continue to function so that it may further report findings involving the following problems:

(a) Does the home and workshop justify its existence?

(b) Should or should there not be a separation made between the home and the workshop?

(c) Is it practical to move the plant and home to a more favorable site?

(d) Does the present management conduct the institution in the best interests of the inmates and the blind persons?

These latter queries can only be answered after further study, research and verification. It is, therefore, the intention of this Committee to continue in its work so as to enable it to prepare a further and more comprehensive report to the House of Representatives.

Committee to Make Investigation of the Pennsylvania Working Home for Blind Men of Philadelphia

Gentlemen:—

We have made a preliminary survey of the books and records of the Pennsylvania Working Home for Blind Men for the seven year period ended November 30, 1935, and submit herewith comparative financial and operating statements prepared from the books and accountants reports. Due to the limited time at our disposal, we did not make a detailed audit of the Balance Sheet or of the transactions but have confined ourselves to test checking certain accounts.

The Pennsylvania Working Home for Blind Men was chartered as a corporation, on July 23, 1874, by the Court of Common Pleas for Philadelphia County.

The object of this corporation, as stated by the charter, is the organization of workshops and a home for Homeless Blind Mechanics, teaching useful trades to blind men, giving employment also to those blind men who have homes, and the selling of the manufactures of the corporation for its benefit and advantage.

It shall be supported by donations; by legacies; by inmates and their friends; by annual subscriptions; and by such other aids as may be available for its charitable objects.

The constitution provides that the government of the corporation shall be vested in a Board of Managers which shall consist of sixteen persons. The Board shall have power to fill all vacancies in their body, which may occur during the year, and to elect their successors at the annual meeting. There are three vacancies on the Board at the present time.

The thirteen members of the Board, five of whom are also the officers of the corporation, and the year in which each member was originally elected to the Board, are as follows:

J. Henry Scattergood, President	1906
A. Reed McIntire, Vice-President	1916
Wilfrid H. Robertson, Vice-President	1923
Alfred W. Wright, Treasurer	1921
William P. Morris, Secretary	1914
Howard Longstreth	1923
Harry A. Batten	1924
H. R. Shellenberger	1926
Thomas E. Shipley	1928
Morris Duane	1929

Caleb J. Milne, Jr.	1929
Otto P. Mann	1935
Alfred Reginald Allen	1935

The Board of Managers holds monthly meetings in addition to the annual meeting held the last Tuesday of December of each year. Five members constitute a quorum for all ordinary business.

The average attendance at the annual meetings for the past two years has been eight, and at the monthly meetings seven.

The members of the Board of Managers serve without compensation.

The corporation owns the property located at the southeast corner of 36th Street and Lancaster Avenue, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, which extends on 36th Street from Lancaster Avenue to Warren Street.

There are a number of structures on this property, one of which is the home for the inmates, one is a four story factory building in which there is located a retail store for the sale of articles manufactured by the blind men, and the office is also located in this building. The third building, a three-story dwelling, is occupied by the Superintendent and his family. There are also four three-story dwellings facing on Warren Street. These latter properties are rented to blind employes.

The home was acquired in 1874, and is believed to have been erected approximately one hundred years ago. All activities of the organization were originally conducted in this building, which was subsequently enlarged by the addition of wings. This building is now used exclusively as a home for the inmates and for certain of the employes of the home who live there.

We understand that the factory building, and the Superintendent's dwelling, were erected about the year 1890. The Treasurer's reports for the years 1889, 1891 and 1894, indicate that appropriations totaling $25,000.00 were received from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for this purpose. A subsequent report of the Treasurer for the fiscal year 1895-1896, indicates that a mortgage for $50,000.00 was placed on the property. Payments on account over a period of years reduced the mortgage to $20,000.00 as of April 16, 1919. An additional loan of $30,000.00 was made on October 13, 1921, increasing the mortgage to $50,000.00. On June 25, 1936, this amount was paid in full with the proceeds of a specific bequest for this purpose.

On November 30, 1935, the corporation's investment in real estate, buildings, machinery and furniture and fixtures was stated on the books at a gross value of $252,604.63, less depreciation reserves of $60,950.56, or a net book value of $191,654.07. The real estate on that date was subject to a mortgage of $50,000.00, which further reduced the book equity of these assets to $141,654.07.

The following summary sets forth these items in detail:

	Gross Book Value	Reserve for Depreciation	Mortgage	Net Book Value
Real Estate	213,421.60	.....	50,000.00	163,421.60
Sprinkler System	4,422.73	7,535.93	.....	3,113.20
Machinery	23,337.11	37,433.11	.....	14,096.00
Home Furniture and Fixtures	11,423.19	15,981.52	.....	4,558.33
	252,604.63	60,950.56	50,000.00	141,654.07

Bold face type indicates decrease.

From the above it will be noted that no depreciation reserve has been provided for such portion of the real estate account as is represented by buildings. It will also be noted that excessive depreciation has been charged on the sprinkler system in the amount of $3,113.20, and on the machinery $14,096.00, and on the home furniture and fixtures, $4,458.33, or a total of $21,767.53.

This method of handling the depreciation of the fixed assets has resulted in an overstatement of the expenses for the years 1935, 1934, 1933, 1932 and 1931 of $3,531.48 per year; for 1930, $2,667.97; for 1929, $1,317.28 and for 1928, $124.88. At the same time the expenses have been understated by the amount of depreciation which should have been changed on the buildings, if any. All of the buildings would have been fully depreciated at the end of the year 1930, if a depreciation rate of 2½% per annum had been used.

The Board of Managers maintains a home for blind men and operates a factory primarily for the employment of blind men. The board received from inmates of the home and the sale of articles manufactured in the factory are insufficient to cover the expenses, and both departments are conducted with heavy losses.

These losses are provided for in part by appropriations received from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the City of Philadelphia, and the United Campaign. In addition to this, contributions and bequests are received from private sources. The Corporation also derives an income from certain endowment funds, the principal of which is stated on the books at slightly in excess of $50,000.00.

The income received as board for the inmates of the home is applied as a credit against the costs of that department. The income received from the sale of manufactured articles is applied as a credit against the cost of operating the factory. Income received from the other sources enumerated above is placed in the general fund of the corporation and is used to pay the losses of the home and factory; the general overhead expenses of the corporation; capital expenditures; debt retirement and as current working capital.

There does not appear to be any provision regarding the application of these funds as between the home and the factory. On account of this condition it is quite possible that in the distribution of these funds the benefits derived by one department may be inequitable as compared with the benefits derived by the other department.

On November 30, 1935, the net capital of the corporation, as shown by the books, exclusive of endowment funds of $50,541.51, amounted to $151,565.33, a decrease of $1,020.15, as compared with the net capital as of November 30, 1929. This is after deduction of depreciation, which in our opinion should not have been deducted, of $21,642.65, on assets which were fully depreciated as of November 30, 1928, including all such assets purchased to date. By eliminating this latter item the capital account shows a net increase for the period of $20,622.50.

The comparative financial condition as of the above dates, as reflected by the books, giving effect to the adjustment of the depreciation reserve is stated below:

Light face type indicates increase.

From the above it will be observed that on November 30, 1929, the current liabilities exceeded the gross working capital in the amount of $9,962.99, and on November 30, 1935, the gross working capital exceeded the current liabilities in the amount of $9,911.26, a net improvement of the workng capital position of $19,874.25, in addition to which the corporation was able to purchase fixed assets in the amount of $3,171.13.

The Balance Sheet of the corporation in comparative form is set forth on Exhibit "A," page 13.

Operations for the year ended November 30, 1935, after elimination of the depreciation item above referred to, resulted in a net loss of $10,091.58. Operations for the previous year, after elimination of the depreciation item, resulted in a net gain of $8,607.33. From a comparative standpoint, it will be noted that the results for the year ended November 30, 1935, show a decrease of $18,698.91.

The income and operating accounts for these two periods are summarized below:

	Year Ended Nov. 30, 1935	Year Ended Nov. 30, 1934	Increase	Decrease

The summary of operations, as set forth on Exhibit "B," page 14, of this report, shows that the loss incurred for the year ended November 30, 1935, was the first net loss suffered by the corporation in the past seven years.

This was due in part to a decrease in income from public, private and investment sources. The principal cause of this condition, however, was the increased loss incurred in the manufacturing and trading activities of the factory department. It will be recalled that this loss for the year ended November 30, 1935, was $13,223.99 greater than for the previous year.

The operations of the home and of the factory are commented on in more detail below.

The home was operated for the year ended November 30, 1935 at a total cost of $28,726.66, including overhead charges of $7,637.33, or approximately, 26% of the total.

The average number of inmates in the home during the year, figured on an exact weekly basis, was 65 3-10. Of this number an average of 8 1-3 were members of the Retreat.

The per capita cost per week was $8.43, of which $3.59 was expended for supplies and direct expenses of the home; $2.62 was expended for salaries and wages and $2.22 was charged as the proportionate share of the overhead.

Total expenditures for supplies and direct expenses of the home amounted to $12,187.68 as follows:

Food Supplies	$8,440.30
Light and Fuel	873.46
Physicians Services	200.00
Drugs and Prescriptions	256.03
Laundry	328.36
Exterminating	300.00
Telephone	43.40
Taxes and Water Rents	16.89
Tobacco	75.00
Christmas Candy	44.73
Funeral Expense	109.50
Miscellaneous	14.24
Petty Cash Expenditures	1,485.77
Total	$12,187.68

Salaries and wages paid to employes of the home amounted to $8,901.65. There are fourteen sighted employes of the home who receive an average wage of $11.00 per week and their meals. Five or six of these employes live in the home. This department employs two blind men, one on a part time basis. These men receive $8.50 per week for this work, which is supplemented by $4.00 per week paid to the part time employe for his work in the factory.

The overhead expenses of $7,637.33 are detailed on Exhibit "L", page 24, and will be referred to later.

Total board received during the year, at the rate of $4.00 a week per man, amounted to $13,487.87. Of this amount, $1,728.00 was received for the board of the inmates in the Retreat, from the Pennsylvania Retreat for Blind Mutes and Aged and Infirm Persons, a separate corporation. Inmates of the home too infirm or otherwise unable to earn and pay their board are the usual beneficiaries of this organization.

The net loss of the home for the year after taking into consideration bad debts of $25.89 amounted to $15,264.68, as detailed on Exhibit "C," page 15.

The factory was operated for the year ended November 30, 1935 at a total cost of $221,323.90.

The following is a comparative summary of operations for the past two years:

	Year Ended Nov. 30, 1935	Year Ended Nov. 30, 1934	Increase Decrease

Resulting in a Net Loss from Operations for the Year of	$57,215.47	$43,991.48	$13,223.99

Bold face type indicates decrease.
Light face type indicates increase.

The comparison by departments is as follows:

	Year Ended Nov. 30, 1935	Year Ended Nov. 30, 1934	Increase Decrease
Broom Department	$24,068.93	$18,073.46	$5,995.52
Weaving Department	28,323.45	19,761.24	8,562.21
Cane Department	1,117.48	1,016.84	100.64
Mop Department	174.03	1,608.46	1,434.38
	$53,683.99	$40,460.00	$13,223.99
Depreciation, not distributed	3,531.48	3,531.48	.....
Total	$57,215.47	$43,991.48	$13,223.99

Bold face type indicates decrease.
Light face type indicates increase.

The sales of the Broom department for the year ending November 30, 1935 amounted to $132,718.83, an increase of $2,461.34 as compared with the previous year. The loss on this business, before deduction of overhead charges, amounted to $482.13 as compared with a profit for the previous year of $7,606.80, or a net decrease of $8,088.93.

Due to the limited time available, we made no attempt to ascertain the direct cause of this difference. From an examination of Exhibit "F", page 18, it is apparent that practically the entire amount is accounted for by the increased cost of materials used and direct expenses. We believe that a further analysis of these accounts should be made.

With respect to the weaving department, an analysis of which is shown on Exhibit "H", page 20, it will be noted that the loss of this department, before deduction of overhead expenses, for the year ended November 30, 1935, amounted to $23,315.42, or 101 9/10% of the sales. In other words, the sales of this department amounted to slightly less than 50% of the cost of producing the merchandise.

Therefore, the increased loss for the year ended November 30, 1935, in the amount of $7,695.61, can be directly attributed to the increased sales of $7,885.69.

You will note that approximately the same ratio of loss was sustained during the fiscal years 1933 and 1934. Prior to those years the ratio of loss was considerably lower, ranging from 35.69% in 1929 to 74.38% in 1932.

As pointed out above, time did not permit us to make any attempt to determine the causes of these variations.

The operation of the Cane and Mop Departments are set forth on Exhibits I and J, respectively.

No production records are kept and in order to determine the quantities of articles sold it would be necessary to make a complete analysis of the sales records.

General overhead expenses for the year amounted to $36,120.68, as detailed on Exhibit "K", page 23, which was distributed to the various departments as shown on Exhibit "L," page 24.

The amount of this expense charged to the various departments of the factory amounted to $28,483.35, and to the home, $7,637.33. This latter figure is detailed below, showing the proportionate amount of the total which was charged to the home.

Insurance	$74.46	Actual amount applicable to home
Fuel, Light and Power	717.02	One-quarter of total
Repairs and Maintenance	1,282.89	Actual amount applicable to home
Administration and Management	2,260.50	One-half of total
Office Expense	* 934.54	Approximately one-quarter of total
Janitors	1,367.92	One-half of total
Interest	1,000.00	Approximately one-fifth of total
	$7,637.33	*Exclusive of collection expense

On Exhibit "M", page 25, we have summarized the income and expense of all departments, in comparative form, for the two years ended November 30, 1935, showing the receipts from all sources and the expenses by classifications regardless of the departments to which they are applicable.

The following is a condensed summary of this Exhibit:

	Year Ended Nov. 30, 1935	Year Ended Nov. 30, 1934
Total Income from all Sources	$239,672.39	$232,545.92
Expenses
Wages of Blind Employes	58,506.85	52,807.41

For your information we have made an analysis of the wages paid to blind employes for the year ended November 30, 1935. The averages are based upon the wages paid to fifty-eight employes living in the home and fifty-six employes living outside the home, all of whom were employed six months of more. For this purpose we selected one weekly payroll in each month; three being the first week of the month; three being of the second week; three being of the third week and three being of the fourth week.

The average weekly wage, classified as to the age of the worker, is as follows:

	In the Home			Out of the Home
	No.	Average Age	Average Wage	No.	Average Age	Average Wage
Under 35	9	29	$9.82	12	30	$11.36
35 to 45	7	41	10.45	14	39	10.58
45 to 55	15	50	8.16	6	50	15.39
55 to 65	7	60	8.91	14	58	13.11
Over 65	20	70	7.55	10	71	9.11
Total	58	54	$8.98	56	49	$11.91

The average age of all blind employes is 51 years, and the average wage is $10.08 per week. Information as to the ages of the various employes was obtained from the Superintendent, and in some instances were estimated.

It will be noted that the outside employes number slightly less than 50% of the total in number. They receive approximately 57% of the total wages paid to blind employes.

We have further classified the average wage of these workers by departments, as shown on Exhibit "N," page 26.

As previously stated, this is a Preliminary Report and is incomplete as to certain pertinent information which will be included in our Final Report. This will include among other things a more detailed analysis of operations, and of the financial transactions.

We will also include in our final report the result of a detailed audit of the transactions from November 30, 1935, to date. We understand that during this period certain large bequests and endowments have been received which will have a material effect upon future operations, a study of which will be necessary in considering the future financial policy of this corporation.

We wish to express our appreciation to the Board of Managers and the employes for their complete cooperation during the course of our engagement.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMPSON & MARKEL

REPORT OF THE JUDICIARY GENERAL COMMITTEE, TO THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES IN THE MATTER OF THE PETITION TO IMPEACH THE HONORABLE BENJAMIN C. ATLEE

August 6, 1936.

To the Speaker and Members of the House of Representatives:

A petition was presented to the House of Representatives on July 13, 1936, by the Honorable Marshall L. Shepard and the Honorable Homer S. Brown, Members of the House of Representatives. The petition set forth that sitting as a Judge in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace of the Second Judicial District of Pennsylvania, Honorable Benjamin C. Atlee in imposing sentence on a prisoner on July 10, 1936, made the following statement:

"This is one of the most despicable offenses ever brought before the local court. It is no credit to the people of Columbia that they allowed you to be here in Court today. Had they lynched you they would have been justified. I say that although I am sitting here to administer justice, it is most fortunate for you that the offense occurred North of the Mason-Dixon line. No court has to bother with cases of your kind south of that line."

It is contended by the petitioners that these remarks were made under circumstances which make the Judge liable to impeachment.

The petition was referred to the Judiciary General Committee of the House of Representatives on July 13, 1936, and after a meeting of said committee a sub-committee comprised of Honorables Eugene A. Caputo, Chairman, Leo A. Achterman, Joseph Ominsky, Al Tronzo, L. Kenneth Harkins, J. Gordon Mason, and John H. McKinney, was appointed to hold hearings, investigate the charges and report its findings and conclusions to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Subsequently the said sub-committee filed with this committee a majority and minority report on the question submitted to it, and the committee on Judiciary General adopted the minority report with amendments. A copy of the report adopted is here to attached as part hereof.

The Judiciary General Committee was of the opinion that the remarks uttered required censure and apology. Judge Atlee appeared before the committee and made a statement and apology, which is hereto attached as part hereof. The committee determined that the remarks did not constitute so gross an impropriety as to warrant the presentation of a bill of impeachment and that no further proceedings be had.

The committee after deliberation concludes:

1. That the remarks of Judge Benjamin C. Atlee were contrary to the spirit of the constitution and the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

2. That the remarks of Judge Benjamin C. Atlee were injudicious and intolerant. They constitute one of that class of judicial improprieties which, while the committee believed in this instance did not constitute an impeachable offense, are such as under other circumstances might subject a Judge to impeachment proceedings.

3. That remarks of this nature tend toward the breakdown and disruption of the orderly process of law and order which every judge is sworn to uphold and are of such import and gravity to the citizens of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that they should not go without stern reprimand.

4. The Committee does censure and reprimand Judge Benjamin C. Atlee for the impropriety that he committed, and in doing so has in mind that this censure and reprimand is only in the instant case and is not intended as a precedent.

Respectfully submitted

EUGENE A. CAPUTO, Chairman,
Committee on Judiciary General.

REPORT OF THE JUDICIARY GENERAL SUB-COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO INVESTIGATE THE CHARGES AGAINST HONORABLE BENJAMIN C. ATLEE.

To the Judiciary General Committee of the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Your sub-committee appointed under the resolution of July 13, 1936, to investigate the charges preferred by the Honorable Marshall L. Shepard and the Honorable Homer S. Brown against the Honorable Benjamin C. Atlee, one of the judges of the Court of Common Pleas of the Second Judicial District, Lancaster County, and report its findings as to the truth of the allegations named in the complaint, together with testimony taken, and present the same to your committee, respectfully reports as follows:

In pursuance of this resolution your committee proceeded in the performance of its duties by giving due and timely notice to the complainants and respondents of the time and place of hearing, and has inquired into the matter by holding a public meeting in the House Caucus Room in the Capitol building at Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, by calling witnesses who had been subpoened to the fullest extent, as suggested by either the complainants or the respondent; also by calling and examining witnesses who had been suggested by either party, who were thought to be unbiased in their opinions as to the truth of the matters in question.

Each, the complainants and the respondent, were represented by eminent counsel. Herbert E. Millen, Esq., of Philadelphia, appeared for the complainants, and Honorable B. J. Myers and S. R. Zimmerman, Esq., of Lancaster, appeared for the respondent.

The taking of testimony was completed on Tuesday, July 21, 1936, and counsel for both the complainants and respondent submitted their briefs to this committee on Thursday, July 23, 1936, both parties having waived oral argument.

Charges

It is alleged by the complainants, Honorable Marshall L. Shepard and Honorable Homer S. Brown, that Honorable Benjamin C. Atlee, while acting in his capacity as Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of the Second Judicial District of Lancaster County, on July 10, 1936 made the following remarks in passing sentence on a prisoner in his court:

"This is one of the most despicable offenses ever brought before the local court. It is no credit to the people of Columbia that they allowed you to be here in court today.

"Had they lynched you they would have been justified I say that although I am sitting here to administer justice It is most fortunate for you that this offense occurred north of the Mason and Dixon line. No court has to bother with cases of your kind south of that line."

Impeachable Offenses

The Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania being silent as to the causes for which a judge may be impeached, your sub-committee proceeded in its consideration of the evidence under the general rule adopted in the proceedings filed against the Honorable Charles N. Brunn before the House of Representatives of this State in the year 1913, which briefly stated, is as follows:

"A judge may be impeached not only for crimes for which an indictment may be brought, but for gross political offenses, corruption, maladministration or neglect of duty involving moral turpitude, arbitrary and oppressive conduct, and even gross improprieties by judges and high officers of State, although such offenses may not be of a character to render the offenders liable to an indictment, either at common law or under statute."

Therefore the allegations named in the complaint are material for consideration so far as any evidence has been produced to substantiate the same.

Findings of Fact

1. Your sub-committee finds that in substance the Honorable Benjamin C. Atlee did on July 10, 1936, while passing sentence on a prisoner in his court say: "This is one of the most despicable offenses ever brought before the local court. It is no credit to the people of Columbia that they allowed you to be here in court today. Had they lynched you they would have been justified. I say that although I am sitting here to administer justice. It is most fortunate for you that this offense occurred north of the Mason and Dixon line

No court has to bother with cases of your kind south of that line."

2. Judge Atlee has never heretofore been accused of making prejudicial remarks.

3. No rioting, disorder, unrest or undue commotion were caused by the remarks of Judge Atlee.

Character of the Respondent

It is not the purpose, neither is it within the province of your sub-committee, to certify as to the good qualities or the unimpeachable character of Judge Atlee except insofar as the evidence itself shall warrant. There appears to be no complaint except in regard to the remarks as alleged in the present proceedings.

Discussion

Judge Atlee is accused of making only this one injudicious and improper statement, undoubtedly made in the face of the heinousness of the particular offense, and not because Judge Atlee himself believed in anything but the orderly processes of the law. The remarks as made were addressed to the defendant, and, although in public, not to the public at large.

Although in the making of these remarks Judge Atlee has been hasty in his conclusions and bitter in his denunciation of the defendant, and although his judgment was erroneous and the remarks were injudicious, the evidence most certainly does not indicate any conduct on his part involving any moral turpitude or gross impropriety. There is no doubt that the statement was injudicious, but the sub-committee, in the exercise of sound discretion and good judgment, does not believe that the statement as made, under all the surrounding circumstances, amounts to an impeachable offense.

Recommendation

A review of the specific charge leads your committee to the conclusion that there are no grounds for the presentment of charges of impeachment against Honorable Benjamin C. Atlee, one of the Judges of the Court of Common Pleas of the Second Judicial District, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, and the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania should proceed no farther.

Respectfully submitted

LEO A. ACHTERMAN
J. GORDON MASON
JOHN H. McKINNEY

Statement of Benjamin Champneys Atlee, Judge of the Second Judicial District comprising the county of Lancaster, to the Judicial General Committee of the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The remarks I made in sentencing Samuel Watson were made by reason of the fact that I was thoroughly aroused and incensed at the gravity of the offense and the heinous nature of the crime, of which he had pleaded guilty, and not by reason of the race or color of the defendant.

I have no prejudice due to race, color or creed. All defendants stand equally before me in Criminal Court and receive equal justice under the law. I am opposed to mob violence.

The remarks were indiscreet and injudicious and I regret exceedingly that I made them. I regret the inconvenience caused your Committee and the House of Representatives and I offer my sincere apology for the language used.

BENJ. C. ATLEE

Dated at Harrisburg, August 6, 1936.

Remarks Extended

The following report is extended in the Appendix as part of the remarks of Mr. Homer S. Brown, pursuant to the instructions of the Speaker. (Legislative Journal Vol. 19, No. 49, August 6, 1936, Page 1480.)

REPORT OF THE JUDICIARY GENERAL SUB-COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO INVESTIGATE THE CHARGES AGAINST HONORABLE BENJAMIN C. ATLEE.

August 5, 1936.

The following is the report of the undersigned members of the sub-committee of the committee on Judiciary General selected to investigate certain charges against one Judge Benjamin C. Atlee, Second Judicial District, of Lancaster County, and to report to the said Judiciary General Committee its findings and conclusions.

History of the Proceedings

These findings are based upon a petition presented to the House of Representatives on July 13, 1936, by the Honorable Marshall L. Shepard and the Honorable Homer S. Brown, members of the House of Representatives, who are also the petitioners and the affiants, in which petition it is set forth that sitting as a committing Judge in the Court of Common Pleas of the Second Judicial District of Pennsylvania, Benjamin C. Atlee, in imposing sentence on one Samuel Watson on July 10, 1936, made the following statement before imposing that sentence:

"This is one of the most despicable offenses ever brought before the local court. It is no credit to the people of Columbia that they allowed you to be here in Court today. Had they lynched you they would have been justified. I say that although I am sitting here to administer justice. It is most fortunate for you that the offense occurred north of the Mason-Dixon line. No court has to bother with cases of your kind south of that line."

It is contended by the petitioners that these remarks were made under circumstances which make the Judge liable to impeachment.

The Honorable Benjamin C. Atlee was appointed Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of the Second Judicial District, comprising the County of Lancaster, on the 6th day of November, 1930, to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of the Hon. Charles I. Landis. He was elected at the Municipal Election in November, 1931, and on December 4, 1931, was commissioned for the full term of ten years, beginning the first Monday of January, 1932. He was commissioned President Judge of his Court on September 1, 1932.

The petition was referred to the Judiciary General Committee and after a meeting of said Committee, a subcommittee was appointed to hold hearings, investigate charges and report its findings and conclusions to the Committee on Judiciary General.

The sub-committee on July 21, 1936, held a public hearing in the House Caucus Room at which hearing thirteen witnesses appeared. The petitioners, as well as the respondent were represented by counsel. However, the respondent himself did not appear.

At the hearing at least four witnesses testified that Judge Atlee made the statement attributed to him. Some testified that those remarks were substantially correct, and still others stated that some of the words were used and that other words they did not hear or they were not uttered by Judge Atlee.

Questions Involved

1. Did Judge Atlee make the statement attributed to him?

2. If the statement alleged to have been made is substantially correct, is it an impeachable offense?

Discussion

1. Did Judge Atlee make the statement attributed to him?

Reviewing the evidence in its entirety and evaluating it with reference to any possible bias, personal interest on the part of the witnesses who appeared and the general circumstances surrounding this case, the entire subcommittee is agreed that the remarks as stated in the petition and attributed to the respondent were substantially correct.

The testimony of Charles W. Eaby, District Attorney of Lancaster County, is not very much at variance with that of any other witness. He practically recalled everything that Judge Atlee said with the exception of the word "lynch" and possibly one other sentence. Beatrice H. Pollock who was one of the Juvenile Court Officers of Lancaster County, and Charles Aument, Deputy Clerk of the Quarter Sessions Court, of the same County, did not fully remember the remarks in their entirety. However, we must remember that even though these witnesses are servants of the people, they are under the direct supervision of Judge Atlee. Their testimony is characterized with vagueness and equivocation in important details, but concise and definite in relatively unimportant matters.

We must, therefore, look to the testimony of S. V. Hosterman, Esq., who has been a member of the Bar of Lancaster County for the past thirty-six years, and William G. Johnstone, Jr., Esq., and James Lightner, Esq., also members of the Lancaster County Bar, who were positive and unequivocal in their testimony that Judge Atlee uttered substantially every word which the petition sets forth.

There were two other lay witnesses who heard Judge Atlee make the remarks alleged in the petition. The testimony of the rest of the witnesses was indefinite, but all agreed that some of the words were made by the judge.

The above testimony, together with the fact that Judge Atlee neither denied the statements which first appeared in the newspapers and later were charged to him in the petition for impeachment, nor appeared before the Committee can lead to no other conclusion than that the statements were made by the Judge.

We are mindful of the fact that the accused person need not testify in any proceedings against him wherein he is charged with a crime, but these proceedings in our opinion are not a trial in that sense of the word, but constitute an investigation wherein wide latitude is proper in the acceptance and presentation of evidence.

Since the committee has decided that the answer to the first question, to wit: Did Judge Atlee make the statement substantially as attributed to him,—is in the affirmative, of necessity it follows that we must consider the second question involved, which is—

The sub-committee having determined that Judge Atlee did make substantially the remarks alleged in the petition, the only question for the sub-committee to decide is whether those remarks constitute an offense for which this sub-committee should properly recommend that a bill of impeachment be presented.

To decide this question it is necessary to consider and answer the following:

(a) Does misdemeanor in office as used in the Constitution of Pennsylvania, Article 6, Section 3, mean an indictable offense?

The committee is of the opinion that the term "misdemeanor in office" as used in the Constitution does not necessarily mean an indictable offense.

(b) Are the remarks of Judge Atlee of such a nature and of sufficient gravity to justify the presentation of a Bill of Impeachment?

The committee is of the opinion that the above must be answered in the affirmative.

Article 6, Section 3 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania of 1873, relating to impeachment and removal from office provides:

Section 3. "Officers liable to impeachment, Judgment The Governor and all other civil officers shall be liable to impeachment for any misdemeanor in office."

Since there is little, if any, precedent in our jurisprudence in Pennsylvania whereby misdemeanor in office is interpreted, we must look elsewhere for guidance. We thus turn to the Federal Impeachment proceedings as well as to England's Impeachment proceedings. In one Pennsylvania case, which the committee examined, namely the impeachment proceedings against Judge Charles N. Brumm, 21st Judicial District of Pennsylvania, in 1913, in which he was charged with bias, unfair rulings and decrees, prejudice towards attorneys, arbitrary and offiensive rulings, etc., it is noted that the interpretation of a misdemeanor in office as used in our Constitution is taken from the definition thereof in the Federal proceedings in the impeachment of Judge Archbald. In that case, the term "impeachable offense" is substantially defined as follows:

"A Judge may be impeached not only for crimes for which indictments may be brought, but for gross political offense, corruption, maladministration, or neglect of duty involving moral turpitude, arbitrary and oppressive conduct and even gross improprieties by judges and high officers of State, although such offense may not be of a character to render the offender liable to an indictment, either at common law or under statutes."

And further, Alexander Simpson, Jr., a member of the Philadelphia County bar, in his treatise on Federal Impeachment (1916) on page 33, states that "The word misdemeanor has at least two meanings: one criminal and the other social, and if interpreted in the latter sense, as in England, it often was, to cover offenses not necessarily indictable, * * *", and still further in the same book, on page 35, it is set forth that "in the construction of the Constitution, we must look to the history of the times and examine the state of things existing when it was framed and adopted to ascertain the old law, the mischief and the remedy (Rhode Island vs. Mass. 12 Peters 58)."

In all cases where high crimes and misdemeanors are charged, so far as the records show, no respondent was ever acquitted because the offenses named in the article were not indictable, and in many English cases the respondents were convicted of the offenses not indictable. The House of Commons impeaches for offenses not indictable.

Then on page 40, in the same work by Alexander Simpson, Jr., there is cited that Judge John Pickering of New Hampshire was impeached and convicted for releasing a vessel without proper bond, for refusing to hear witnesses in the case, for refusing to allow an appeal from his judgment and for intoxication and profanity while on the Bench, none of which were indictable offenses.

It may be further noted that Judge Archbald was tried and convicted on five of the thirteen counts brought against him not one of which was an indictable offiense.

On page 52 of Justice Simpson's Treatise referred to above, it is stated in connection with the Archbald case that the impeachable offense must be one in which the character of the offense, or that which flows therefrom must tend to bring the office, if the incumbent is continued in office, into ignominy and disgrace.

This leads us to a discussion of the gravity of the impropriety and the offense charged against Judge Atlee, and herein the members of the sub-committee disagree.

The undersigned members of the sub-committee sincerely feel that these statements made by Judge Atlee were uttered under such circumstances as to make them not only injudicious and improper, but also that they were so grossly improper, arbitrary and oppressive as to constitute an impeachable offense as interpreted hereinabove.

Too many judges, not only in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania but also throughout the land, are prone to forget that they are public servants elected and sworn to administer justice. The proper administration of justice not only requires being learned in the law, but also requires the possession of judicial temperament, which embodies human kindness and understanding. Possibly because of their long term of office some judges begin to feel that they themselves are above the law. The committee appreciates that judges are human, and that it is human to err, but nevertheless feels that a gross error such as is involved in this case should not go unchallenged.

In our discussion of the present case, we believe that the entire committee would agree that an impeachable offense had been committed had the people of Lancaster County performed the acts of violence suggested by the words of Judge Atlee. Fortunately no outbreak occurred, but the seed of the unwise words and improper thought has been sown. However, that thought may be brought into action anytime. We hope that that community in its wisdom, or any other community in the same wisdom may see the error in the Judge's remarks. We trust that the foul seed planted may never sprout no matter how much water and sunshine it may get. But suppose the seed is not dead, what will be the attitude of this Judge who encouraged the action? Will he condone it, or will he punish it? From his attitude, action, and lack of response, the committee has no way of knowing. The respondent thought too little, it seems to us, of the whole incident. If Judge Atlee's remarks, action and attitude, taken as a whole are grave enough for a rebuke, they should be grave enough for the carrying out of the provisions of the Constitution, the framers of which were wise in providing the remedy of impeachment for gross improprieties and maladministration in office. Members of the committee do not condone the offense committed by the prisoner which furnished the occasion for the committing judge to make such remarks. But language of this kind does not deter crime, but encourages the commission of further criminal acts.

Intolerance in lay people is most deplorable, but it is especially abhorrent when publicly displayed from the bench by a person sworn to uphold and enforce the law and to administer justice.

The undersigned members of the sub-committee of the Committee on Judiciary General, therefore find after impartial investigation and open hearing upon the aforesaid petition for impeachment of Judge Benjamin C. Atlee, and upon consideration of all testimony properly coming before the said committee the following conclusions:

1. That Judge Benjamin C. Atlee did use substantially the language attributed to him in the aforesaid petition.

2. That the said remarks are contrary to the form and spirit of the Constitution and laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

3. That the offense of Judge Atlee is injudicial and constitutes a type of impropriety for which a Judge properly is subject to impeachment proceedings even though such offense is not indictable.

4. That the action of the said Judge Benjamin C. Atlee in uttering such remarks while engaged in the discharge of his Judicial duties was in violation of the Constitution and laws of this Commonwealth.

Remarks of this nature tend toward the breakdown and disruption of the orderly process of law and order which every judge is sworn to uphold, and are of such import and gravity to the citizens of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as to not only justify but to require the presentation of articles of impeachment against the said Judge Benjamin C. Atlee. We the undersigned members of the said sub-committee therefore recommend to the full membership of the committee on Judiciary General that articles of impeachment be presented against the said Judge Benjamin C. Atlee.

PRELIMINARY REPORT OF THE JOINT LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE PUBLIC RELIEF IN PENNSYLVANIA

Foreword

In the 1935 session of the Pennsylvania Assembly, a Joint Committee of three Senators and three Representatives was appointed, in accordance with Resolution No. 110, to investigate Public Relief in Pennsylvania.

In the conduct of its investigation, the Committee held five public hearings, one in Philadelphia, one in Pittsburgh, and three in Harrisburg. At the public hearings employes of the State and Local relief administrations, relief recipients, representatives of unemployed organizations, and persons representative of the general public testified before the Committee. In addition, two closed hearings were held, one to hear the testimony of Eric H. Biddle, Executive Director of the State Emergency Relief Board from April 28, 1933, until January 15, 1935, and one to hear the testimony of Robert L. Johnson, Executive Director of the State Emergency Relief Board from January 15, 1935 to December 31, 1935. It was the Committee's purpose in all of these hearings to obtain a picture of the relief problem and the relief administrative organization, its policies, practices, and standards. In each public hearing an attempt was made to obtain testimony from as widely representative a group as possible.

The Committee also employed a staff to obtain information and make studies concerning the volume, cost, and administration of relief in Pennsylvania.

On May 5, 1936, Representative Miles Horst, Chairman and Senators Charles H. Ealy and Theo. Lane Bean submitted a report. We, the undersigned members of the Joint Committee, have prepared the present report representing our findings and interpretation of the facts in the hands of the Committee. In the present report, reference will be made to the earlier report submitted by Mr. Horst and his associates as the "Horst Report."

Part I—Summary of Conclusions and Recommendations

1. Administration of Relief by the S. E. R. B.

We have found unemployment relief in Pennsylvania to be administered, in the main, efficiently, economically, honestly, and non-politically. The facts and figures collected by the Joint Committee and reported in the Horst Report adequately support this conclusion.

In any relief program which is so extensive and which was developed under such emergency conditions, it is inevitable that some persons would receive relief for which they were not eligible. In relation to the size of the program, the number of such cases discovered by the Committee was remarkably small. This record was attained because of the care with which the relief administration investigates relief applicants and recipients to determine their eligibility. Where cases of fraud or misrepresentation have been found, the S. E. R. B. has promptly required restitution agreements, and if the facts warranted, the cases were prosecuted for fraud

The administrative personnel of the S. E. R. B. appears to have been selected throughout on the basis of ability to do the job, with no consideration of political affiliations. The rule that no employe shall engage in political activity has been rigidly adhered to and enforced, and no testimony addressed before the Committee would support any conclusion but that the S. E. R. B. is administered on a non-political basis. In the very few cases where employes were found to have been involved in irregularities or mismanagement of relief funds, they were promptly discharged and prosecuted. The small number of such cases is a tribute to the splendid administrative force set up by the S. E. R. B., which is free of the scandals which have attended the administration of relief by many local poor boards.

The diversity of the activities undertaken by the S. E. R. B., the necessity of conducting several of the programs in accordance with Federal rules and regulations, and the fact that funds administered have come solely from the Federal and State governments have necessitated a considerable degree of control on a State-wide basis. The high quality of the administration, we believe, has been in no small degree a result of the State-wide supervision which has been maintained in the selection of personnel, in the formulation of policies and procedure, in the establishment of standards, and in the accounting for expenditures.

A necessity exists, however, for developing more local interest in sound relief administration. For some time past the S. E. R. B. has been placing increasing emphasis on the strengthening of local administrative staffs, and on the development of more local interest in and understanding of the relief problem.

2. Lack of Politics in S. E. R. B.

On page 9 the Horst Report states: "The administration and distribution of direct relief have been relatively free from politics, due in large measure to the high character of men chosen as Executive Director of the S. E. R. B."

We subscribe to and endorse this statement completely.

3. Administrative Expenditures

In the early days of the S. E. R. B. administrative expenditures were grossly inadequate. As administration has been improved, administrative expenditures have necessarily increased. This has been a desirable and a beneficial development. The increase in administration costs has been amply justified by the conservation of relief funds. In a later section of this report, figures are given which indicate that every dollar spent for administration since May, 1934, has saved approximately $1.50 in relief funds.

Improvement in procedure and more efficient methods of administration are constantly being introduced. Since December 28, 1935, administrative personnel has been reduced approximately 33.5 per cent. Further economies can be effected by:

1. The introduction of cash relief throughout the State. This would reduce the number of operations that are involved in the issuance of different types of orders and would correspondingly effect administrative savings.

The ratio of administration costs to total relief expenditures and the administrative cost per case have generally been lower in Philadelphia and Allegheny counties than in the rest of the State because of more concentrated case loads and the possibility of greater administrative economies in large scale operations. A much more important factor, however, in keeping administrative costs down in these two counties was the introduction of cash relief. In the twelve months prior to the introduction of cash relief in these two counties the ratio of administrative costs to total relief expenditures averaged 11 per cent lower in Philadelphia and Allegheny counties than in the rest of the state. During the twelve months after the introduction of cash relief, on the other hand, the ratio of administrative costs to total relief expenditures averaged 28 per cent. lower in these two counties than in the rest of the State.

2. The concentration of the activities of the S. E. R. B. upon direct relief During the past three years a variety of programs, which in themselves have rendered valuable service to the unemployed, have involved a heavy administrative burden. Many of these activities are now conducted by W. P. A. This simplification of the relief program of the S. E. R. B. will make possible a further combination of departments and functions and a further simplification of the S E. R. B.'s administrative organization. Further administrative savings will be effected thereby.

4. Standards of Relief

The present standards of relief of the State Emergency Relief Board are not too high. Average grants have increased since the early days of the S. E. R. B. when food only was provided. As unemployment continued, the resources of families were exhausted; the possiblity of obtaining credit decreased; relatives and friends were unable to continue supplementary aid. As a result, one item of relief after another was added, and average relief grants increased accordingly.

Food prices have increased 17% since the present food scale was adopted. Clothing allowances have been cut 25%. In February the average expenditure per person for food was $1.14 per week, an average of only $0.05 per meal. The average expenditure for milk was $0.13 per person per week, an average of only $0.02 per day. The average for fuel was $0.18 per person per week; for clothing $0.18 per person per week, and for rent, $0.09 per person per week. The average expenditure for the entire case load including cash relief and medical care during February was only $2.14 per person per week, or an average of $0.30 per day. Such standards are not too high.

The relief grants of the S. E. R. B. are very low as compared with those of agencies. The Bureau of Delinquent and Neglected Children in Philadelphia, for example, grant $4.50 per week for each child boarded out in foster homes, as compared with an average expenditure by the S. E. R. B. during February of $1.50 per week per child. Old age assistance and blind pensions allow as much as $30 per month, or $7.00 per week, for one aged or blind person.

Recommendations

Method of Administering Relief

It is recommended that direct relief shall continue to be administered by the State Emergency Relief Board, at least until the Regular 1937 session of the Assembly, at which time the proponents of the idea of complete local administration shall have had an opportunity to study the facts without being moved by purely political considerations.

No experience to date with local administration of relief has shown as efficient or as non-political performance as the state-wide administration by the State Emergency Relief Board. Nevertheless in order to more readily adapt the administration of relief to varying local conditions, it is recommended that local boards composed of representative citizens be established in all counties where such boards do not now exist and that the State Emergency Relief Board give careful consideration to possible methods of obtaining increased participation on the part of these boards.

Selection and Tenure of Personnel

It is recommended that the merit system be continued and strengthened. Particularly it is recommended that a citizens committee be appointed to devise a continuing system for selecting administrative employes on a merit basis

Cash Relief

It is recommended that the present order system in effect in all counties except Allegheny and Philadelphia be replaced immediately by cash relief. Such a step would extend to the entire state the administrative economies experienced in these two counties.

Part II—Comments on the Preliminary Report of the Honorable Miles Horst, Chairman, the Honorable Charles H. Ealy, the Honorable Theo. Lane Bean, Members of the Joint Legislative Committee to Investigate Public Relief in Pennsylvania.

Constitutional Right of Commonwealth to Provide Relief.

The Horst report cites two decisions of the State Supreme Court, Busser v. Snyder, 282 Pa. 440 and Commonwealth v. Liveright, 308 Pa. 35. Both of these court decisions stated that the State has a duty to help those who are without means of support and that such help does not constitute appropriations to persons for charitable or benevolent purposes. The report implies a question as to the legality of the direct relief program of the State Emergency Relief Board in the following language:

"The Committee believes that one of the following policies should be definitely established by the General Assembly:

"1. Shall the Commonwealth continue to maintain the standards of relief which have been built up under the State Emergency Relief Board while Federal moneys were available for direct relief, or,

"2. Shall the Commonwealth insist that, in so far as the expenditure of its appropriations is concerned, the limitations clearly set forth by the Supreme Court in its decision on the Talbot Act be observed in administration?"

"The Supreme Court in the case of Commonwealth v. Liveright, 308 Pa. 35, construing the Talbot Act, said:

'It is the duty of every citizen, particularly public officials, * * * entrusted with furnishing this relief, to see that it is not given to those not entitled to receive it, * * * The purpose of the State's relief is to furnish maintenance to poor persons, including those who through enforced unemployment, have no means of support and not to those who have such means.'"

The above statement implies in an insidious manner that the standards of relief of the State Emergency Relief Board are in violation of the Supreme Court decision. No facts or statements are submitted to indicate in what manner the direct relief program might not be in accordance with the Supreme Court decision. This would seem to indicate that the signers of the report recognize the absence of facts upon which to base any such claim of illegality, and they therefore seek to suggest to the reader by insidious implication that the relief program of the State Emergency Relief Board is not in conformity with the Supreme Court's decisions.

In our opinion it is apparent that the Relief program of the State Emergency Relief Board is in conformity with the decisions of the Supreme Court. The sole function of the State Emergency Relief Board's administrative staff is "to furnish maintenance to poor persons, including those who through enforced unemployment, have no means of support and not to those who have such means," and, "to see that it is not given to those not entitled to receive it."

Effect of Relief Expenditures upon Industry and Trade

The report of Mr. Horst and his associates under the above heading stated the following:

"The crash of business during the years 1908 and 1909 worked a hardship upon the public similar to that of our recent depression. We have assembled statistics taken from records of the United States Census Bureau and from Bureau of Statistics, Department of Internal Affairs of Pennsylvania. We confine our data to the total volume of business done in Pennsylvania by productive industries, as we feel this is more or less of a barometer indicating the financial position of the State. The low mark in volume of business for 1909 was $2,905,600,200.00. In 1914 the total volume of business in Pennsylvania reached the sum of $3,179,537,132.00, or an increase of $273,936,932.-00. This recovery was normal and unassisted by emergency financing.

"Following the recent depression the low mark in the volume of business in Pennsylvania in 1932 was $3,117,-806,500.00. In 1934 the total volume of business reached the mark of $4,246,119,300.00 or a growth in two years of $1,128,312,800.00. The crash of 1908 and 1909 required five years to increase volume of business in the amount of $273,936,932.00, while in our present recovery two years reflected an increase of $1,128,312,800.00."

While conditions from 1909-1914 were vastly different than they were during the period 1932-1934, the figures cited above reveal that the volume of business recovered from the low point in 1932 at a very much more rapid rate than it did from the low point in 1909. From 1909 to 1914, the volume of business increased by 9.4 per cent, an average increase of 1.9 per cent per year. From 1932 to 1934, on the other hand, the volume of business increased 36.2 per cent., an average increase of 18.1 per cent. per year. The markedly more rapid increase in volume of business during the period 1932 to 1934 was undoubtedly due in considerable measure to relief and recovery expenditures.

Financial Burden

It is true, as pointed out by the Horst Report, that unemployment relief has entailed a very heavy financial burden on the State of Pennsylvania. This burden was taken on by the state only after the local public and private agencies found it impossible to cope with the problem. Local governmental units are even less able to finance unemployment relief now than they were when the State and Federal Government took over a large part of the unemployment burden in Pennsylvania.

Emergency Education Work Relief

The report of Mr. Horst and his associates criticised the high administrative costs of the emergency education work relief program. It cited administrative costs of 37 per cent., whereas, the figures printed in the report itself indicate 27 per cent. All of the funds expended under this program were specifically allocated for the purpose by the Federal Emergency Relief Administration, and were administered by the Department of Public Instruction. The program was designed to provide employment for needy unemployed teachers and at the same time to provide educational opportunities for the unemployed. It was an employment and not a relief program. The benefits provided fully justify the expenditures made by the Federal Emergency Relief Administration for this program.

Rural Rehabilitation Cases

The report of Mr. Horst and his associates cited the high administrative costs of the Rural Rehabilitation program. Again they miscalculated the administrative expense ratio, citing it as 43%, whereas it actually was 30%. The total disbursements under this program for the period under review, September, 1932 to May, 1935 were $139,-890. This program was not administered by the State Emergency Relief Board, but by the Pennsylvania Rural Rehabilitation Corporation until July 1, 1935 and thereafter by the Federal Resettlement Administration. Naturally, the administrative costs of the program were large relative to the amount of money loaned, since the purpose of the program was to devise methods of rehabilitating farmers receiving relief and thereby make it unnecessary for them to continue receiving relief. The program was of considerable benefit to the State Emergency Relief Board since it removed many distressed farmers permanently from the relief rolls.

Restitutions

The report of Mr. Horst and his associates implies widespread "chiseling" on the part of relief recipients. In spite of the fact the Joint Legislative Committee has been investigating the administration of relief for over a year, Mr. Horst's report resorts to newspaper items to substantiate the claim of fraud on the part of relief recipients. Actually, considerable information showing the small number of ineligible persons receiving relief has been made available to the Joint Legislative Committee.

The following are three examples of studies during 1935 to determine the extent of ineligibility among relief recipients:

(1) The Stark Report in March, 1935, made by a group of field research workers from the New York T. E. R. A. who were invited to conduct an independent survey of Pennsylvania unemployment relief. The group found that only 2.3 per cent of 1,327 cases selected at random for study were ineligible.

(2) Report of the Philadelphia Bureau of Municipal Research in July, 1935, following a study of cases on the rolls of the Philadelphia County Relief Administration. This report showed that only 3.8 per cent. of a representative sample of the city's unemployment relief case load lacked eligibility.

(3) A study in June, 1935, of the alleged cases of "chiseling" concerning which complaints had been received by the State Relief Administration. A thorough investigation of each case revealed that 30 per cent. of the cases were not receiving relief, that 89.6 per cent. of the complaints were not justified, that 0.6 per cent were partially justified and that 9.8 per cent. were justified. It should be noted that this 9.8 per cent. is the proportion of what might be called "chiselers" in a group of relief cases of which were the subject of written complaints.

The following comments were made in a report of the Stark Committee:

The Administration in the various offices visited deserves a word of commendation. Although they are considerably handicapped by the lack of state rulings, and the inadequacy of work facilities and personnel, they have, as can be seen, done an excellent job. The proportions of ineligibles are very low. There is some semblance of a training program in each district and above all there is an excellent spirit amongst all of the personnel both clerical and visiting. Interest is deep and morale is high. The State Administration has an excellent group of workers and with a more firm control from the State Offices can do a far more adequate job of Relief Administration. (Stark Report.)

It should be borne in mind that but a small proportion of cases that may be ineligible for relief at any given time involve fraud. From 10 to 15 per cent of the cases receiving relief are discontinued each month. Very rarely is fraud or misrepresentation involved in these cases. It does, however, require adequate administrative staff to make frequent contacts with relief recipients to insure prompt discontinuance or adjustment of relief grants when needs change. The savings in relief expenditures thus effected cannot be termed the elimination of "chiseling" but rather the effects of adequate administration. Less than one-tenth of one per cent. of the cases receiving relief during 1935 were found to have received relief through fraud or misrepresentation.

Administration and Administration Costs

The Horst Report contends that the relief visitors are incompetent. But the facts submitted do not substantiate this statement. The unavailabiliy of visitors having experience and training at the low salaries paid by the S. E. R. B. for this kind of work is cited as a reason for this condition. In this same paragraph the educational requirements and examinations given, both of which together with experience and interviews constitute the basis of recruiting workers, are criticized.

Such a statement is surprising in view of the fact that on only one occasion did the committee have an opportunity to appraise the competence of visitors. On that occasion none of the signers of the Horst report paid any attention to the testimony given by the visitors. In our opinion, visitors play the most vital part in the administration of relief. It is they who apply the relief policies established by the S. E. R. B., and determine whether families are eligible for relief or not. Because of their essential place in relief administration, we believe it is unfortunate that the signers of the Horst Report did not avail themselves of the one opportunity they had of obtaining the viewpoint of these workers.

No one can justifiably deny that the S. E. R. B.'s basis of selecting workers represents an attempt to select personnel on the basis of ability. It is, further, designed to prevent political considerations from entering into the selection of workers. It is true that salaries paid visitors by the S. E. R. B. are very low, but to raise the salary scales of visitors would increase administrative costs, which the Horst report criticizes as being already too high.

The Horst report also cited several instances of delay between the date of application for relief and the actual date of the first grant. These instances evidence both the careful investigation of relief eligibility made by the S. E. R. B. and the need for reducing the number of cases assigned to each visitor by increasing the number of visitors. Also, it should be borne in mind that part of the delay in the granting of relief arises out of the fact that relief is not resumed for released W. P. A. workers until 21 days after the last pay is received.

Further evidence of the need for increasing the number of visitors is the infrequency with which some cases have been contacted in recent months, as cited in the Horst report.

We wish to emphasize here that the facts cited by the Horst Report indicate a real need for increasing administration expenditures in certain directions while the signers of that report criticize the administrative expenditures which have been made as being too large.

The Horst Report cites the increase in administrative cost from 1% of total relief expenditures in September, 1932, to 8.9% in May, 1935, and from 7 cents per case in the earlier month to $3.92 per case in the later month.

Anyone who has had even a remote interest in the relief question knows that administration costs have steadily increased since the establishment of the S. E. R. B., but to use the amount of administrative expenses either to indict or to commend the relief system is most fallacious. Your Committee, in support of this conclusion, wishes to point out a few fundamental facts that should be readily discernible to the lay mind.

The average case load handled by one visitor in urban communities consists of 110 relief cases each of whom receive an average grant of $32.00 per month. In the course of a month, the visitor receiving on an average of $90.00 in salary is charged with the proper distribution of $3,520 in public funds. In making this distribution the visitor must be certain that the needs of these recipients have not diminished because of an increase in income or the concealment of newly acquired assets. The determination of these facts which would change the status of the recipient requires constant and extensive investigation by the visitor in addition to the checking of industrial payrolls, and fulfilling many other diverse functions by a central office. It was the introduction of such business methods as these, all of which contribute to the reduction of the relief load, that has occasioned the increase in administrative expenses. Hence, with very little reflection it can be seen that an efficient administrative staff is absolutely necessary for the conservation of public funds, and that any so-called saving in administration costs effected by an improper reduction in personnel would be many times lost by the addition of thousands of ineligible persons to the relief rolls. To hold any other view would be "penny wise and pound foolish." Taxpayers are interested in the total cost of relief, not in the one item of administrative costs. To increase administration costs in order to save on the entire relief bill is real economy.

Although in the early days of the State Relief Board it was recognized that some administration expense, particularly for clercial and office help, was necessary, the position was taken that these funds should be provided by local governmental bodies or by private contribution. Thus, during the early months of the State Emergency Relief Administration the amount of State and Federal funds expended for administration was small. Local governmental bodies likewise sought to keep administration expenses at an absolute minimum. As a result, a large part of the investigation of relief needs and the authorization and distribution of relief grants was made through volunteer committees and private agencies. The very small proportion of expenditures for administration during these early months will appear to many as a noteworthy accomplishment. It cannot, however, be so considered unless at the same time it can be determined that the administration of relief during that time was also efficient. An examination of the facts shows that the restricted sums spent for administration resulted in a considerable amount of indiscriminate relief giving without due consideration of need. In May, 1933, approximately 21% of the State's population was receiving unemployment relief. In some counties as high as 50% of the population was receiving relief. Many of these were ineligible, while others whose need was great were receiving no relief. Realizing the inadequacy of relief administration at that time the State Emergency Relief Board began the transfer of relief administration from local public and private agencies and volunteer committees to unified local relief administrations staffed with paid personnel. In some counties the systematic and thorough investigation of relief cases thus made possible resulted in eliminating as many as 50% of the cases then on relief. The result of this in turn was to save thousands of dollars which had previously been given to ineligible persons. The results obtained in the months following May, 1933, by making administration more adequate are evidenced by the following examples:

Example 1. In June, 1933, a study of 56,823 cases receiving unemployment relief in 28 counties was made. After thorough investigation by hired skilled visitors, it was found that 10.2 per cent. of the families were not in need of relief, that 6.4 per cent. of the cases were receiving relief in excess of their needs. The net saving in relief effected in these 28 counties by installing a paid personnel amounted to $75,755.77 per week. This study revealed, in a striking manner, the need for more adequate investigation of families applying for relief, and that every dollar spent for administration was saved many times.

Example 2. On June 1, the granting of relief in one county was taken over by a staff of paid investigators. From June 1st to September 23rd, 13,441 cases that had previously been receiving relief were investigated. Of these cases 6,379, or 47.5 per cent. were found to be ineligible for unemployment relief. The savings in relief funds effected through investigation by paid trained investigators was $21,050.00 per week or $90,515.00 per month. The investigation was accomplished with 19 investigators, paid a total monthly salary of $2,158.60. This gave a net saving of over $88,000.00. Thus, in this county each dollar expended for administrative expenses resulted in a net saving of approximately $42.00 per month.

Example 3. In one week in June, 4,956 cases in one city were investigated by 22 paid investigators. 511, or 10.3 per cent. of these cases were found to be ineligible for relief. These 511 cases had been receiving relief to the extent of $1,789.50 per week. The 22 investigators were paid a salary of $330.00 for their week's work. This $330.00 investment in administration expenses brought about a saving of $1,459.60 per week or a net saving of $1,129.60 per week. Moreover, the total saving continued week after week, even after the investigation was finished.

Administration costs are usually considered as unproductive. In reality, however, administration expenditures are actually productive in that they result in the conservation of relief funds. The following elements are prerequisite to the development of any sound relief program:

1. There must be adequate investigation to determine the actual relief needs of all applicants. For this purpose there must be sufficient trained personnel to insure that:

a. Those needing relief suffer no undue delay in receiving it.

b. Those not eligible shall receive no relief.

c. Those who have been accepted as relief cases shall be dropped from the list as the need for relief may cease to exist.

d. Relief grants are changed promptly when the extent of need for relief changes.

2. Complete coordination between the central local relief administration and associated relief agencies. This includes clearing information on cases, which is necessary to insure against duplication in granting any form of relief.

3. The establishment of an office organization sufficient to maintain all necessary records; to provide centralized fiscal control; conduct systematic audit of accounts.

Table 1 shows that administration expenditures have been more than offset by the savings resulting from investigation of relief cases and relief applications. This table shows that on the average the relief administration has closed approximately 40,000 cases every month and has rejected in addition some 15,000 applications. Column 6 of the table shows the amount of relief expenditure which was saved as a result of closing cases and rejecting applications. When this saving is compared with the administrative expenditure which is shown in column 7 it will be seen that the saving is in every instance larger than the administration cost. Column 8 shows the amount of saving per dollar of administration cost and demonstrates very convincingly the economy of adequate administration.

The practice generally followed of measuring administration costs as a percentage of total relief expenditures or even as so much administration cost per case is fallacious. Table 1 and the examples given on pages 15 and 16 reveal this fallacy in a striking manner. Table 1 shows that each dollar spent for administration from May, 1934 to March, 1936, saved approximately $1.50 in relief funds. As administration becomes more adequate, it costs more and therefore increases the ratio of administration costs to total relief expenditures. At the same time savings in relief expenditures are effected, and the ratio of administration costs to total relief expenditures is increased still further. Similarly, as administration becomes more adequate, more ineligible applicants are rejected and cases are closed more quickly when their need ceases to exist. This results in decreasing number of relief cases and increasing the administrative cost per case.

* Excludes closings to W. P. A.  Preliminary.

To summarize, it can be said that increasing administrative costs, both in absolute amounts and in amounts relative to total relief expenditures and to case load, represents real economy as long as the savings effected thereby are equal to or greater than the increase in administration costs. Adequate administration also deters many ineligible persons from applying for relief. When ineligible persons know that they would be thoroughly investigated many of them do not even try to get on the relief rolls.

Table 2 shows the estimated number of unemployed on relief rolls as compared with the total number of unemployed. It will be noted that the State Emergency Relief Board has never had more than 50 per cent. of the unemployed on relief at any particular time. In spite of the fact that resources among the unemployed have become more and more exhausted and in spite of the fact that the successive Work Programs have lent a strong incentive for applying for relief, it will be noted that the proportion of the unemployed receiving relief has not shown a tendency to increase from May, 1933 to September, 1935. This was accomplished solely through the fact that administration was becoming more nearly adequate throughout the period, thus insuring that cases were discontinued from relief rolls more and more promptly as their need ceased to exist, and insuring that a smaller and smaller proportion of ineligible persons were accepted for relief when they applied.

Duplication of Costs

The Horst report cited the fact that the S. E. R. B. continued granting relief to persons employed by W. P. A. until the first pay was received. If any other practice were followed, the workers would have nothing to live on pending the receipt of the first pay. This does not represent duplicate relief because the first pay is needed to meet the needs of the worker and his family until the second pay is received. Pay can not be expended until it is received. Likewise, if a worker loses his job, in either private or public employment, relief is not resumed immediately. Relief is not resumed until the last pay is exhausted. In the case of released W. P. A. workers, relief is not resumed until at least 21 days after the last pay is received. This period of time without relief offsets the relief extended after assignment pending the receipt of first pay.

The Horst report makes an absolute misstatement of fact when it states that W. P. A. wages are supplemented by the S. E. R. B., W. P. A. wages are not supplemented by the S. E. R. B. even though the W. P. A. wage be less than would be received under direct relief.

Ownership of Homes

The Horst report cited several relief cases that owned their homes They cannot eat or wear the houses, and they must have some place to live. Furthermore, over two-thirds of the homes were mortgaged and it is doubtful whether any appreciable equities were left to sell. Because of the existing real estate market it is practically impossible to finance the small equities which exist in the small number of homes partially owned by relief recipients.

Cases Reputed to be Ineligible

The Horst report cites several reputed "Flagrant Cases of Abuse." Some of the cases cited received loans from the Rural Rehabilitation Corporation and are no longer on S. E. R. B. rolls; several cases were operating small businesses of their own, and receiving supplementary relief; one case was cited as one which the Poor Board should be providing for; other cases were cited as owning either their own home or other property; additional cases of persons working and receiving relief at the same time are cited. The facts submitted for most of the cases are inadequate to indicate whether they are eligible for relief or not. The Horst report seems to imply that anyone having a job or operating a small business should be ineligible for relief regardless of the amount of income received or the family needs.

In a program granting relief to as many as 2,000,000 persons at the peak, it is inevitable that some who are ineligible will receive relief and that others will get relief through fraud or misrepresentation. The fact that the number of such cases has been so small is an indication that unemployment relief in Pennsylvania has been administered efficiently and economically.

Relief of Transients

The Horst Report discussed the Federal Transient Program as administered in Pennsylvania and cited the Auditor General's report of mismanagement of a Transient Camp at Mt. Gretna, and the S. E. R. B.'s report of fraud committed by officers of the S. S. Mercy, a transient shelter at Philadelphia.

The care of transients was a Federal program, administered in accordance with Federal regulations and financed entirely with Federal funds. The persons involved in mismanagement at Mt. Gretna were discharged and brought to trial. No convictions were obtained, however. In the case of the S. S. Mercy transient shelter at Philadelphia, the irregularities were discovered by S. E. R. B. employes. The officers involved were prosecuted, and received jail sentences.

The local Poor Districts of Pennsylvania have benefited directly from the Federal Transient Program. Act No. 201—1933 P. L. 966, provides

> "If a person has no known settlement in this Commonwealth, and cannot for any reason whatever be removed into the state or county where settled, he shall have a quasi settlement in the poor district where he or she becomes a public charge, which district shall be liable for his or her support."

Under this act the Poor Directors would have been responsible for the care of transients. Actually the Federal Transient Program relieved them of this necessity.

COMMUNICATION FROM DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH RELATIVE TO FLOODED MINES AND SLATE QUARRIES

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
Department of Health
Harrisburg

August 5, 1936.

Hon. Herbert B. Cohen,
Chairman, Appropriation Committee,
House of Representatives,
The Capitol,
Harrisburg, Pa.

Dear Mr. Cohen:

You have requested that we furnish you information as to present status of dewatering coal mines and slate quarries flooded last March.

The bill appropriating $700,000 to the Health Department for this work was approved by the Governor on June 16, 1936, and is Act No. 6.

Because of the vision and humanitarian motives of Governor Earle and because two-thirds of the members of the General Assembly had pledged themselves to support the appropriation, we proceeded at once, under an opinion of the Attorney General, to requisition the needed equipment so as to begin the work of dewatering at the earliest possible date.

The outstanding case is the flooded mines in the Pittston-Duryea area where the flooded mines endangered the livelihood of 5000 miners and their 15,000 dependents. The communities dependent upon these mines were faced with poverty unless the mines were dewatered and mining operations resumed.

Good progress has been made toward dewatering these mines.

The Sandy Run mine near Hazleton is completely dewatered, the operator has reconditioned this mine and resumed mining resulting in about 250 miners going back to work, paid from company payrolls.

Attached please find a statement as you requested.

Yours very truly,

EDITH MacBRIDE-DEXTER, M.D.,
Secretary of Health.

MEMORANDUM IN RE DEWATERING FLOODED COAL MINES AND SLATE QUARRIES PURSUANT TO ACT NO. 6, APPROVED JUNE 16, 1936.

August 5, 1936.

PITTSTON-DURYEA AREA
(Luzerne County)

18 powerful motor driven pumps and other necessary equipment were delivered at these mines. Dewatering began on June 12th with five pumps operating on June 15th. As fast as they could be lowered into the mines other pumps were put in operation.

1,760,000,000 gallons of water have been pumped from these mines up to August 1, 1936. The water level has been lowered about 33 feet. There still remain about 6,000,000,000 gallons of water to be pumped.

The mining companies have furnished all labor in connection with the work and have pledged themselves to recondition the mines after they are dewatered and resume mining operations which will put the former miners back on company payrolls. It has been estimated that it will cost these coal companies about $1,100,000 to recondition their mines.

Orders have been placed by the Department of Property and Supplies for pumps, motors and other equipment aggregating about $181,400, and it is estimated that power bills to operate the State owned pumps will amount to about $325,000.

SANDY RUN MINE
(Luzerne County)

The operator of this mine, which was flooded last March, furnished the pumps and equipment to dewater. The power bill amounts to about $2900, the only cost to the State. Dewatering was completed on July 16, 1936. It is reported the operator of the mine reconditioned it after it was dewatered and resumed mining, thus bringing back about 250 miners paid from company payrolls

SULLIVAN TRAIL MINE
(Luzerne County)

The operator of this mine tried to dewater it himself but was unable to do so. On July 18th one of the State owned pumps, not then in service, was transferred from the Pittston-Duryea area to this mine. On July 26, 1936, pumping was begun. The operator is furnishing all labor and it is expected that the only expenditure from the State appropriation will be for power and a reel of cable.

The operator has pledged himself to recondition this mine after it is dewatered and then to resume mining which will put back on company payrolls about 250 miners.

OTHER FLOODED COAL MINES

All flooded coal mines whose operators have requested State aid toward dewatering are being investigated by the Department of Mines. Conditions found indicate some as not appearing to be eligible for State aid while others may be.

FLOODED SLATE QUARRIES

All slate quarries whose operators have asked for State aid in pumping out water are being investigated by the Department of Labor and Industry. Some are said to be eligible according to the requirements of Act No. 6.

RE-EMPLOYMENT

The Department of Mines finds that as a result of dewatering flooded coal mines, already about 2000 workmen have been put back on coal company payrolls. And they forecast, if dewatering be continued, that by the end of August, 1500 more workmen will be returned to company payrolls.

Secretary of Health.
